A GRATEFUL WHRHS ALUMNA RECEIVES 'UPSTANDER' AWARD

Submitted by Denis Kelly

As Engy Gadmawla, Watchung Hills Regional High School (WHRHS) Class of 2014, embarks on her last semester of undergraduate studies at Drew University, Madison, she does so remembering her very first class on her very first day as a WHRHS Warrior in September 2010.

She was born, and spent her first 10 years living in Cairo, Egypt, before she moved in 2003, just two years after 9/11, to Watchung with her mom, dad, and sister.

"I grew up being called a terrorist," she told the audience at the "Facing History and Ourselves" annual New York Benefit Dinner, Thursday, Oct. 19, 2017 at Pier 60 at Chelsea Piers, New York City.

Between 750 and 800 people attended the dinner. Engy Gadelmawla was one of three key speakers at the event, and one of four people presented with Upstander Awards. Others receiving Upstander Awards were: Jennifer and Peter Buffett and the NoVo Foundation; and actress, playwright and activist Anna Deavere Smith.

It is the same annual benefit dinner that in 2014 recognized the work of WHRHS Social Studies Teachers Jamie Lott-Jones and Mary Sok, and WHRHS students Engy Gadelmawla, Catherine Higgins and Monica Mahal, for creating and implementing the WHRHS "White-Out to Erase Bullying" campaign. That campaign brought together some 13 New Jersey school districts and raised awareness of bullying and upstander behavior. Lott-Jones and Sok accompanied Gadelmawla to the banquet along with members of her family.

Rising out of that effort, WHRHS students helped to literally coin a new word in the Oxford English Dictionary (OED) to describe a new concept. It is "Upstander," someone who is different from being merely a "bystander," someone who, in effect, "faces history and ourselves," and tries to do something about it.

In 2014, the WHRHS teachers and students received recognition at the Facing History and Ourselves Benefit Dinner: They were recognized as "Upstanders." Last Fall, Engy Gadelmawla received her second Upstander recognition, for everything she has done since then. She was asked to be one of the keynote speakers at the 2017 Facing History and Ourselves Benefit Dinner.

She might say, it was everything that has happened in her life, both before and after that fateful day in September 2010, when she entered her "very first class on her very first day as a WHRHS Warrior."

Engy shared the poem with the Facing History and Ourselves Annual Dinner audience, reading:

"First they came for the Socialists, but I was not a Socialist and I did not speak out/ Then they came for the trade unionists, but I was not a trade unionist, so I did not speak out/ Then they came for the Jews, but I was not a Jew, so I did not speak out/ Then they came for me, and there was no one left to speak for me."

Continuing, she shared: "For me, this poem is a daily reminder that we all have the power to be 'perpetrators, bystanders or upstanders.' Facing History has taught me that it is our decision what role we take."

She is an Upstander.

MAKING JEWELRY OUT OF JUNK AT LIBRARY

Jaclyn Scopel, 17, and Andrew Scope, 14, both of Green Brook, recently gathered to create environmentally friendly jewelry at the Somerset County Library System New Jersey's Watchung branch. They crocheted metal soda can tabs to form wearable art. "It's fun to make something out of junk," said Sophia Lee, of Watchung, mother of presenter Jacqueline Lee.

'WINTER CABARET' ENTERTAINS 'COFFEE HOUSE' AUDIENCE AT WHRHS

A dozen acts, along with nearly as many improvised between-act skits, made for an entertaining evening at the Script and Cue's 2018 Winter Cabaret, Thursday, Jan. 25, on the stage of the Watchung Hills Regional High School (WHRHS) Performing Arts Center (PAC), 108 Stirling Road, Warren, New Jersey.

An intimate audience gathered around cabaret tables and in portable chairs arranged cross-stage style on the broad PAC stage. Nearly all the stage curtaining was raised to create a coffee house style exposed-brick performance space backdrop. Blue tint mood lighting bathed the atmosphere.

Performers, mostly singers with simple self-accompaniment acoustic guitars, keyboards, or recorded music, honed their skills in front of a live audience. Everyone seemed to be recognizing that this was a living-learning live-audience workshop for the performers. It was also an evening for fun, encouraged, and applauded entertainment.

A healthy dose of "in-between act" performances included yeoman turns by familiar Script and Cue hosts and student leaders, Sam Sinnott, Francesca Infante-Meehan, Emma Leary, Anhal Dhir and Kayla Martins, among others. Many performed in multiple minute-or-less skits.

One of the highlights at the Winter Cabaret were appearances by some of the male student cast members of the upcoming 2018 WHRHS Spring Musical, "Guys and Dolls." Mark your calendar, Guys and Dolls will be performed Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 22, 23, and 24, 2018 in the WHRHS PAC.

At the Winter Cabaret, six of Guys and Dolls' signature male "heavies," Sam Sinnott, Ben Allgor, Will Johnson, Jack Melillo, Will Broder and Lucas Mammone, left their Nathan Detroit-style gangster zoot-suits in the wardrobe department in favor of stripped-down improv-style black slacks/white shirt-nearly-mime outfits to sing the spirited song of sweet revenge from the Broadway musical/movie, "Chicago."

With tongue planted firmly in cheek, the actor/singers worked off nearly everyone's vivid memory of the song, "He Had It Coming," being belted out most convincingly in the movie by such notable enraged females as Queen Latifah, Catherine Zeta-Jones, and Renee Zellweger, among others. The guys at the Winter Cabaret delivered a hilarious portrayal of just enough over-the-top "wronged hurt" by a sextet of enraged males. If this skit was any indication, the "Guys" roles in the upcoming WHRHS Spring Musical, "Guys and Dolls," are in the hands of an ensemble of actors already adept at entertaining an audience as a well-oiled team.

The array of acts at the Cabaret included:

Jack Melillo singing "Landslide," and accompanying himself on guitar;

Kaelin Churchill singing, "Thinking Out Loud," accompanied on guitar by her dad, Ray;

Dana Wasserman singing, "Can't Take My Eyes Off You," and accompanying herself on ukelele;

Olivia Kider and Melissa Miketen singing, "Flight," by popular Broadway leading lady, Sutton Foster;

Becca Baitel reading one of her own original poems;

The student band, Moonwake, singing two songs, "Rosie," featuring singer Nicole Bell, and "Smooth"; other members of Moonwake are, Will Broder, Eddie Cai, Ben Kosakowski, and Lucas Mammone;

Madeline Leong, singing, "I'm Breaking Down," from the Broadway musical, "Falsettos";

Maddie Johnson singing "I Will Follow You into the Dark," by the recording artists, Death Cab for Cutie, accompanied on keyboards by her brother, senior Will Johnson;

Summer Stuart singing, "I'm Here," from the Broadway musical, "The Color Purple";

Elizabeth Chapleski, Joey Pascale and Maddie Leong singing, "Learn to Do It," from the Broadway musical, "Anastasia";

Giovanna DiSanto singing, "Out Here on My Own," from "Fame," and

Justin Horowitz singing, "On the Street Where You Live," originally from the Broadway musical, "My Fair Lady."

Sound and lighting at the Winter Cabaret was provided by Nick Dinizio, Chris Valent and Rick Clark. Stage Managers were Mark Caamano and Emily Snead. Script and Cue Business manager is WHRHS Business teacher Dianne Krutz, and the Script and Cue Advisor is WHRHS Drama Teacher Doug Eaton.

WHRHS approaches all events such as the Winter Cabaret, as opportunities to encourage heavy student involvement in organizing and leading the event. Virtually every school event, including the Winter Cabaret, is seen as multi-discipline living learning experiences that include ancillary tasks such as catering, graphic design, social media usage, supportive financial and business tasks, understanding learning in context, and more.

This supports one of the stated goals of the 2015-2020 Strategic Goals: The WHRHS District will provide the resources, technology, and organizational change to achieve, among other goals: "To integrate creative, innovative, and interdisciplinary learning throughout the district to empower and inspire students to succeed in a changing global community."
