STUDENTS TRAINED TO HEAL OTHERS THROUGH LISTENING

On September 2, just a few days before the start of school, 31 student volunteers from Westfield High School's "Guy and Girl Thing" program were trained by the staff of Imagine, A Center for Coping With Loss, on how to create a more supportive school environment.

Through a grant from the Westfield High School PTSO, the students received six hours of intensive training about grief and loss and the many barriers that keep people from expressing their emotions and reaching out for help. Additionally, they learned strategies for facilitating peer groups and how to be active and empathetic listeners. They will put their knowledge and skills to use not only in their personal relationships but also through facilitating informal "Hangout" sessions which students can attend on various topics such as coping with divorce, the illness or death of a loved one, academic stress, learning disabilities, and more. The "Hangouts" are scheduled to begin for Westfield High School students in October and run throughout the school year on a bi-weekly basis.

"The Guy and Girl Thing" was started by Susan Kolesar, Health teacher at Westfield High School in 2004 to have seniors teach underclassmen about health-related topics.

Various activities have been incorporated throughout the years including assemblies, students and teachers sharing their life-stories, retreats, and most notably, the reading and discussion of the "What I Wish I Knew Then..." letters that the seniors write to the underclassmen each year. Health teacher Michelle Spreitzer has been assisting in the programs since 2007. Kevin Everly, who also teaches health, and Paul Valenzano, a guidance counselor at WHS, will be actively involved in overseeing the program as well.

Beyond providing peer support groups to the public, imagine also provides grief education to both students and school staff. This training was led by Imagines' Connie Palmer, Clinical Training Director at Imagine, Corey Wisler, Grief Recovery Specialist, Nick Breza, and Caroline Snizek.

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL YOUTH SUMMER MISSION TRIP TOWASHINGTON

First Congregational Church celebrated another successful mission trip from a week of volunteerism and fellowship in Washington, DC. Braving heat and humidity, nineteen youth and eight adult chaperones worked with YSOP (Youth Services Opportunity Project) from July 26-29th and served over ten locations and agencies throughout DC and the surrounding area.

Split into five teams, the group donated their time by preparing meals with the DC Central Kitchen, worked with a Wider Circle to help outfit families transitioning out of homelessness with household items and helped the elderly with yard work through Seabury Resources for the aging.

In their downtime, the group explored DC—visiting the White House, Washington Monument, Lincoln Memorial, Vietnam Memorial, Museum of American History and the Holocaust Museum. The trip was a powerful and moving experience shared by everyone who participated.

The FCC contingent was led by Rev. Dr. Mark Boyea, senior minister; Rev. Joy Mounts, associate minister. Chaperones included: Joe Regan, assistant music director, Cindy and Kelsey Boyea, Geoff Marino, Anna Rehwinkel, Denise Schifando. Student representatives included: Giavanna Schifando.

This is the ninth consecutive summer that the church has participated in volunteer work. Previous mission trips have included sites in New Orleans, Ohio, Pittsburgh, West Virginia, Wyoming, San Antonio, Vermont and Chicago. Fundraisers held throughout the year, including a tag sale, pancake breakfast, and spaghetti supper and talent show, help underwrite the cost of travel.

First Congregational Church, a member of the United Church of Christ, is located at 125 Elmer Street in Westfield.

For additional information on youth group and outreach opportunities, please contact (908) 233-2494 or visit their website at fccofwestfield.org.

CHILD SUPPORT – HOW NEW JERSEY COURTS CALCULATE AND MODIFY SUPPORT OBLIGATIONS

By: James McGlew II, Esq.

In New Jersey, child support is defined as a financial payment from one parent to the other to provide for the needs of their child or children. Child support is the right of every child and neither spouse can waive this responsibility. All parents regardless of their marital status have an obligation to support their children until they are deemed emancipated.

In most instances, the amount of child support to be paid is calculated by using New Jersey's Child Support Guidelines. Income information is exchanged between the parents and this data is used in combination with factors such as the number of children, percentage of non-custodial parenting time and other prior child support obligations, to determine the amount of child support that is to be paid weekly. The Guidelines take into account the amount of funds necessary between the two parents to cover the basic needs of the children including, but not limited to, their food, shelter, healthcare and clothing expenses.

Child support obligations will remain in place for many years. Child support is not terminated automatically and may continue longer based on extraordinary circumstances such as the special needs of a child. As such, a common aspect of many divorce agreements is an agreement between the parties for the use of a "COLA" which is an acronym for Cost-of-Living Adjustment. This procedure automatically raises child support awards every two or three years, the specific details of which are negotiated and agreed to before any final divorce judgment is entered. The purpose of a COLA is to keep the child support award's value current due to inflation. If child support is payable through the Probation Department, parents are often contacted directly regarding the implementation of a cost of living adjustment.

Changes to child support obligations can be made. Child support orders in New Jersey are subject to modification based upon what the Court may define as a change in circumstances. While there are numerous situations that can be defined as a change in circumstances, some of the more common situations that would qualify include:

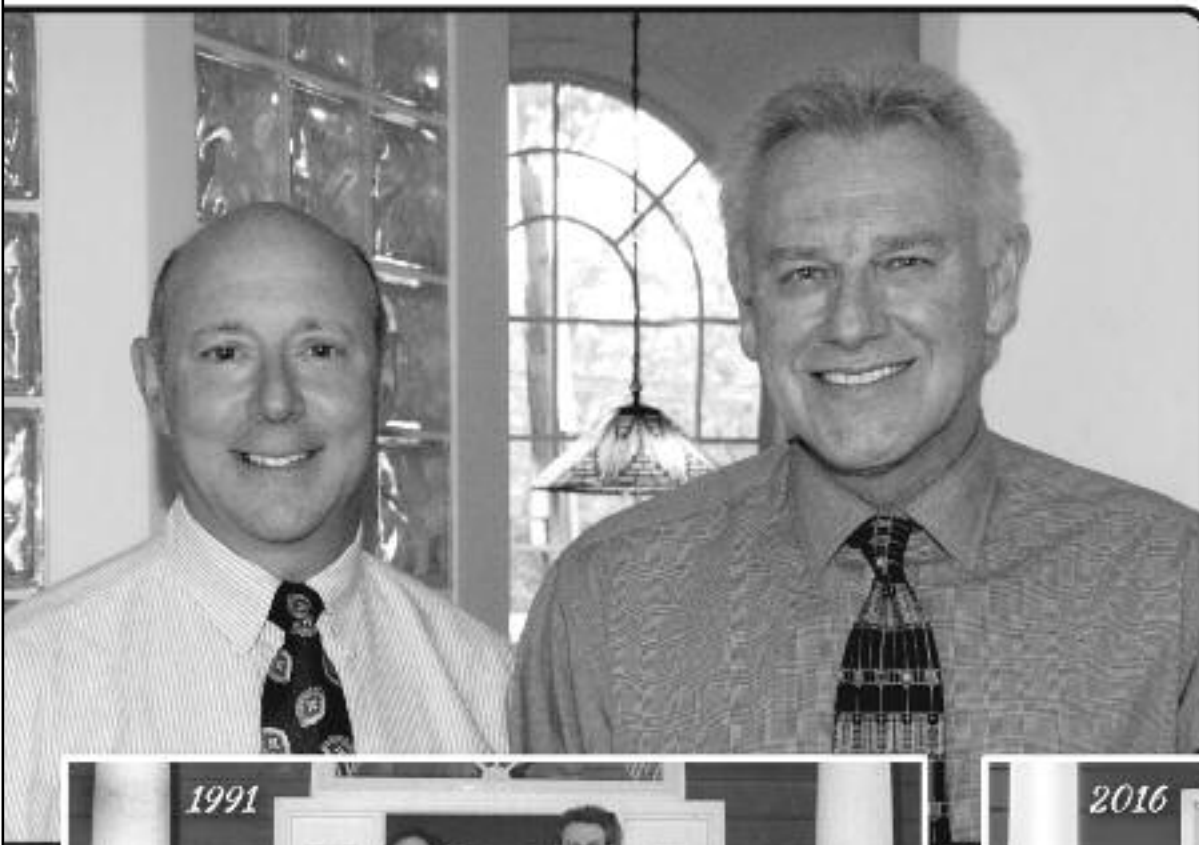

- an increase in the cost of living
- the emancipation (as defined under law) of one or more of the children
- a demonstrable increase or decrease in the paying parents income
- a parent or child suffering a disability or serious illness
- or, in some instances, the maturation of the child or children.

If a modification in the amount of child support is appropriate, the party seeking to modify the amount paid is obligated to file an application with the Court. These written applications can sometimes be extremely fact sensitive and require extensive documented proof of the change in circumstances. This is particularly relevant if the reason for seeking a modification is employment or health related on the part of the paying parent.

Lindabury's Family Law Group has decades of experience representing clients in negotiating, enforcing and amending child support obligations. We provide the full range of divorce and family law services and are easily accessible from our Westfield New Jersey office. Call today to schedule a consultation with James McGlew at (908) 233-6800.

WESTFIELD HIGH SCHOLL GIRLS ICE HOCKEY TEAM HOLDS FUNDRAISER

On Friday evening, September 9, 2016, the Westfield Girls Ice Hockey Team hosted a fundraiser at the The Grand Summit Hotel to raise funds to support its inaugural 2016 season. This well-attended event was the culmination of many months of hard work that went towards creating the first girls high school ice hockey team in Westfield and only the third public high school girls ice hockey team in the state. Overall, the night was a tremendous success. Approximately 175 members of the community ate, socialized and listened to music from Brother John Brown Band.

The night was made even more special by the attendance of members of the NJ Devils organization, including Captain Andrew Greene and defenseman, Jon Merrill. Both Mr. Greene and Mr. Merrill were exceptionally gracious with their time and took pictures and signed autographs for all in attendance, including the girls who make up this year's team. Sherry Ross, the radio color commentator for the NJ Devils, gave an inspirational speech. In addition, both Natasha Moody (Vice President of Premium Services for the NJ Devils and the Prudential Center) and Danielle Toussaint (Director of Client Experience for the NJ Devils and the Prudential Center) gave motivational talks and wished the girls the best of luck this year.

Many thanks to Chris Forno, John McDevitt and Eric Snyder of the Westfield Hockey Club, which is donating practice jerseys and socks for this season. This fundraiser would not have been possible without the incredible efforts of Beth Hornstein, Jen Katz, Marty McDevitt and Dianna Snyder, the Co-Chairs of the WHS Girls Ice Hockey Board. We also want to extend our appreciation to the girls' coach, Matt Gualtieri. Matt was a member of the first boy's ice hockey team at Westfield High School in 1994.

Last, but not least, this team could not have been possible without the exceptionally generous support of the Westfield community.

Thanks so much for ensuring that these girls get to be on the ice!

WESTFIELD TEACHER SAVES WOMAN FROM DROWNING

Westfield English teacher, Matthew Kalafat, thought his Sunday afternoon at the Jersey shore with his family would be a respite from the first hectic weeks of school. Instead, the middle school English teacher plunged into the ocean on September 25 to save a woman who was pulled under by the strong riptide. "It was instinct over intellect – I jumped into the water," said Kalafat, as he responded to his wife's terrified scream when noticing the body floating lifeless. Kalafat jumped in and managed to bring the victim to shore as he himself struggled and went under after a "giant wave knocked me silly." Bystander Scott McLaren, who had First Aid Squad training, started CPR on the victim, who was without a pulse.

Kalafat and McLaren learned that although she was taken unconscious to the hospital, Dishita Pandya has since fully recovered. They reconnected with her in her hospital room where she thanked the men who saved her life. Kalafat predicts that Pandya, a doctor who is a native of India, also will have the opportunity to save lives.

(above) Kalafat's Principal, Stewart Carey (left), congratulated the English and Journalism teacher who has been on staff since 2009. "We here in Westfield, and particularly at Roosevelt, congratulate Mr. Kalafat on his heroic efforts. He has set a fine example for the type of individual that we would like our students to emulate as they develop into adulthood," stated Carey.

Grace Ann Meyn first met members of the Woman's Club of Westfield at an indoor garage sale, this past spring, held to raise money for local charities. She told us that she had read about the club in local newspaper articles highlighting the club's activities including community service projects such as: Family Promise, The Paul Jackson Fund, Stockings for the Military, Creative Writing Contest and Scholarship Programs. All members work in a spirit of friendship and harmony. Grace Anne was very interested in coming to our next general meeting where we bestowed twelve $5,000 scholarships to Westfield High School Senior students. She was enthusiastic about what she learned about our club and expressed a desire to join.

At our last meeting before summer break, Grace Ann was installed into our club as a new member and has quickly become a significant part of our group, joining enthusiastically into many varied activities while making many new friends with common interests.

OUR PAIN IS YOUR GAIN

Due to an unusually mild December last year our sales figures dipped for the 2015 – 16 fur season. This means we are taking a more aggressive start to our 2016 – 17 selling season. Our first sale will begin in October with a 40% markdown on all current inventory. As always, La Marque will continue to feature many one of a kind garments not available elsewhere. I'm also very excited to introduce our new accessory line. Scarves, flings, headbands, earmuffs and fur trimmed shearling gloves ($40 - $250!) in assorted colors that can be worn to enhance any garment in your wardrobe. We look forward to seeing you at the store!

CIVIL AIR PATROL PROGRAM OF UNION COUNTY

By: Edir Coronado

The Civil Air Patrol Cadet Program of Union County ended their action packed summer by providing a presentation to community members in the Scotch Plains Library. The Civil Air Patrol is a non-combatant organization, which is an auxiliary of the Air force, made up of civilian volunteers. Cadets had the opportunity to teach local students about aerospace concepts, as well as give hands-on training on how to use a flight simulator. The purpose of the event was to serve as an outreach program to display what the cadet program encompasses, hopefully sparking some interest among the student population in Scotch Plains and the surrounding towns within Union County.

The day was broken down into two sections. The cadets first presented a PowerPoint explaining topics, such as how wings create lift; which, according to NASA, is a subject that many internet sources, textbooks, and encyclopedias get wrong. The theory NASA uses is what the cadets explained in their presentation, the Bernoulli's principle. NASA also refers to an Isaac Newton theory, but explains that the Bernoulli's theory is correct, along with Newton's theory. Other topics covered in the first session included the axis of an airplane and also the parts of an airplane that control maneuvers.

The second portion of the program was dedicated to more hands-on instruction. Students at the library were instructed on how to use flight simulators. Two simulators were used in the demonstration. Attendees could practice how to take off, land, fly, and could also learn the different instruments on a plane and how they affect the planes movements. Afterwards, paper model rockets were displayed in order to teach basic principles of flight.

Jose and Ceri Vergara are in charge of the Civil Air Patrol. Ceri explains that the Civil Air Patrol began during World War II for the purpose of allowing civilians, who owned airplanes, to get involved. During the September 11th attacks, civilian airplanes were used for reconnaissance. The Civil Air Patrol Program has programs for both adults and teenagers, ages 12-18. Currently, the Civil Air Patrol Program of Union County has 6 adult members, these members are in charge of providing education and scheduling activities for the group. The group meets Tuesdays from 7-9 p.m. at Chatham High School.

Jose and Ceri were inspired to join the Civil Air Patrol by their daughter, Veronica Vergara, who attends Union County Vocational Technical School in Scotch Plains. Currently, Veronica is the elder of the cadets and has taken over as senior cadet.

Jose notes that countless students looking to go to college in the near future often seek extracurricular activities in order to stand out. This is where a program like Civil Air Patrol could be useful. Ceri feels that in addition to the program looking good on your resume, students also have the opportunity to learn and experience things that they might not in a regular school setting. One parent, Ceri recalls, stated at a parent's meeting, "This is the best kept secret in the United States!"

For more information on the Civil Air Patrol please visit GoCivilAirPatrol.com www.njwg.cap.gov, and gocivilairpatrol.com.

HEARING SOCIETY WEEKLY CLASSES

The Hearing Society, a local not-for-profit organization serving people with impaired hearing, resumed its weekly sessions in speech (lip) reading.

The class meets at the First Baptist Church of Westfield, 170 Elm Street, each Thursday, September through May, 10:30-11:45 a.m., unless otherwise announced. Coffee and light refreshments are served before each session.

The classes are under the direction of a skilled professional and provide strategies for coping with hearing loss, and techniques for improving communication abilities.

The sessions also serve as a support group for Hearing Society members experiencing the problems associated with hearing loss, and include discussions concerning new developments in the ever expanding technology of hearing enhancements now available. The members also enjoy occasional social gatherings throughout the year.

Anyone in the greater Union County area who is interested in membership in the organization and would like to participate in its classes and activities may contact Alice Knecht at 908 688 8241 or alirobkn@aol.com for more information.

I TOTALLY RECOMMEND TOUCHSTONE

I hurt my back at the gym and was out for almost a month without working out. For the first week I wasn't even able to turn around on my bed. I thought the pain was going to go away but it never did.

After a week from hell I decided to come to this place. After the third adjustment I was already able to turn around in bed. After two weeks I was already bending over and I was able to dress myself again. On my third week I was easily benching weights I never did before, squatting was decent and back exercises were not a problem. Finally after my fourth week was over I was able to start doing some decent deadlift too, there is still a long road, my treatment should last a whole year but it is totally worth it. I am feeling stronger than ever.

The staff is very friendly and helpful always finding the best options for you. They are very flexible with the appointments and payments. Doctor is very informative, always making sure that you understand how the process is going and how well/bad your condition is, very professional and quick. Totally recommend this place.

WESTFIELD'S GABE GIVELBER IMPACTS FOSTER YOUTH, HELPS CASA FOR EAGLE SCOUT SERVICE PROJECT

When he approached Court Appointed Special Advocates (CASA) of Union County — a nonprofit that recruits, trains, supervises and supports community volunteers to advocate for abused, neglected or abandoned local children in foster care — Gabe Givelber of Boy Scout Troop 77 in Westfield didn't know just how his Eagle Scout service project would ultimately take shape, but he knew he wanted to impact kids less fortunate than him.

"I'm a lucky kid. I live in a nice house with my parents, brothers, cat and dog. There's always plenty to eat and I have a nice place to sleep each night. My parents have good jobs and I'm able to participate in most activities I'm interested in." Noting this isn't the case for the 600 Union County children in foster care, Gabe added, "Many of these kids have been removed from home because their parents can no longer take care of them. Many of the parents suffer from mental illness or substance abuse. These kids are neglected, or physically or mentally abused."

Gabe met with staff and quickly found a pressing need: organization of a conference room that had become makeshift storage, as toys, books, school supplies, pajamas and CASA marketing materials were stashed in every nook and cranny. After hearing about time spent searching for items and the difficulty in assessing what's on hand and what's not, Gabe hatched a plan: inventory the room, build and install shelves, sort and organize items into bins, create an inventory spreadsheet by shelf location, and provide a tablet on which staff could manage inventory electronically.

To make it happen, Gabe raised $2,150 from family, friends and troop members; mapped the space; ordered supplies; devised a two-day work schedule; and recruited help from several Troop 77 members, his mom and brother. Today, that chaotic space is now an orderly oasis, and CASA staff can easily access items and identify needs.

Gabe, who spent $1,450 and is donating the remaining $700 to the organization, noted, "My experience was really great. CASA was a great partner and really allowed me to be creative with my project. I was a little overwhelmed just before we started to fix the storage room. There was a lot more stuff than I thought there would be! I wasn't sure we'd be able to complete the project in the time I'd proposed. Luckily, my volunteers worked really hard and the system I came up with worked really well. I'm very proud of the way the room looks and how happy CASA is!"

CASA Executive Director Marla Higginbotham said she and staff are thrilled. "Staff spends their time working with our volunteers, attending court, training advocates and managing cases. The storage space had gotten out of hand but we just hadn't been able to dig in and devote time or resources. Gabe's planning, fundraising and commitment brought about a result well beyond our expectations. He's made our job easier, which means he's absolutely helping us more easily impact the lives of abused and neglected children from his own county. We thank him, and our kids thank him."

There are many ranks within Boy Scouts, and Eagle is the highest. Currently a Life Scout, Gabe had three years to earn 21 merit badges and lead and complete a service project before turning 18. He predicts his Eagle Scout ceremony will be this Winter or early Spring; given his efficiency and determination, CASA staff is betting he'll be right on schedule.

STEPHEN SONDHEIM'S ASSASSINS OPENS CDC THEATRE'S 98TH SEASON

CDC Theatre, New Jersey's oldest continually producing community theatre, opened its 98th season Friday, October 7 at 8pm with the bold, original, disturbing and alarmingly funny musical Assassins.

A multiple Tony Award-winning theatrical tour-de-force with music and lyrics by Stephen Sondheim and book by John Weidman, Assassins combines Sondheim's signature blend of intelligently stunning lyrics and beautiful music with a panoramic story of our nation's culture of celebrity and the violent means some will use to obtain it, embodied by America's four successful and five would-be presidential assassins.

Assassins lays bare the lives of nine individuals who assassinated or tried to assassinate the President of the United States, in a one-act historical "revusical" that explores the dark side of the American experience. From John Wilkes Booth to Lee Harvey Oswald, writers, Stephen Sondheim and John Weidman, bend the rules of time and space, taking us on a nightmarish roller coaster ride in which assassins and would-be assassins from different historical periods meet, interact and inspire each other to harrowing acts in the name of the American Dream.

Director Alan Van Antwerp says, "In the weeks leading up to the election, there is never been a better time to produce a musical about the men and women who felt the peaceful transition of power we strive for every first Tuesday in November was not enough. Assassins challenges us to see the stories behind those who felt alienated, lost, and forgotten and went to extreme measures to make their situation better."

The cast includes Keith White as John Wilkes Booth, Gene Lough as Charles Guiteau, Zach Love as Leon Czolgosz, Shane Long as Giuseppe Zangara, Matt Burns as Samuel Byck, Lindsay Braverman as Lynette "Squeaky" Fromme, Lauren Grof-Tisza as Sarah Jane Moore, Zach Mazouat as John Hinckley, Chris Cantalupo as The Balladeer/Lee Harvey Oswald and Rich Colonna as The Proprietor.

Performances will run Friday and Saturdays at 8pm from October 7 through the 22 with a 1pm matinee on Saturday, October 15. Tickets and additional information can be found by visiting www.cdctheatre.org. Funding has been made possible in part by the NJ State Council on the Arts, Dept. of State, and a Partner Agency of the National Endowment for the Arts, through a grant administered by the Union County Office of Cultural & Heritage Affairs.

KIDDIE ACADEMY® OPENS IN NORTH PLAINFIELD

National child care learning company brings high-quality child care to the area

Kiddie Academy®, a nationally recognized provider of comprehensive education-based child care programs, has just opened its newest location in Watchung Square with a capacity for 214 children. This gorgeous 16,620 sqft building includes a 3,300 sqft dedicated multiple purpose room where kids can run, play and have tons of fun. For more than 28 years the company has been successful with combining learning with child care, said John Ao, Owner of Kiddie Academy of Watchung Square, located at 325 North Drive, North Plainfield, NJ 07060.

"Our well-trained, attentive staff assists children in developing the confidence and self-esteem necessary to meet the challenges of tomorrow. Our philosophy at Kiddie Academy is that care and learning go hand in hand," Ao said. "We also believe that it's extremely important to foster bonds between not only our educators and children, but between educators and parents, academics and the local community."

According to the National Childcare Accreditation Council, children's learning and development is enhanced when they make choices and guide their own experiences through their individual interests, personalities and skills. Children's learning occurs through planned and spontaneous experiences, during their participation in daily routines and through their experience of positive modeling by adults and peers.

Ao says that's exactly Kiddie Academy's focus. "The assortment of activities we have available for the children is endless, which encourages them to learn, play and explore. When children attend Kiddie Academy of Watchung Square, they will acquire the skills and strength of character that will foster their success."

Kiddie Academy, founded in 1981, began with the idea to combine learning with child care, and a commitment to be a leader in the industry. Kiddie Academy developed a comprehensive education-based child care program for its academies, which are structured to respond to the increasing demand for child care. The Watchung Square location utilizes the Kiddie Academy Life Essentials® curriculum created to promote each child's intellectual, social, physical and emotional growth. According to Spinelli, the programs emphasize continuous, open communication between teachers and parents concerning each child's development.

"We invite children to embark on a journey with Kiddie Academy that will prepare them for success in school and beyond," Ao said.

For more information about Kiddie Academy of Watchung Square, please contact the center directly at (908) 769-5437 or email the Academy at watchungsquare@kiddieacademy.net.
