CLARK RESIDENT GIVES THE GREATEST CHRISTMAS GIFT OF ALL

Submitted by: Margaret G. Chaplin, Executive Director, Lions Eye Bank of New Jersey

On the day he met Kristi, the woman who would become his wife, John Burk thought he was meeting up with a friend to discuss business over lunch when he headed to a local restaurant.

But his friend didn't show for their meeting, so John struck up a conversation with the brown-eyed bartender. One thing led to another, and he asked her out. For their first date, they went to a Jimmy Buffet concert. It was the start of a relationship that would span two decades.

Together, Clark residents John and Kristi Burk had a good life, which included their daughter, Sharon. While Sharon was young, Kristi worked as a lunch aide at her school, a job that combined Kristi's background in the food service industry with the ability to be near her daughter. Later, when Sharon was older, Kristi became a waitress.

John, a mechanical engineer, traveled frequently for work. Sometimes, Kristi would be able to join him, usually at the beginning or end of a trip. Together, they were able to see the world, visiting places like Hong Kong, Korea and Bulgaria.

There were challenges, too, like when Kristi was diagnosed with breast cancer, which she beat not once, but twice. Through it all, though, she remained the active, fun-loving woman with whom John had fallen in love.

But on Christmas Day 2010, tragedy struck.

John, Kristi and Sharon were celebrating the holiday with Kristi's family when Kristi went into cardiac arrest. She passed away just weeks before her and John's 20th anniversary. John realizes how heartbreaking it sounds, to lose a wife and mother on Christmas, but really, he says, he found comfort in the fact that the whole family was together.

His sister-in-law insisted on driving him and Sharon home; it was during that drive that a call came from the Lions Eye Bank of New Jersey, asking for John's consent to donate Kristi's corneas. Although John had heard of the Eye Bank before and even had some friends who had been donors, he didn't know much about cornea donation itself. He and Kristi had talked about organ donation, though, so he knew that she was in favor of it, and that she had signed up on the Donor Registry when she renewed her driver's license. He told the caller yes, Kristi could be an eye donor.

In order to determine whether somebody is eligible to donate, the Eye Bank must ask a number of questions pertaining to the person's medical and social history. The questions are very personal in nature, and donor families sometimes find them difficult to answer. For John, the interviewer's sensitivity made a huge difference.

"The interviewer could not have been better," he recalls. "For me, that made it a little bit easier."

After Kristi's donation, John received a letter from the Eye Bank, letting him know that her corneas had helped give somebody a second chance for sight. Receiving this news cemented in his mind that he had made the right decision.

"It was so fulfilling," John says. "It made us feel so good that we were able to help someone keep their sight or get it back."

Dear Editor:

With Hurricane Sandy hitting New Jersey, and with all the devastation around us, I wanted to personally send out a KUDOS to the town of Clark. From the Mayor to the Department of Public Works the countless hours helping and assisting the residents of Clark through-out this horrible ordeal your dedication does not go unnoticed. While other towns streets remained a mess for some time, (some still are), the residents of Clark were provided safe roads to travel as quick as was possible. It was nice to see Clark pull together as a community to help each other out. It's nice to know that in a state of emergency the Township of Clark pulls together.

For the Best in Cancer Care

Look to a Comprehensive Cancer Center that is first to offer the latest technology...

Clarissa Henson, MD
Chair of Radiation Oncology

Look to Trinitas Comprehensive Cancer Center.

Being first with ground breaking technology is a hallmark of Trinitas Comprehensive Cancer Center, which was the first cancer center in New Jersey to provide patients with the Varian Trilogy radiation therapy system in 2005. Trilogy's ultra-precise robotics accurately tracks and adjusts for tumor movements at the moment of treatment, then targets cancer and neurological lesions with sub-millimeter accuracy. No other facility in New Jersey has more experience with Varian Trilogy than Trinitas.

Trinitas was also the first in New Jersey to offer women the new Accubooth radiotherapy technology – a highly effective, non-invasive treatment for breast cancer that is more accurate than standard breast radiotherapy. In addition, Trinitas is a leader in radiosurgery – which uses precisely-focused beams of radiation to treat tumors anywhere in the body.

Ground breaking technology, and the expertise to use it - that's the Trinitas Comprehensive Cancer Center.

"MANAGING HOLIDAY TEMPTATIONS"
By Lauren Purdy, R.D. • ShopRite of Clark

The holidays are a time for celebrating with family and friends, which usually means enjoying home-cooked meals and delicious sweet treats. Along with that holiday cheer can come a few unwanted extra pounds. Although the average holiday weight gain is one to five pounds, it can add up over the years. Instead of depriving yourself of your favorite holiday sweets, try a few recipe substitutions and healthy eating strategies that can help you enjoy holiday dishes without all of the guilt. For healthy holiday eating strategies: Prepare, Be Aware and Share.

Prepare
Plan a smaller breakfast and lunch to allow for a few extra indulgences at the holiday party. Don't skip these meals altogether, just plan for less. Bring a healthy dish to the party so you know you'll have something to fall back on.

Be Aware
Don't pick – grab a plate and sit down to enjoy your meal. It's easy to overeat when you are grazing at the buffet line. Practice portion control – sample small amounts of your favorite foods and try not to eat until you are overstuffed. Fill up on good-for-you foods first like cut fruit, crudites, and shrimp cocktail. Focus on friends, not the food. Enjoy fun times with friends and try not to stand near or focus too much on the buffet.

Share
There may be lots of delicious desserts at the party, but choose your favorite one to enjoy instead of picking at all of them. Or, simply share a portion of dessert with a friend to cut down on calories. Prepare a healthier dessert idea and bring it to the party. If you plan on making a dish for your next holiday party, try the recipe modifications below.

Instead of this, try this:

- Whole milk Evaporated fat-free (skim) milk, fat-free half-and-half
- Whipped Cream Whip chilled evaporated skim milk or use low-fat whipped topping
- Sour Cream Fat-free sour cream, low-fat or fat-free greek yogurt
- Mayonnaise Low-fat or fat-free mayonnaise, fat-free plain or greek yogurt
- Cream Cheese Reduced fat or fat-free versions (do not use fat-free for baking)
- Ricotta Cheese 1% cottage cheese, part-skim or non-fat ricotta
- Butter or shortening Butter: light soft-tub margarine or use a combination of ½ butter and ½ unsweetened applesauce. Shortening: regular soft tub margarine.
- Stick margarine Reduced-fat soft tub, squeeze or whipped margarine (Whipped margarine cannot be used in baking. Reduced-fat and fat-free margarine cannot be used in baking or frying.)
- Oil (in baking) Equal amount of applesauce or double the amount of plain yogurt
- Sugar Reduce sugar by ¼ and increase cinnamon, nutmeg and/or vanilla.

Use sugar substitutes according to package directions.

AVENEL-COLONIA FIRST AID SQUAD HELPS THE CLARK GIRL SCOUTS

Written by: Alicia Scipioni/Troop Leader

Girl Scouts in Clark Junior Troop 791 were very excited to have the opportunity to visit an Emergency Squad and learn what it takes to be an Emergency Medical Technician (EMT). Ashley Accardo, an EMT from the local first aid squad, demonstrated the different types of equipment an EMT uses in the field and shared her experiences with the scouts. The girls then toured an ambulance and acted out emergency situations. The troop concluded their tour by making first aid kits that they could use in their homes or in their cars. The girl scouts led by Alicia Scipioni, Christa Kukan and Karen Venturella were very grateful that Ashley Accardo and her fellow EMTs took the time to help the girl scouts earn their first aid patches. The girl scouts were also thankful to have people like Ashley Accardo helping the community at large.

COMEDY NIGHT BENEFIT A BIG SUCCESS

FALL FUN AT HEHNLY'S HARVEST FESTIVAL

Submitted by Kathy Denora, President, The Michael C. Denora Foundation of Clark

The Michael C. Denora Foundation of Clark, whose mission is to help children battling cancer, held its Third Annual "A Night of Laughs" Fundraising Event on October 13th. The night was a huge success thanks to family and friends supporting this event year after year. There were great comedians, food, outrageous prizes, and lots of laughs produced by Robin Fox Productions of Bridgewater.

Since incorporating as a non-profit organization in 2009, the foundation has focused on raising funds to help local children battling cancer at the Pediatric Cancer Institute in New Brunswick and coordinating needs with Embrace Kids Foundation.

As our foundation support grows, we have been able to expand our help to these very special children. New for 2011, was the creation of the Embrace Kids – Michael C. Denora Scholarship Program. Thru coordinated efforts, Ryan Berardi was selected as the first recipient of the Michael C. Denora Scholarship award.

Ryan is attending the University of the Arts in Philadelphia. New for 2012, is the Michael C. Denora Wish program focused on granting two types of wishes.

First Wishes for young adults ages 18 – 21 diagnosed with childhood cancer that don't qualify for wishes thru other organizations and Second Wishes for children ages 13 – 21 that have relapsed. These wishes will be coordinated with Embrace Kids and the Pediatric Oncology unit at the Bristol Myers Squibb Children's Hospital.

Please support the local establishments that so willingly donated to help make this Event a Success!!

ShopRite of Clark, Garwood Auto Parts, Jacobson Distributing Company, This, That & More of Kenilworth, Traders Joe's, George Street Playhouse, Union County Golf Associates, Paper Mill Playhouse, Lavallette Printing, and Featherbed Lane School.

FRANK K. HEHNLY TEACHER ANNMARIE ESTEVEZ PRESENTS INNOVATIVE PROGRAM AT STATEWIDE EDUCATIONAL WORKSHOP

AnnMarie Estevez, teacher at the Frank K. Hehnlly School in Clark, was selected by the Professional Development Committee of the New Jersey School Boards Association (NJSBA) to present her innovative program "Making A Difference" at the NJSBA Celebration of Curriculum in Atlantic City.

"Making a Difference" is a program that involves the entire school and staff, as well as parents. Each marking period, the staff is asked to nominate a student they feel has demonstrated an extraordinary act. The staff matches their act with a trait or characteristic the staff tries to model and teach to the students each day. A committee reviews the nominations and prepares for a celebration. The student's parents are made aware through a letter that their child has been nominated and that he or she will be presented with a certificate. The nominated student is kept in the dark until the morning of the announcement. The families and staff meet before school for the celebration. The principal then introduces and explains in detail why the student was nominated. The student is then given a certificate and a special button to wear with pride. The "Making a Difference program" provides wonderful moments for teachers and families to be a part of something important.

In commenting on AnnMarie Estevez's "Making a Difference" Program, Clark Superintendents of Schools Kenneth Knops remarked, "Mrs. Estevez is a dynamic educator who consistently goes out of her way to develop new and creative means of enhancing the school experience for our students. I applaud her for the well-deserved recognition and for all her efforts to include parents as partners in the educational process."

Students in Cristina Faro's seventh grade mathematics classes at Carl H. Kumpf Middle School in Clark have been using their creativity to display their knowledge of the mathematical properties. In pairs, students formed definitions and examples for multiple properties involving addition and multiplication. Once all work was approved by Ms. Faro, student began to design and decorate their own "properties." Students traced outlines of houses and incorporated their definitions and examples onto their property. All students loved the opportunity to create something while still incorporating their mathematical skills.

LEGENDS OF THE COURTYARD

The fourth and fifth grade students from Valley Road School in Clark were in for a special treat when they attended the Legends of the Courtyard Program presented by the Valley Road PTA and Reading Committee. The students enjoyed listening to spooktacular stories about the "Birth of the New Jersey Devil," "Annabelle, The Haunted Doll" and a story about a haunted mansion while sitting on blankets in the dark in the school's courtyard. The only light came from their flashlights. The students also spotted some scary visitors on their journey. Valley Road School's Principal Joseph Beltramba, Curriculum Supervisor Edward Grande, first grade teachers Mrs. Peitz and Mrs. Spence as well as parent volunteer Jim Hilton made special guest appearances.

GIFTED & TALENTED STUDENTS BEGIN DESIGNING BEDROOMS

Fifth grade students in Miss Koddenberg's Gifted & Talented Program at both Hehnlly and Valley Road Schools in Clark have continued their house design project by beginning to design their bedrooms to scale. Students were given specific dimensions of their client's bedrooms and have to first draw a neat sketch of their designs before using the computers to make actual blueprints of their room.

The students at both schools were given a lesson by Miss Koddenberg on how to draw dimensions to scale. They worked through designing an example room of twelve by ten feet together and also came up with the shape of the room and a scale, which was one inch equaled one foot.

Once students understood the concept of scale, they went back into their firms and began shaping and designing their own scale for their client's bedroom. Next, the fifth graders will be deciding on what furniture and electronics they will incorporate into their rooms by looking through home design magazines and websites.

LIVING ROSARY

Each year St. John the Apostle School celebrates the Living Rosary in the parking lot of the school. Students in Grade Kindergarten through grade six form the beads of each decade of the rosary. The seventh grade formed the Our Father and Glory Be of the Rosary as well as announcing the mysteries. The entire eighth grade class formed the cross. "For thirty-two years we have never had to cancel the Living Rosary from being said outside" says Sister Donna Marie, O.P., Principal. The student body and parents look forward to this celebration of the Rosary each year.

SOCIAL MEDIA & CHARACTER DEVELOPMENT

At the culmination of their Death of a Salesman unit, students in Ms. Hamilton's 11th grade classes at Arthur L. Johnson explored character development. Students were assigned to artistically design, either by hand or using computer software, "Facebook Pages" or "Twitter Timelines" for the characters in the story. Ms. Hamilton's students were instructed to show how their chosen character developed throughout the story by using real quotes from the text as well as the emotions and actions that the characters took in order to make this work of fiction a reality. While many students chose the protagonist, Loman, some even took to showing how the characters interacted with one another by means of "commenting" and "liking."

ST. AGNES SCHOOL ADOPTS FREEDOM

For the third year, the second grade class at St. Agnes School has donated money to adopt an endangered animal from the World Wildlife Fund. This year, Mrs. Martinez's class voted to adopt the American Bald Eagle, which they named "Freedom." After researching Freedom, his habitat, and the reasons why he is endangered, students are now working on writing letters to their friends and family so they can share that information.

Next, the class will do their own research project on a chosen endangered animal. The goal is to inform people of the animals that were once largely populated and the reasons why the species is disappearing. Students also brainstorm ideas on how to help these animals

Mrs. Martinez's second grade class are true animal lovers and enjoy having Freedom as their new friend!

HEHNLY 5TH GRADERS CREATE NAVAJO SAND PAINTINGS

In Mrs. Ullrich and Miss. Parlavecchio's Social Studies class at the Frank K. Hehnly School in Clark, the 5th grade students created their own versions of a Navajo Sand Painting. After having studied the lives of the Native American Tribes, the fifth grades created their own version of what they believed Navajo Sand Paintings resembled at a Navajo healing ceremony.

The students had the option of creating their own drawings or tracing a real Navajo picture from the internet. Every student chose to draw their own. The class drew their pictures and then traced the outlines of their pictures with glue. Each student then came up and sprinkled Jell-O powder over their pictures to add the color. The students were very creative and really enjoy their project.

HAUNTED HALLOWEEN EXPERIENCE

Clark Recreation held a Haunted Halloween Experience for the first time on Saturday October 27th at the Robinson Plantation Museum on Madison Hill Road. Residents were spooked while they walked thru a temporary constructed haunted house with live performers throughout. For those too scared to go thru the house, they enjoyed a museum tour of the Robinson Plantation house on the premises – circa 1690. All kids were treated to free pumpkins, candy, donuts and cider. Over 500 residents attended the festivities. A fun time was had by all. Recreation Director Ralph Bernardo hopes that this becomes a yearly tradition.

KUMPF GIRLS' SOCCER TEAM MEETS RUTGERS WOMEN'S SOCCER PLAYERS

On Friday, October 12th, the Lady Cougars soccer team of Carl H. Kumpf Middle School in Clark, NJ, traveled to Rutgers Campus in Piscataway, NJ to watch a collegiate soccer match between the women's teams of Rutgers versus Louisville. Coach Rick Hoos and assistant coach, Nicole Mailloux, organized the event as a means of motivating team camaraderie and showcasing the skills of the Rutgers women as a way of teaching the young team how teams at a higher academic level perform together.

The Lady Cougars were able go down to the locker room to meet and ask questions of the Rutgers women's team after the game. In addition, they were able to see Carli Lloyd, a Rutgers alumni and player on the US Olympic team be presented with an award and give a motivational speech to young soccer players and fans.
