JAMIE LINTON EARNS GOLD AWARD FOR PUPPET PROJECT

The Girl Scout Gold Award is the highest award any Girl Scout can achieve. In order to complete this award, one must have at least 80 hours of work and the project must be everlasting. The Gold Award is meant to improve communities all around the globe.

For her Gold Award, Jamie Linton, age 17, from Troop #65304 in Warren wanted to do something to help younger children who struggle with reading. Many young kids have difficulties reading as they cannot comprehend the story or retain information read. To help out, Jamie made it her mission to build and donate a puppet stand to the Warren Township Library. Puppet shows would offer kids an alternate way to read and hopefully improve upon their comprehension and retention skills.

Jamie began her project by asking Huston Lumber in North Plainfield for a donation of wood to build her puppet stand. She also asked Home Depot in Watchung for supplies such as screws and hinges. After Jamie collected all of her supplies, she contacted her Gold Award Team Member and family friend, Paul Fitzmaurice. He assisted Jamie by making specific cuts in the wood.

After all the pieces were set, Jamie reached out to Warrenville Hardware in Warren. They graciously donated paint for Jamie's puppet stand. Once all of the paint was dry, Jamie and her father worked hard to put together the puppet stand. When the stand was finished, Jamie felt very accomplished, but she was nowhere near done with her project.

With the puppet stand ready, Jamie began to plan her programs for the library. She was to hold three programs using her puppet stand, as she wanted to test the impact of her project on the community. Jamie spent hours writing scripts for her puppet shows, in addition to planning other activities and crafts.

When it came time to purchase materials for her puppet shows, Jamie contacted the Warren Township Lions Club and asked for a grant in partnership. They agreed and provided Jamie with enough money to fund the rest of her Gold Award project. Jamie used this money to purchase a bountiful amount of Melissa and Doug Puppets and craft supplies. She received additional donations from her Team Member, Kristen Glanzman, as well as Fabricland in North Plainfield.

Finally, it came time for Jamie to present her puppet stand to the public. She held three story hours at the library with additional Gold Award Team Members: Amanda Gaensler, Brianna Vetter, Kaitlyn Linton, Liz Askin, and Megan Vetter. All three story hours included two puppet shows, a story, an interactive activity, and a craft. The children enjoyed all the shows, and surveys indicated that the parents were very pleased with the presentations. When Jamie's programs were completed, she donated the puppet stand, the puppets, and the craft supplies to the library.

This project proved to be a great experience for Jamie. She'd like to send out a special thank you to Antonette D'Orazio for being an amazing Project Advisor, as well as librarians Ms. Katie, Ms. Eloise, and Mr. Jonathan for assisting her throughout her project. Finally, Jamie would like to thank all team members and businesses that contributed to her project. She "couldn't have done it without them."

Jamie videotaped all of her puppet shows and posted them on youtube. In the videos, she also discussed how parents and educators can run a similar program at home and in school settings.

A re-dedication was held in September for the Watchung Hills Pop Warner field at the Sports complex in the East County Reserve. The field turf which gets used by multiple sports and the schools in town was replaced after its useful life and that effort was spearheaded by Mick Marion, long time WHPW board member and Township committee member. It was well attended by Mayor Sordillo, Governor DiFrancesco, County Freeholders Township Committee members and local politicians.

The field and sports complex at the East County Reserve was the idea of then President of Watchung Hills Pop Warner, Joe Passaro, who is now Director of Sports and Recreation for the town of Warren.

Joe worked closely with Ray Brown, then Parks Commissioner on this project. Vic Sordillo was instrumental as a representative of Warren Twp. to get this done. This was the first of its kind where a County Parks commission and a private organization joined forces to develop property owned by the county, first in the state and possibly the country.

It has become the model for other programs in the county. In attendance was Jon Butler, Executive Director of Pop Warner International and other Pop Warner officials.

Mr. Passaro stated, "I am very proud of how the organization and the complex has continued to develop over the years...I'd like to thank Andy Marion for his leadership and dedication to WHPW."

Hapkido is a "soft" martial art, in comparison to other "hard" forms such as Karate and Taekwondo. It is distinctive in that it employs a totally defensive philosophy and posture, rather than attacking, aggressive tactics typical of other martial arts. The Hapkido practitioner, employing this defensive posture, can defend himself successfully against aggressive attacks using only his hands. This is to say the enemy can be controlled by purely defensive means. There is no age or gender limitation for a Hapkido practitioner to enjoy the health benefits and confidence of Hapkido. Come and observe!

DIAL-IN TO HEAR A STORY FROM A LIBRARIAN

Librarians read and record new stories weekly, now accessible via phone

Oh, it's Miss Amy reading a story!" exclaimed North Plainfield resident Micah Henry, 5.

Earlier this summer, the Somerset County Library System of New Jersey (SCLSNJ) launched a new service for children - a phone-in storytime, aptly called Dial-a-Story. Librarians system-wide have been taking turns recording weekly stories for Somerset County residents to enjoy from home, from the car, or anywhere they wish.

"Dial-a-Story is a free early literacy service that allows the librarians of SCLSNJ to extend storytime and connect with our youngest patrons - directly in their homes," said Amy Behr youth services department supervisor for SCLSNJ's Warren and Watchung library branches. "It is perfect for bedtime stories, short car trips, or simply spending quality time with your child(ren). Each week - on Friday - listen and follow along to a newly featured book specially selected by your friendly SCLSNJ librarians."

"Dial-a-Story is part of SCLSNJ's SOARING (Supportive Opportunities for Achieving Reading In the Next Generation) initiative," said Jen Fitzgerald, youth services librarian at SCLSNJ's North Plainfield Memorial Library branch.

Continued Fitzgerald, "Decades of research confirms the importance of reading aloud to foster children's development and learning. Dial-a-Story is another way for Somerset County children to hear books read aloud to them in addition to our collection of Vox books, playaways, and CD books. And, of course, we encourage all parents and caregivers to use print and eBooks to read aloud to their children as well."

SCLSNJ's SOARING initiative is designed to help parents navigate early childhood programming and resources, learn the different strategies used to support early literacy through each developmental stage, and replicate those strategies at home. The newest offering within the Library's SOARING suite of services is thus far a big hit.

"My 6-year-old daughter Mikayla loves Dial-a-Story. After I dialed and gave her the phone she was elated to hear the familiar read aloud. Excitedly she shouted 'I love this story, Mommy!' When it was finished I received more hugs and thank-you's than I knew what to do, just for dialing the number. Now she dials up on her own. Can't wait for the new story every Friday," said North Plainfield resident Kesha Carter.

Even older children are enjoying the service. "My son is 9 years old and reads at a high school level, and he found this thrilling," said North Plainfield resident Janet Costello.

Some previously recorded and heard storybooks have included "Creepy Carrots" by Aaron Reynolds, "The Book with No Pictures" by B.J. Novak, "Pete the Cat and His Four Groovy Buttons" by Eric Litwin, illustrated by James Dean, "Bark George" by Jules Feiffer, "Five Little Monkeys Reading in Bed" by Eileen Christelow, "The Pout-Pout Fish" by Deborah Diesen, "Thunder Boy Jr." by Sherman Alexie, "Dill & Bizzy Opposite Day" by Nora Ericson, and "Outside Over There" by Maurice Sendak.

To listen to a story read by one of your favorite SCLSNJ librarians, call 908-458-8409. To learn more, visit SCLSNJ.org.

STOPIT TO EMPOWER AND PROTECT STUDENTS

WARREN MONTHLY • Page 11 • November 2018

Warren Middle School (WMS) has enrolled with STOPit, the leading technology platform for schools that deters and controls harmful or inappropriate conduct. STOPit empowers students with an easy app to safely and anonymously report anything of concern to school officials – from cyberbullying to threats of violence or self-harm. STOPit empowers students to stand up for themselves and others while giving school officials the insight they need to keep students safe.

“Schools are statistically a safe place, however no school is immune to violence, thoughts of self-harm or other internal or external threats. STOPit is another piece in our prevention and mitigation program to make our schools even safer,” said Mr. Ron Berry, Warren Township Schools Security Manager.

With STOPit, students can submit anonymous reports containing text, photos, or video. School officials are then able to manage incidents in a backend management system called DOCUMENTit. DOCUMENTit will provide efficient and powerful investigative tools, including the ability to message with the reporter, which will allow school officials to address issues instantly.

STOPit does more than just help schools address incidents and mitigate risk. STOPit will also help school officials and staff go beyond reacting to bullying and inappropriate behavior, and instead start deterring it. As young people continue to engage more with technology every day, Warren Township Schools are taking a proactive step to empower the middle school students to become Upstanders within their community in the way that they feel most comfortable. Warren Township School’s administrative team believes the adoption of STOPit is an important step in the continued effort to provide a positive school climate and a safe learning environment for all students.

Warren Middle School’s STOPit program launched on October 17, 2018.
