THE CHELSEA AT FANWOOD WINS NATIONAL AWARD

(above, l-r) Pam Gabel, Dir. of Community Relations; John Yumang, Dir. of Building Services; Aurelie Ngoufack, Dir. of Health Services; Karen Simpson, Dir. of Food Services; Laura Parizeau, Concierge; Annette Watson, Executive Director; Kim Wolf, Dir. of the Country Cottage; Arlene Nelson, Business Office Manager; Jane Pritsker, Dir. of Lifestyles.

The National Center for Assisted Living (NCAL) recently announced that The Chelsea at Fanwood, 295 South Avenue, was selected for the National Assisted Living Week Program of the Year for its fabulous Assisted Living Week program in September 2017.

The Fanwood community embodied the theme "Family is Forever" by holding a family barbeque on Grandparent's Day, painting an outdoor family tree mural, hosting a family talent show, and creating a cookbook with passed-down family recipes. The Chelsea at Fanwood also embraced community involvement by holding fundraisers for the Fanwood Fire Department and Rescue Squad and Alzheimer's New Jersey. Additionally, children from a local daycare/preschool visited to participate in a scavenger hunt to unearth inspirational messages from one generation to another.

"I am so proud of our team," said Annette Watson, Executive Director of the Chelsea at Fanwood. "Their hard work on behalf of our residents is a reality every single day, not just during Assisted Living Week. We are honored to win this national recognition."

The American Health Care Association and National Center for Assisted Living (AHCA/NCAL) represent more than 13,000 skilled nursing centers, assisted living communities, sub-acute centers and homes for individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities. Each year, NCAL recognizes outstanding programs and individuals who are selected from hundreds of applicants.

The award winners will be recognized at the 69th Annual AHCA/NCAL Annual Convention & Expo in San Diego, California on October 7-10, 2018.

HOMETOWN HEROES BANNER PROGRAM

St. Bartholomew the Apostle Church, the Township of Scotch Plains, the Borough of Fanwood, American Legion Post 209, and Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 10122 have partnered to honor local veterans by lining the main streets with banners picturing our veterans and noting their branch and years of service.

The banner program seeks to recognize Scotch Plains/Fanwood veterans (living and deceased) and active duty military who have served in the U.S. Army, Navy, Marines, Air Force, Coast Guard, Merchant Marines, or Women's Airforce Service Pilots (WWII).

"This project came about because one person thought we should honor our veterans in the same way some of our surrounding towns have. We approached the mayors of Scotch Plains and Fanwood and within minutes got an emphatic yes," said Elaine Coupe, Director of Community (left) One of the Hometown Heroes banners that will be lining the main streets of Scotch Plains and Fanwood. The banners honor Scotch Plains/Fanwood veterans and active duty military.

Outreach at St. Bartholomew Church. "This community loves our veterans and this is the perfect way to show how proud we are."

Families can honor their loved ones by submitting an application and photo. There will also be a special luncheon hosted by the community on Veterans Day, November 11, 2018, to celebrate.

If you are a veteran, or a family member of a veteran, and would like an application, contact Elaine Coupe at SPFHeroes@gmail.com, (908) 322-5192 ext 141, or stop by St. Bartholomew Church rectory to pick up a copy.

This program will be funded by private donations so that there is no fee to the veteran to participate. If you would like to help our local veterans, a tax deductible donation can be made by credit card: membership.faithdirect.net/givenow/NJ844/28975.

Checks can be made payable to St. Bartholomew the Apostle Church (with "Hometown Heroes" in memo line) and mailed to: Elaine Coupe

JOSEPH NAGY AND EDWARD MILLER RECEIVE UNITY AWARD

Fifteen individuals and seven organizations recently received the Union County Human Relations Commission's prestigious Unity Award for Achievement, an honor given to role models who dedicate their time and efforts to activities and programs that raise and honor the human spirit.

The awards were handed out during a special presentation held at the Kean University's STEM Building in Union Township on May 7, 2018. The 2018 awards marked the 17th year in which the Commission has named honorees.

Fanwood residents Joseph Nagy and Edward Miller received the Unity Award for Achievement by Military/Veteran. They were recognized for "incredible life-altering service to our country, and for carrying all of us on your shoulders for a lifetime."

Below is preprinted from the event's program.

JOSEPH NAGY, WWII UNITED STATES ARMY & UNITED STATES ARMY RESERVE VETERAN

Longtime Fanwood resident Joseph Nagy was born to immigrants from Hungary. His father had only a third grade education and worked with his hands.

Joe originally worked in nearby Perth Amboy in the clay industry before being drafted into the Army in 1943. He spent two years in military training at Fort Dix before the age of 20 to aid in America's efforts to win WWII.

After Fort Dix, he bounced around, first spending 90 days in Texas working in the Tank

Destroyer Battalion, and then in a unit in South Carolina where he learned to toughen up and live outdoors. When his South Carolina unit was dismantled in 1944, he was sent to Mississippi to train to become an infantry replacement. Shortly after, he was sent abroad.

He joined the occupying force in Japan in 1945, just one month after the atomic bombs were dropped. Joe's unit conducted operations to bring peace and tranquility to Japan. Joe has reported that Japan was badly devastated, and Tokyo was gone. He said that when the bomb was dropped in Hiroshima and 120,000 people disappeared, he recognized the futility of the war in that moment.

When Joe returned home, he remained in the United States Army Reserves for 23 years. He married Claire, his wife of 66 years, and they had three sons.

A resident of Fanwood for over 50 years, Joe has been a prominent citizen in Fanwood for decades, having served as its mayor, historian, treasured volunteer, and ultimate involved citizen. A longtime member of the Historic Preservation Commission, he is the town's historian, and co-wrote a book about the borough. He helped to start Fanwood's TV-35 Community Television, and served on the Scotch Plains Fanwood Scholarship Foundation. He can be found these days as a volunteer tour guide for school children at Fanwood's historic train station museum.

EDWARD MILLER, WWII UNITED STATES ARMY AIR CORPS VETERAN

Edward Miller, another longtime Fanwood resident, was originally a native of Kearny. He had just finished high school in 1943 when he was drafted into the Army Air Corps.

The Army needed machinists, and while in high school, Ed had worked for a fellow who made model airplane engines, which gave him a little experience. Part of the sixth aircraft repair unit in San Antonio, Texas, following basic training and 17 weeks of machinist school, Ed worked alongside civilians in the Army's biggest repair station to ready equipment for the war.

By late 1944, he found himself deployed to the island of Palawan in the Philippines to aid the American fight against Japan during World War II. Ed was part of the fifth fighter squadron in support of the Chinese.

Ed was assigned to the floating Air Depot of the Pacific to combat Japanese aggression in the South China Sea. Their sole focus was to support the planned invasion of Japan.

Upon his return home following victory, Ed moved to Fanwood and worked in a steel manufacturing plant in nearby Garwood.

He successfully earned his degree in math and science from Jersey City State College.

Joe Nagy and Edward Miller served as co-Grand Marshalls of the 2017 Scotch Plains-Fanwood Memorial Day Parade.

REMEMBERING GEORGE WEISS, FANWOOD COMMUNITY TV ICON

Submitted by Tom Kranz

George Weiss, who made community television for Fanwood possible for more than 20 years, died on Saturday, August 18, 2018, in Virginia.

George was predeceased by his wife Betty whom he married in 1955. The family resided in Fanwood for 50 years. George moved to Herndon, Va., in 2015, where he lived until his death.

Here's the story we did about George when he retired from his role with Fanwood TV in 2015 as published on fanwoodnj.org.

In the annals of lives well-lived, George Weiss will surely have his own Hall of Fame. Sitting in his comfortable chair in his apartment at The Chelsea of Fanwood assisted living residence, Mr. Weiss still gets agitated talking about ads that violate the rules of graphic design.

"All caps is no good," he said with conviction. "Upper and lower case is easier to read."

And so it continues for Mr. Weiss who made a living for decades designing, writing and printing ads for newspapers, circulars and magazines, then teaching others how to do it in seminars that took him to 48 of the 50 states. From the days of using hot lead to create type to modern day digital graphic design and video, he has lived through almost the entire evolution of communications media.

"I've written two books," he said while thumbing through one.

At 87, Weiss remembers with remarkable clarity every turn of his life, from his youth playing the tuba at Plainfield High School to his 20-plus years as Fanwood's chief videographer, editor and television producer, the job he last retired from in 2014. A self-taught graphic designer, Weiss learned his craft in the 1950's at a Newark printing company that did grocery store circulars. He later got a job at the West Essex Tribune in Livingston where he was Advertising Director for 21 years. He then left for a bigger job in New York City with Metro Associated Services, a company that provided all kinds of services for newspapers including hot lead typesetting, advertising and graphic design.

Along the way, he had several brushes with the celebrities of the time.

"When I played the tuba as a very young man, I did four recording sessions with Paul Whiteman through the musicians' union," he recalls. "At the time, it was just a union job. Later, I tried to find the records, but I never did."

One night in the 1960's, while out to dinner in Hackettstown with his late wife Betty, he met comedian Henny Youngman and singer Dennis Day.

"They were in New Jersey doing grand openings and ribbon-cuttings for a hundred dollars each," said Weiss. "Dennis Day was doing a show at the Paper Mill Playhouse in Milburn and he and I became friends."

Through that friendship, he met Day's sister in law, actress Ann Blythe, whom he accompanied to an event in Beverly Hills during one of his business trips.

"I called my wife and asked her if it was OK," he recalled.

His wife, Betty, died 30 years ago at the age of 58 of kidney failure.

He and his friend Joe Nagy were approached in the early 90's about running Fanwood's new community television station to be established by Suburban Cable, the only cable provider at the time.

"We had help from Bob Merkel of Scotch Plains TV, who taught us how to use a camera and other things," said Weiss, who found used equipment to get the station up and running, a trend that would continue for 20 years.

"I enjoyed doing it," he says. "I carried over my knowledge of graphics to TV."

As the driving force behind Fanwood Community Television, Weiss videotaped hundreds of community events and Council meetings and edited hundreds of programs, many historical in nature, in the small space now called the "studio" on the second floor of the historic Fanwood train station on North Avenue.

"Everything ran on VHS tapes, played back on Panasonic VCRs that ran on an industrial timer that George lashed together to play one tape after the other," said Fanwood Councilman Tom Kranz who is overseeing a modernization of the community television operation. "This is how Fanwood TV has operated for two decades. It's amazing what George was able to do with very little money and donated equipment."

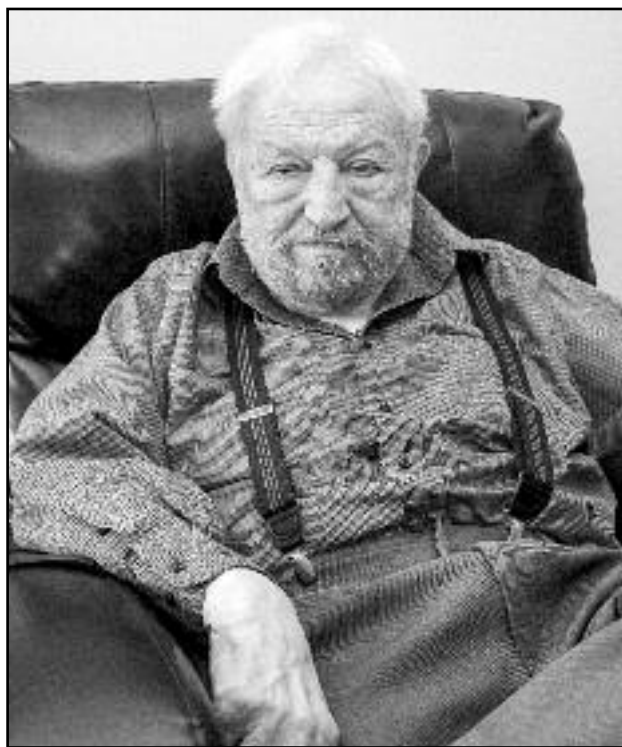

Today, Mr. Weiss enjoys visits from his son, daughter and three grandsons and has started writing a movie script. The concept is still evolving, but it starts with a couple in the 1800's who get trapped in a cave during a storm, live out their lives there and whose bodies are then discovered in modern times.

"I'm still working on the story," he says.

And he is starting a music club at The Chelsea.

"I'm playing what the people here consider to be good music," he said, holding a Mario Lanza CD.

He is enjoying what he calls his 5th retirement at The Chelsea. Who knows what will be next.

FANWOOD CELEBRATES NATIONAL NIGHT OUT

Fanwood's public safety responders opened their vehicles and their hearts to the community on Tuesday evening, August 7th, 2018 for the National Night Out event held in LaGrande Park. Sponsored by the Fanwood Police Department, Fire Department, Rescue Squad and PBA Local 123, the town's first responders gathered their cool police cars, fire trucks and ambulances for kids of all ages to tour and to share public awareness of crime prevention and community involvement.

There were games, a bounce house, giant slide, face painting and free food including hot dogs, donuts, ice pops and beverages. A flash thunderstorm just before it started scared some away initially, but the turnout increased dramatically by 7:30 p.m. and fun was had by all.

Representing the sponsoring agencies were Police Chief Richard Trigo, Fire Chief John Piccola, Rescue Squad President Ed Winsor and Captain Patty Buckridee. Numerous police officers representing PBA Local 123 were also on hand, along with many volunteers of the Fire Department and Rescue Squad. Fanwood Council members Erin McElroy-Barker and Tom Kranz were also on hand.

COLLEGE CLUB WELCOMES PAUL GROOM, PRESENTING "THE BEATLES: THE 'BEAGINNINGS'

Submitted by Carol Lutz

The College Club of Fanwood-Scotch Plains welcomes Scotch Plains resident Paul Groom to present a program about the Beatles. They rose from modest beginnings to become, in their own words "The Toppermost of the Poppermost."

Today, music enthusiasts and historians have begun to look back to the era before they were the Fab Four and before their singles were automatic No. 1's to understand what contributed to their enduring success. Their fine singing, their harmonies, their development as recording artists, their self-deprecating humor, the production of ever more thoughtful and sophisticated songs, and their initial ingenuity at the experience of being successful all contributed to their rise. All of these elements and others came together to place them in the affections of an, at first local, then regional, then national and finally international audience.

Mr. Groom will present the story of their rise from obscurity to the moment when they stood on the verge of International stardom including their changes in personnel, their first ventures into touring, their trips to Hamburg, Germany, the support or otherwise of their families, and finally, their failures and their successes.

Our presenter Paul Groom was born and lived for the first seventeen years of his life in Liverpool, England. He went to the same High School as Paul and George, he went to the same Sunday school as John Lennon, he went to the youth club where John met Paul, he lived in the same village as George and John, and he (of course) is a Beatles fan. Paul and his family are now Scotch Plains residents.

This program is open to the public, is free of charge and will take place on September 24, 2018 at The Fanwood Presbyterian Church, 74 South Martine Avenue, Fanwood (McDermott Street entrance) at 7:30 p.m. after a brief refreshment period.

SERVICE LEAGUE THRIFT SHOP READY FOR FALL

Submitted by Barbara Rappaport

The Fanwood-Scotch Plains Service League Thrift Shop, 1741 E. 2nd St. Scotch Plains, has reopened for the fall season. The shop is ready to take customers from warm fall days and cool nights into the late fall holidays.

Back-to-School and fall clothing for men, women, toddlers and babies is stocked. Accessories are also available. Houseware and linens are readied for indoor activities.

September features designer handbags. Gently used and new bags which cost hundreds in department stores are available at reasonable prices. Don't forget a pair of shoes to go with that bag.

Service League President Carol Marquardt is excited by the upcoming fall-winter season. She notes that the shop has many new, never used items and the "gently" used items are in excellent condition.

The Thrift Shop continues to carry Woman sized clothing from 16 to 20W, XL, (1X) to 2X, (XXL), and Chico sizes.

Thrift shop hours are Tuesday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., and Saturday, 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The Fanwood-Scotch Plains Service League is an all-volunteer, non-profit organization that has served the local communities since 1974. Since its founding, the League has donated more than $1.3 million for local causes.

Anyone interested in learning more about the League or membership is invited to call (908) 322-5420, visit the League's website at scotchplainsthiftshop.weebly.com or speak to any of the volunteers at the Thrift Shop. Checkout the organization's Facebook page, "Fanwood-Scotch Plains Service League," and give the League a "Like."

New and gently-used saleable donations are always welcome during business hours. Free parking is available on the street and in the rear of the building. Visitors may enter the parking lot via Willow Avenue.
