The Rahway STEM Summer Camp was held for three weeks this summer and designed for students entering grades 5 through 8 with a passion for Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics (STEM). The camp was led by certified math and science teachers incorporating a project-based STEM curricula.

Students learned the fundamentals of inquiry-based science, math, and engineering principles using activities from teacher-initiated, student-centered investigations. They applied Newton's Laws of Motion as they researched the difference between work and power. Model rockets were constructed and launched to support their investigation of trigonometry and the calculation of height and distance.

Students engaged in problem solving activities utilizing math and science without the pressure of standardized testing. High powered radio-controlled cars allowed them to learn engineering, math, and science principles by collecting data on acceleration, thrust, force, and gravity. They were challenged at the end of each week to compete against other team members for a demonstration of knowledge, skill, and teamwork receiving medals and trophies for their accomplishments.

Individuals designed a race track utilizing the Cartesian plane with constraints such as area and right-triangle trigonometry that helped them better understand upcoming PARCC-like assessment questions.

SUEZ WATER AND RAHWAY POLICE DEPARTMENT COME TOGETHER IN SUPPORT OF THE COMMUNITY

Success happens when two or more organizations come together to ensure services are in place to support the community. This is exactly what takes place in the City of Rahway. The City of Rahway's Police department have been very instrumental in training the staff at SUEZ Operations in Rahway on CPR. The training is greatly appreciated and warranted because one never knows when the skills are needed during a time of crisis. In addition to lending their training skills to educate others, the police department provides a security watch around the clock for the water treatment plant located on Westfield Avenue. "We take great pride in being a service provider in Rahway. We acknowledge the efforts of the police department extended to us beyond expectations and greatly appreciate the security measures put in place to protect the natural resources that flow through the City" stated Ron Wund, manager of operations for the plant. As a show of appreciation, SUEZ presented the police department with defibrillator kits to replace several of the existing kits used by the force.

11 CRITICAL HOME INSPECTION TRAPS TO BE AWARE OF WEEKS BEFORE LISTING YOUR HOME FOR SALE

Rahway NJ - According to industry experts, there are over 33 physical problems that will come under scrutiny during a home inspection when your home is for sale. A new report has been prepared which identifies the eleven most common of these problems, and what you should know about them before you list your home for sale.

Whether you own an old home or a brand new one, there are a number of things that can fall short of requirements during a home inspection. If not identified and dealt with, any of these 11 items could cost you dearly in terms of repair. That's why it's critical that you read this report before you list your home. If you wait until the building inspector flags these issues for you, you will almost certainly experience costly delays in the close of your home sale or, worse, turn prospective buyers away altogether. In most cases, you can make a reasonable pre-inspection yourself if you know what you're looking for, and knowing what you're looking for can help you prevent little problems from growing into costly and unmanageable ones.

To help homesellers deal with this issue before their homes are listed, a free report entitled "11 Things You Need to Know to Pass Your Home Inspection" has been compiled which explains the issues involved.

To order a FREE Special Report, visit www.njhomeinspectiontraps.com or to hear a brief recorded message about how to order your FREE copy of this report call toll-free 1-888-243-5861 and enter 3000. You can call any time, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Get your free special report NOW to learn how to ensure a home inspection doesn't cost you the sale of your home.

HERE LIES OUR PAST – THE RAHWAY CEMETERY IS AN “OUTDOOR MUSEUM”

By Al Shipley, City Historian and Rahway Library Research Consultant

Individuals, school groups, and scout troops who visit the Merchants and Drovers Tavern Museum, Rahway’s landmark 19th century inn, are guided through nine period-decorated rooms and finish tours in the second floor permanent exhibit area “For the Entertainment of Strangers.” Since the association’s inception in 1969, thousands of guests have not only been given a glimpse of how people lived in the past, but have also been introduced to the importance of local history. This learning experience, however, does not end when visitors exit the building. Because the old inn is advantageously situated next to the historic Rahway Cemetery, after leaving the “indoor museum,” visitors are escorted into what might justifiably be called, the “outdoor museum.”

Prior to 1741, the stretch of land that lies between St. Georges Avenue and Broadway (east-west) and the Rahway River and Westfield Avenue (north-south) was farmland, most of which was owned by Joseph Frazee, whose home stood on the property where the Water Works facility is presently located. In 1741, a Presbyterian congregation purchased a small piece of property from Frazee on the St. Georges Avenue end and within a year, built the First Presbyterian Church. The church prospered and the congregation grew and as members died, the church trustees bought land adjacent to their sanctuary for a burial ground. Over the next 200 years, the church would make more than a dozen different land purchases and eventually amass a total of thirty-one acres.

The oldest gravestone in the cemetery is that of John Frazee who died in 1724, eighteen years before the construction of the church. John was the landowner’s son and in those days it was not uncommon to bury family members in family plots on their property. The inscription on the stone can no longer be deciphered, however, records exist from the 1880s that note the carved words: “In the year A.D. 1724 John Frazee departed this life being forty-nine.”

The cemetery has a national importance in that (above) An outstanding effort of the Rebecca Cornell Chapter D.A.R. was the preservation of the stones marking the graves of Abraham Clark and his wife, Sarah. The monument was unveiled on Memorial Day, May 30, 2914. Molded bronze replicas were later placed over the original stones which were deteriorating.

it contains the mortal remains of Abraham Clark, a signer of the Declaration of Independence. The citizens of Rahway paid tribute to Clark in 1848 by erecting a twenty-two foot tall obelisk in his memory which is located a short distance behind his grave. In 1924, members of the Daughters of the American Revolution Rebecca Cornell Chapter mounted the patriot’s gravestone and the stone of his wife, onto a large granite monument, giving it more prominence and ensuring its longevity.

In close proximity to Clark’s grave are the graves of seventy-eight men who fought for the new country during the Revolutionary War. Each soldier has his own story including Private Richard Skinner who was killed by a British sniper during a skirmish at the six roads Rahway/Woodbridge border, and First Lieutenant John Brokaw who was killed at the Battle of Germantown, Pa. Captain Thomas Clark, son of Abraham, suffered greatly as a prisoner on the British prison ship, the Jersey. Although he survived the war, he only lived to age 37.

To the west of the older section are thirteen graves of soldiers who fought during the War of 1812. Three hundred and four graves of Civil War veterans are scattered throughout many sections. History abounds in stories about these soldiers including John Trembly who fought for both the North and the South, John Johnson who was killed at Gettysburg, Captain James Bodwell who was the first man from New Jersey to enlist in the war, nineteen year-old drummer/musician Daniel Brower who died of typhoid fever following the 1st Battle of Bull Run, and Sergeant Salem Dutcher who fought for the Confederacy with the 7th Virginia Infantry. Twenty-nine soldiers who fought for the Union cause as members of the United States Colored Troops are buried within its grounds.

The cemetery is the final resting place for soldiers from all our country’s wars. Interred within the grounds are twelve Spanish American War Veterans, 125 soldiers who fought in WWI, at least 149 graves of men who served during WWII, fifteen Korean War vets, eleven who fought in Viet Nam, and one soldier from the Iraq/Afghanistan Wars.

Individuals of international and national fame and citizens who have interesting stories and backgrounds are also found in Rahway Cemetery. Fred Albee, the surgeon who pioneered bone grafting techniques and other advances in orthopedic surgery, lies with his wife in a granite mausoleum. During World War I, Colonel Albee was Chief of Staff of the Army’s General Hospital #3 in Colonia. The world-renowned surgeon made many flights to all corners of the globe including a flight in 1929 when he took his “flying clinic” to Central and South America on a plane piloted by Charles Lindbergh. Carolyn Wells, author of 170 books and regarded as America’s most popular mystery writer during the 1920s and 1930s, is buried in the cemetery as is Isaac Brokaw, a famous clock maker (1746-1826). Earl Reed Silvers, educator, author, and Dean of Men at Rutgers University (d. 1948), and Seymour Williams, local architect who designed many homes and public buildings in Rahway and also directed the Historic Buildings Survey in 1934 covering a five state area have graves in the cemetery.

Unique and special to the graveyard is the grave of a slave woman, Ambo, who has a headstone and is buried in the family plot of the family she served. A slave her entire life, Ambo died in 1847 at the reported age of 100. The most requested grave to visit, however, is the grave of the Unknown Woman. Murdered on March 25, 1887, her identity and the identity of her assailant have never been brought to light.

The Rahway Cemetery is truly an outdoor museum and a place where research possibilities are limitless.

SEDUM 'AUTUMN JOY' A FEAST FOR THE BEES

As summer flowers fade away and chrysanthemums take center stage in the garden, 'Sedum Autumn Joy' is a dependable, easy to grow perennial that blooms year after year with very little care.

Native to Japan 'Sedum Spectabile', commonly called 'Autumn Joy' is the showiest of all sedum. Sedums are a family of over 350 succulents, which are plants that store water in their leaves. Because of this ability sedums are drought resistance.

Appropriately named, Autumn Joy is a classic plant in the fall garden. Two foot high stalks with fleshy succulent leaves produce slightly rounded pink flowers. The flower heads become darker as the season progresses finally turning mahogany. Beginning to flower in late August, it blooms well until the frost.

First introduced to the United States in the 1950's, Autumn Joy is not invasive. Slow growing, it forms a mound which is easy to maintain. This plant can be propagated in spring by division or by stem cuttings. Plant them in your own garden and share a few with friends.

Plant Autumn Joy in full sun in average well

(above) President of The Rahway Garden Club, James Keane has been researching and answering garden questions since 1995. Visit 'Keane Gardener' blog at: keanegardener.blogspot.com drained soil. After the frost, cut to ground level.

Bees get the greatest benefit from a planting of Autumn Joy. While there are fewer sources of nectar to be found in the fall, bees are active preparing their hives and the 'queen' for the approaching winter. Busy gathering stocks of food for early spring when the hive becomes active again, these flowering plants might mean the survival of the colony.

I enjoy standing a safe distance away and watching as bees of different sizes work diligently side by side on the flowers. It is truly amazing.

Because of its ability to be to be a "bee magnet" I suggest you avoid planting Autumn Joy by doors or entrance ways where the active critters might frighten family or guests.

Happy gardening,
James

(left) In September, poison ivy is the first plant to change color. The bright orange, red and yellow leaves make this 'toxic' native plant easy to spot. Please research safe removal before tackling this problem vine.

Providing services for Eastern Union County and Northern Middlesex County, The Gateway Family YMCA has branches in Elizabeth, Rahway and Union, NJ. 7th Grade students from the surrounding areas are invited to visit the YMCA and sign up for this complimentary membership.

The goal of the 7th Grade Initiative is to increase physical activity and support teens in the development of lifetime healthy habits while providing a safe and supportive environment at the YMCA. "We recognize that 7th grade is a pivotal time in youth development, where sports become more competitive and many teens begin to become less active," stated Krystal R. Canady, CEO, The Gateway Family YMCA. "We believe in providing these students with a positive environment, where healthy habits can be learned and reinforced, where new friendships can be made, and where positive programs and role models are part of the daily routine," added Melynda A. Mileski, EVP/COO.

Students within Eastern Union County and Northern Middlesex County are invited to visit The Gateway Family YMCA with a parent/guardian and proof of grade to sign up for the free membership. Students are invited to participate in programs and services offered by the YMCA, and are provided with a complimentary Full Privilege membership including health and wellness options, swimming, group exercise, as well as teen programs. "Our goal is to provide support for 7th grade students, allowing them to strengthen healthy behaviors, increase activity, gain a better understanding of nutrition and the importance of continuing these habits into their adult lives," stated Thomas Galuppo, Director of Healthy Living, Five Points Branch.

The Gateway Family YMCA is a 501(c)(3) non-profit, health and community service organization of caring staff and volunteers dedicated to strengthening the foundations of community and stands For Youth Development, For Healthy Living and For Social Responsibility. The Y impacts the community by providing quality services to people of all ages, races, faiths or incomes.

SEEKING YOUTH TO VOLUNTEER AS YOUTH FACILITATORS FOR IMAGINE, A CENTER FOR COPING WITH LOSS

Imagine, A Center for Coping with Loss, a free grief support center for children and adults coping with loss due to death, is recruiting youth volunteers for its Fall 2016 class of Volunteer Youth Facilitators and for the Imagine Youth Advisory Council (iYAC.) Youth Facilitators provide support to children ages 3 to 12 who have experienced the death of a parent, sibling, or caregiver while iYAC provides advice, outreach and event support.

Caroline Sullivan, 17, of Cranford, has served as a youth facilitator in one of Imagine's children's groups for a year after attending a one day, seven hour training. Propelled by her experience as a bereaved child who received support, Caroline is now dedicated to helping other children while they grieve.

The experience thus far has been life-changing. Caroline stated, "Volunteering for this program has given me the opportunity to provide for others the same support and acceptance that was once provided for me. Imagine breaks down the walls that separate us in the rest of our lives and provides a unique space for coping with loss any way that's necessary."

Volunteers come from all walks of life and need no special background other than a willingness to listen, a heart inclined to serve, and the ability to be with children and adults in pain without trying to fix, solve or give advice. No prior experience is necessary. Volunteers must be at least 14 years old. Volunteers serve as companions and loving listeners for those who are grieving.

Imagine is a free year-round peer grief support center located in Westfield, New Jersey and serving all of Union County and beyond. Imagine serves children age 3-18 who have had a parent or sibling die, with concurrent support groups for their parents or guardians. Support for children and teens living with a parent or sibling with a life-altering physical illness is also available through Imagine's Coping with Illness program. Free year-round support groups are also available for adults 18 and up who have had a friend, sibling, parent or other important person in their life die, or who have a parent, sibling or friend living with an illness.

If you are interested in learning more about the upcoming training scheduled for September 10, 11:30 a.m. – 6:30 p.m., or about Imagine, please contact Connie Palmer, LCSW, Imagine's Clinical Training Director at connie@imagineenj.org or 908-264-3100. For information about iYAC contact Program Director Mandi Zucker at mandi@imagineenj.org or 908-264-3100 or visit www.imagineenj.org.

BACK-TO-SCHOOL TIME FOR FOSTER YOUTH, TOO

Rahway residents needed to serve as advocates

Just as the kids head back to school, you may find yourself with more free time — and thrilled at the possibilities! How about changing the life of an area foster child? Train in Westfield later this month with like-minded locals and enjoy a light dinner, guest speakers and a team of trainers that equip you with all the tools needed to become a successful Court Appointed Special Advocate (CASA) volunteer. While many Rahway students happily settle into school routines, buoyed by active parents readying for Back to School Night, there are foster youth without that support system who face educational challenges. Your commitment to their success helps ensure access to an education that meets their specialized needs:

Five-year-old Samantha is severely autistic and almost completely nonverbal. Due to excessive violence in the family home, a concerned neighbor called for help and, after investigation, Samantha was removed from her parents' care and placed in foster care. Although primarily nonverbal, the two phrases Samantha does say graphically depict the violence she witnessed at home and confirm the trauma she endured. Since entering care, it has become clear Samantha also is a victim of educational neglect. At age three, Samantha was entitled to an Individualized Education Plan from the Department of Education to ensure continued in-home speech and behavioral services to move her toward enrollment in a half-day educational program. Unfortunately, Samantha's parents neglected to utilize these services and she is now two years behind others her age! A CASA volunteer can advocate for Samantha's educational rights and needed services, among other things, and make recommendations to the family court judge that will ensure her best interests remain prioritized.

CASA of Union County is seeking Rahway residents to be the voice for one of the nearly 600 Union County youth, ages 0-21, in foster care through no fault of their own, as there are currently only enough volunteers to serve one-third of those youth. Trained CASA volunteers are sworn in by a judge and empowered to speak to foster parents, teachers, doctors, lawyers, tutors, therapists and more. They visit the youth regularly, incorporate findings into court reports and attend court hearings quarterly, working to ensure best interests are considered and a safe and permanent home is secured as quickly as possible. Although not required, there is a particular need for advocates who speak Spanish.

Fall training kicks off Tuesday, Sept. 27, 2016 and includes 10 sessions over several weeks. A swearing-in at the Union County Courthouse by a family court judge and luncheon follows. Training is 6 to 9 p.m. at the County Clerk Building, 300 North Avenue East in Westfield, across from the diner. A light dinner is provided.

Attend an information session to learn more: Evening sessions are Tuesday, Sept. 6 and Wednesday, Sept. 21 at the County Clerk Building in Westfield; morning sessions are 10 a.m. Sept. 9 and Sept. 23 at CASA's offices, 1143-45 East Jersey Street in Elizabeth. Rahway residents are encouraged to contact Lisa at (908) 527-7048 or lporis@casafunioncounty.org for details or to RSVP for an information session.

ARTS GUILD NEW JERSEY IN RAHWAY TO CLOSE AFTER 17 YEARS

After seventeen years, Arts Guild New Jersey, a non-profit art gallery in the heart of downtown Rahway, will close its doors on September 1st, 2016.

Lawrence Cappiello, Founder and Executive Director of Arts Guild New Jersey, says, "It is with deep sadness that I must report that Arts Guild New Jersey is closed. We have just been notified that our lease for the property that has served as our Art Center for the past 18 years will not be renewed and we have been asked to vacate the building by the 1st of September.

It has been my distinct honor and pleasure to serve as Executive Director of the Arts Guild since 1997. I am extremely proud of the work we have been able to do in serving a wide regional audience with quality Arts Programs: Art Exhibitions, Art Classes for Adults and Children and other forms of Arts Education, Jazz concerts, classical music, Folk Music, Indie Films, Animations, Artists Networking and so much more.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to our Dedicated Trustees on the Guild Board for their drive, loyalty and hard work. I wish to offer thanks as well to Douglas Ferrari, my Assistant Director, Cyd Katz Seidel, our Administrative Assistant, our great Art Instructors whose skills, talent and teaching ability made our Art Classes as strong as they have been. And A Special Thank You to the literally Hundreds of exceptional Fine Artists who were featured in over 130 arts exhibits at the Guild since 1999.

And THANKS to YOU - The Many, Many visitors, patrons and supporters who we wished to serve through Quality Art Programs since 1999."

All current programs at Arts Guild New Jersey are cancelled as of August 22nd, 2016.

The website www.agnj.org will stay online until the end of the year to continue their 2016 Artist of the Month program.
