SAMUEL SHAFRAN PAST PRESIDENT OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Samuel (Sam) Shafran, 78, of Scotch Plains, N.J., died on May 17, 2017, of cancer. Sam was born in Brooklyn, N.Y., and was a graduate of Brooklyn Technical High School. He was a wonderful storyteller and was always prepared to tell a joke. Throughout his life, Sam enjoyed many entrepreneurial endeavors in the areas of real estate, textiles, and trucking. He cherished time with family and friends.

Rahway resident and past president of the Rahway Chamber of Commerce Bob Markey had this to say "Sam Shafran was a great friend to Rahway. He was generous member of the business community who gave freely of his time and expertise to help others. He served as the president of the Chamber of Commerce and was involved with other community service projects. He was a friend that can be counted on. Sam was always quick with a joke and can command an audience with an anecdote on any topic of conversation. When playing on the tennis court or when just holding court, Sam was a joy to be with."

Sam is survived by his loving wife of 51 years, Harriet Scherer-Shafran; his sons, Andrew and Michael; his daughter-in-law; and his three grandchildren, Jonah, Lucas, and Annie; his brother, Joe Shafran, and sister, Marilyn Todd. He also leaves behind many close friends and family members that were all very dear to him. For those wishing to honor his memory, donations can be made to In-Patient Palliative Care c/o the Foundation for Morristown Medical Center, 475 South St., Morristown, N.J. 07960, or online at www.f4mmc.org.

VISIT TO LINDEN ANIMAL SHELTER

On Saturday, May 20, 2017, students from the Blue and Gold Club at Franklin Elementary School in Rahway visited the Friends of the Linden Animal Shelter in Linden with their club advisors, Mrs. Barbara Maher and Ms. Kym Adams. The club brought 3 boxes of donations filled with items such as blankets, toys, food, snacks, kitty litter, and bowls. The items were generously donated to the school as part of a collection on behalf of the animal shelter. They also brought 2 bags of homemade dogs treats that the kids made themselves.

Afterward, the kids enjoyed a nice nature walk through the Hawk Rise Sanctuary. It was a really nice time and the kids in this club really enjoy helping the community. They are a fine example of community service and the positive impact it can have on the community.

To All of my Neighbors and Friends in Rahway, the town in which I am proud to be a homeowner !! I love where I live and will never move!!!!

Rahway has a very special significance to me. At the young age of 20, when I graduated from Rutgers University with a degree in Education, I was hired as a full-time teacher at Rahway High. My students were 2 years younger than me and I had a wonderful teaching experience!!! My name at that time was Miss Flicker and I am sure many of my students will remember me from the 70's!!!!!!!

In 1988 I built a real estate business together with my wonderful husband Juan and our three-year-old baby girl in arms.

LOVING THE LENAPE LIFE

The fourth-grade students of Roosevelt School in Rahway enhanced their study of New Jersey's first people, The Lenape, with a hands-on, informative outreach presentation by The Lenape

STUDENTS AND TEACHERS - GUESTS OF THE HARRY CONNICK, JR. SHOW

Article and picture submitted by: Lauren Palermo

On Tuesday, March 7, 50 Rahway High School Musical Theatre and Kudos Broadcasting students accompanied by their teachers, Ms. Dooley, Mr. Van Wyk and Ms. Palermo, headed off to CBS Studios in Manhattan, to be audience members of the Harry Connick Jr. show, "Harry," on Fox 5, which aired Thursday, March 16. The invitation to attend the St. Patrick's Day themed show came from one of the producers and was at the expense of CBS Studios. The guests for this day were actress Famke Janssen from the "The Black List: Redemption," Broadway's Annaleigh Ashford, currently starring in Sunday in the Park with George, the 2016 Indie 500 winner, Alexander Rossi and Chef George Duran.

The audience members were first ushered into a waiting room until the staff spoke about expectations and were ready to let them into the studio. Once inside, it was fast paced and exciting, with something happening every moment. One lucky audience member was gifted $5,000 to pay down her student loans and a woman won two, round-trip tickets to Ireland. The audience was prompted to stand, cheer, sit and yell. Senior Justin Kanski, a broadcasting student, was most impressed with the crane camera, "I never saw one close up before. I was amazed at how many lights, cameras and monitors there were." He was lucky enough to be seated in the first row!

One particularly thrilling moment was when Senior Katelynn Perez, who was especially excited to see Annaleigh Ashford, was called to the stage with Harry and Annaleigh. Katelynn said afterwards, "This trip was one that I will never forget. Seeing how TV works and all the people it takes to produce one show is crazy. The opportunity to be part of a show taping is something not many people can say they've experienced. Being able to go on stage and meet a famous Broadway actress and Harry Connick Jr. is amazing. I still can't believe I was able to do that." She was even given the chance to advertise the upcoming RHS production of Big Fish, in which she is the lead.

Senior Corey McGhie, who already has television acting credits on several shows, noted, "They were very organized. I've been on sets that were not. I was astonished at how many lights there were. The ceiling was covered. In Kudos we only have two and they're not even on the ceiling!"

Everyone was impressed with how many people it took to run the show and how easily the set changes took place. The studio was alive with energy, added to by Harry's band that played between segments. Lauren Milligan, senior, shared, "What struck me most was the behind-the-scenes action. I felt bad that I did not pay more attention to the show because I was caught up in watching the camera shots and positions and how the director managed to capture every angle of the show. After the show, I spoke with someone about opportunities available for internships. They took my name, and I am really excited to hear back from them."

According to Keren Lebron, a Kudos sophomore, "This trip was a great experience to see what happens behind the scenes of an actual show. Hands down, a trip to remember forever." The broadcasting students were especially impressed by how a real television show runs and how they do the same thing on a much smaller scale at RHS. Several of the students are looking into this as career. Ms. Palermo was proud to mention that several former students are thriving in this field as producers, editors and talent.

On the ride back to Rahway, everyone seemed to have been impressed with a different aspect of the experience but all were in agreement that it was an exciting, eye-opening opportunity for which they were grateful. Makenzie Martin, a junior who is working toward a career in theatre through the RHS program, summed it up best, "Rahway High School is beyond blessed to have these never-ending opportunities given to us."

MADISON SCHOOL GARDEN CLUB

The Madison School garden club meets once a week. Student-centered activities enable students to understand how to care for plant beds, learn how a seed becomes a fruit or vegetable, grow herbs, plant flowers, and even compost! There are seven teachers, one parent volunteer, Mrs. Padulo and fifty-five students from grades Kindergarten through 2nd grade. Recently Bob Markey paid a visit to teach the club about square foot gardening. The children were very excited about using this new type of gardening to increase the amount of vegetables that can grow in their garden during this school year.

ROOT SYSTEMS

When we purchase a plant in a garden center we try to choose the healthiest one we can find and ponder its potential without considering its most essential component, the root system. When a seed germinates and begins its life journey, the first part to sprout is a tiny root.

Unlike in nature where the roots have plenty of space to spread out, plants in containers have little area and the roots grow into themselves becoming entwined together. This problem is known as 'root-bound'. The root-ball will not be able to grow outward in search of water and nutrients and will slowly choke itself.

BREAK THE ROOT BALL

The solution to this problem is simple, break open the root ball. This technique can be intimidating to people who don't want to harm the plants they just purchased. You will do far more damage by leaving the roots as they are.

The bound roots will stunt the growth of vegetables and flowers. Less water means lower productivity or simply put smaller tomatoes. Trees, shrubs and bushes will eventually show damage of dying twigs and branches.

Breaking the root ball can be done quickly, especially in smaller plants such as annuals of vegetables or flowers grown in cell packs. When you lift the plant out of the pack pull the lower roots apart, actually breaking them so they will spread out when they are planted.

This general idea is the same for larger potted shrubs and trees. Larger root systems might need to be hit with a shovel or cut with a knife to get the thick roots to break apart.

The day before planting water plants well. Soaking will prepare them for the process about to take place.

Before planting research and follow all special instructions for your plants. Follow recommendations including correct depth for that species. Some shrubs need to be dug deeper while others need to be a few inches above the soil line. This will ensure that your new plant will settle for years of healthy growth.

After you have planted, water the plant well. This process is called 'mudding in'. It is difficult for newly planted shrubs to get water and nutrients from the root system in the ground up to the plant leaves and branches.

When plants show problems we call it 'transplant shock'. The first year of growth takes place underground. Don't worry if you notice slow growth or smaller plants. They will show great improvement the next year.

Water well the first year and avoid drying out. At least one inch of water every week for most plants. Perhaps a little more for new transplants during dry spells.

Happy Gardening,

YES, THERE REALLY IS A RAHWAY YACHT CLUB

Submitted by Al Shipley, City Historian and Rahway Library Research Consultant

Back in the early 1970s, letters were mailed out (no email back then) to the leaders of all the local clubs, schools, and churches inviting them to an initial meeting of the Mayor's Bicentennial Committee to help plan Rahway's celebration of our country's 200th Anniversary. The meeting was to be held at the Rahway Yacht Club. Almost everyone responded they would attend or send a representative, but many asked, some with a touch of humor in their voice, "Where is the meeting really going to be held?" Even to community leaders, the Rahway Yacht Club, located at the foot of Patterson Street and overlooking the Rahway River, was one of the city's best kept secrets.

In truth, the club was established 113 years ago in 1904 and is the 13th oldest yacht club in the state. The founding members were all prominent men in the community and included elected officials on the Common Council, directors of banks, Freeholders, businessmen, YMCA Directors, and Board of Education officials. The first Commodore was Gustav A. Vett, a successful New York City businessman. Original club by-laws state the object of the organization was, "To encourage its members to acquire knowledge of yacht sailing and motor boating."

The Rahway River had always afforded Rahwayites a source of recreation long before the founding of the club. The allure of the river was exemplified on the evening of Saturday, September 19, 1891 when the city hosted a spectacular river carnival and aquatic fireworks display which attracted visitors from across the county and state. American flags and patriotic bunting lined the banks along the watery parade route. A festive atmosphere was further created by the thousands of lighted lanterns that were planted on the river banks and held by spectators. About 100 boats of every description, from simple, flat-bottomed, shallow draft boats to elegant steam yachts participated in the parade that started at the widest section of the river near the Hazelwood Avenue Bridge, and went as far as the Monroe Street Bridge, before turning back. Mayor William Chamberlain's large schooner served as the headquarters for the committee and invited guests. Even Governor Leon Abbett sent his large motor boat "New Jersey" to be part of the parade. Perhaps events such as the aquatic carnival were the catalysts that aroused boating enthusiasts to form an official yacht club.

In the early years of the Yacht Club, fishing trips, regattas, opening and closing races and parties, and annual banquets filled the club's schedule. In 1916, with World War I on the horizon, the club made a pledge of $3,000 to fund the building and equipping of a scout cruiser that would be placed at the disposal of the United States Navy in time of need. The scout boat would be used for night and day watch to give warning of any German vessels approaching the coast. They would also be used to protect allied commerce, to convoy merchant ships and transports, and to stop enemy or suspicious vessels. The scout boat was contracted to be forty-six feet by eight feet, powered by a 200 horse power engine, and equipped to carry two 3 inch guns. For their spirit of patriotism in their offer to have the craft built and placed under orders of the United States Government, the club received a letter of thanks and appreciation from the Secretary of the Navy, Josephus Daniels.

By the end of the 1920s, membership had rapidly grown and it became obvious that a new, more modern building with more space for social and business affairs was needed. Within a few years, a large addition was attached to the original clubhouse that included an assembly hall and reception room with a fireplace at the back end. An area was also added that included a larger locker room, shower stalls, and space for athletic equipment.

The club celebrated its 50th anniversary on Sunday, June 13, 1954. The highlight of the program was a flag presentation made by U.S. Coast Guard officials to the Rahway Yacht Club Flotilla No. 301, U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary. The celebration concluded with a marine parade showcasing all of the visiting and local vessels followed by an evening social and dancing under the stars.

On July 4, 1976, the Yacht Club assisted the Coast Guard in traffic control in New York Harbor during Operation Sail, part of our nation's observance of the Bicentennial of the United States.

Today, the Rahway Yacht Club maintains a strong membership and is the home port for 26 power boats. The annual schedule of events includes the Commodore's Ball, Fluke Tournaments, Opening and Closing Celebrations, a mid-summer Dock Party, and their popular All-You-Can-Eat Breakfast offerings held every other Sunday from November to March.

RAHWAY WOMAN CREDITS SAGE HOMECARE WITH HELPING REGAIN HEALTH AND INDEPENDENCE

Just a few months ago, Margaret “Peggy” McCue, of Rahway, was in excruciating pain and not able to get out of bed. With help from a SAGE Eldercare home health care aide, McCue is back on her feet and making daily progress. “Everybody thought I was down and out for the count and would never get up again. I was bedridden to now being up on my feet; now that’s a success story!” the 76-year-old said.

Due to post-polio syndrome, McCue fell in June 2016 while living in North Carolina. She underwent operations and therapy in North Carolina, but wasn’t improving. “Based on what the doctors were saying, I wouldn’t be able to get back up, ever ... so I made the move to New Jersey to try something else,” McCue said. Her daughter living in Rahway converted her dining room into a bedroom and the Summit-based non-profit SAGE was hired in December. McCue was paired with SAGE certified aide Schideline Altenor, who she calls “Lin, dear.” Altenor worked with McCue every week day for six hours until February when, due to her progress, her need for an aide was reduced to four hours each week day. They walk around the house together, and Altenor makes her lunch and bathes McCue. “When we began in December, we never imagined her mobility would improve to this point. We are grateful for the role SAGE has played in this,” her daughter, Sue McCue, said.

McCue is thrilled to be able to get in and out of bed on her own with the help of a walker after working with Altenor. “She’s always saying, ‘let’s just try’ and ‘do the best you can.’ I would recommend Lin to any friend, she’s very good,” McCue said.

She celebrates each milestone of progress, like being able to sit in a wheelchair for two hours and get in and out of her family’s car. This enables her to sit out on the deck when the weather is nice, go to church, and go shopping with her family. Her goals include going to see the movie The Shack, get a stair lift for her daughter’s home, and eventually move into a senior apartment on her own. “All we can do is go step-by-step,” she said.

“Nothing makes us happier than to have another success story like Mrs. McCue. The SAGE Eldercare aim is to always help older adults lead healthier, independent lives at home,” said SAGE HomeCare Director Shirley Cabildo, RN, MS, LNHA.

SAGE HomeCare is accredited by the New Jersey Commission on Accreditation for Home Care and offers a range of flexible personal care services with hourly, overnight, or live-in aides, provided by Certified Home Health Aides and supervised by Registered Nurses, for short-term or ongoing needs. The aides meet a spectrum of needs including personal care, meal preparation, light housework, exercise and therapy compliance, medication reminders, and maintaining a safe home environment. For more information about SAGE HomeCare, please call 908.273.8400.

844.WRFUNDS / 844.973.8637

A MESSAGE FOR COMMERCIAL REAL ESTATE BROKERS, LANDLORDS, FRANCHISORS AND PROFESSIONALS WHOSE CLIENTS NEED A CERTAINTY OF FUNDING.

White Rose Funding is a direct and indirect lender that can provide funding for:

- Tenants in need of capital for a build-out, equipment or machinery;
- Franchisee and other Start-Ups in need of acquisition funding or working capital; and
- An established business that has sudden and temporary cash needs.

We provide flexible financing on fair terms that rewards the forwarder by offering:

- Financial remuneration to the forwarder; and
- A tailored solution for your client.

For example, a Landlord or Commercial Real Estate Broker is showing property to a prospective tenant, the location is ideal, but the build-out cost is likely beyond the tenant's initial budget. The Landlord seeks personal guarantees sensing there could be financial issues down the road. White Rose Funding could provide a term loan for the build-out, fixtures and equipment, and a working capital loan that will ring-fence the rent guarantee.

There is no cost to your client unless we provide the financing.

If the client does not enjoy prime credit status, we have relationships with preferred SBA Lenders that can make the process fast and efficient.

When you need access to an alternate lending source for your business needs, please consider White Rose Funding.

SEVENTEEN YEARS OF SUCCESS FOR RAHWAY'S TASTE OF SPRING

Rahway's Taste of Spring, boasted well over one thousand guests on the evening of Friday, April 21, 2017. Guests enjoyed a variety of culinary concoctions from both big name chain restaurants and smaller single proprietor entities, as well as a bounty of aperitifs and spirits provided by Witty's Fine Wine & Liquors of Rahway and Metro Liquors of Linden.

The night ended on a high note with the most lively dance party the event has seen to date. Food, music and fun define the Rahway Taste of Spring. Another year, another success.

(above) Witty's Fine Wine & Liquors of Rahway and Metro Liquors of Linden generously provided all the aperitifs and spirits.
