JESSICA MORAN AND KRISTEN SPLAINE AWARDED SCHOLARSHIPS

Submitted by Carolyn Sayre

Every year the Berkeley Heights Volunteer Rescue Squad awards scholarships to outstanding cadet and college members who demonstrate exceptional service and volunteerism in the community. The Rescue Squad is pleased to announce that the scholarship recipients for 2019 are Jessica Moran (cadet member) and Kristen Splaine (college member).

Jess has been a member of the Rescue Squad since April 2018. A few months later she took the initiative to enroll in EMT school and became the first and only cadet to receive her EMT certification that year. That fall she also became Co-Cadet Captain of the BHVRS.

Outside of EMS, Jess has a passion for leading others at her high school, the Academy for Allied Health Sciences (AAHS) in Scotch Plains, NJ, where she serves as Class President. Jess is a member of numerous honors societies and clubs, and she has received countless awards and honors. To highlight one, Jess is highly involved in her school's chapter of Health Occupation Students of America (HOSA), and last summer, Jess received first place at the International conference in Dallas, TX for Creative Problem Solving. Most recently, she was named Salutatorian of her graduating class.

To further pursue her passion for health care, Jess is an intern at Robert Wood Johnson University Hospital (RWJUH) in Rahway where she rotates through various departments in the hospital. During the summer of 2019, she will also complete an internship with NJ Assemblyman Jon Bramnick where she plans to learn valuable business and communication skills. She aspires to become a physician and later move to the management department of a hospital. Jess will attend Seton Hall University in the fall for a 7-year Joint BS/MD medical program, business management degree from the Stillman School of Business, and the Buccino Leadership Institute, a highly selective, certificate leadership program within the business school.

"Jess is always the first one to step up and take on extra responsibility. She is a team player and always goes above and beyond for the community. She found a passion in medicine while being a member of the squad and has flourished," says Allie Deegan, EMT, Deputy Chief of the BHVRS.

Kristen has been a member of BHVRS since the summer of 2017. She joined the Rescue Squad as a rising sophomore at the University of Connecticut where she is majoring in Allied Health Sciences with a minor in Biology. After being a part of the Rescue Squad for only a year, Kristen was promoted to a regular member. Kristen is currently an intern at BHVRS for the summer, which includes being on call twice a week and extra weekend shifts to ensure the squad can provide full coverage to the town of Berkeley Heights.

Outside of EMS, Kristen excels in her studies and has been recognized as being on the Dean's List every semester she has attended thus far for her academic achievements. Kristen also spends her time as a research assistant with the Korey Stringer Institute (KSI) at UConn, which focuses on human performance and wearable technology for athletes. KSI has worked in conjunction with numerous other organizations on research projects in the past that Kristen has assisted on, such as the U.S. Air Force, U.S. Army, and CamelBak. She also just finished a year on the executive board for her sorority, Alpha Chi Omega as the Vice President of Recruitment Information. Kristen is now entering her senior year of college and applying to graduate schools to start her journey of becoming a Physician's Assistant.

"Kristen is a knowledgeable and compassionate EMT and an exceptional crew member. While interacting with patients, we get to see the compassionate and empathetic side of Kristen. She is an incredibly caring person and really knows how to make people comfortable. While Kristen normally works her shifts with me, other members are always pleased to work with her and cannot compliment her enough," says Allie Deegan, EMT, Deputy Chief of the BHVRS.

SUSTAINABLE BERKELEY HEIGHTS RECEIVES VOLUNTEER AWARD

On May 23, 2019, the Berkeley Heights Innovation and Sustainability Alliance (a/k/a Sustainable Berkeley Heights) received the 2019 Volunteer Award from the New Jersey Clean

Communities Council (NJCCC) at the 16th Annual Clean Communities Conference held at the Nassau Inn in Princeton, NJ.

The Volunteer Award is one of NJCCC's Stewardship of Public Lands Awards that recognizes outstanding efforts to promote clean communities by engaging volunteers in clean ups of public lands. Sustainable Berkeley Heights, a new non-profit formed at the beginning of this year, received the Volunteer Award as a result of the very first event that it hosted, the town-wide litter clean up of an approximately quarter-mile section of Passaic River Park held earlier this year on March 17 that attracted over 40 people, including members of Cub Scout Pack 368, Girl Scouts Bluebirds Troop 40568, their parents, and others of all ages from the community.

Sustainable Berkeley Heights hosted this clean up event as an opportunity to foster community engagement, appeal to people of all ages, and result in everyone who participated feeling like they each helped to make an impactful difference. The event was a huge success, meeting this objective while ridding Berkeley Heights of hundreds of pounds of trash.

"We are honored that NJCCC selected our new start-up non-profit to receive this award," said Kim Diamond, President of Sustainable Berkeley Heights. "The Berkeley Heights community is truly a model community in terms of its residents' high level of participation in litter management efforts, including litter clean ups. Sustainable Berkeley Heights looks forward to continuing to offer initiatives that both benefit our community and engage its residents."

The mission of Sustainable Berkeley Heights is to develop, promote, and implement solutions that will leverage the Berkeley Heights community's strengths to improve the environment, accelerate innovation, actualize sustainability measures, foster collaboration among community members, and transform the Berkeley Heights community into a smart city for future generations. The organization looks forward to hosting future events and partnering with other local groups, businesses, and government entities to achieve this purpose.

The NJCCC, the entity that administers New Jersey's Adopt-A-Beach and Adopt-A-Highway programs, works together with the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection and the New Jersey Department of Treasury to administer the state's Clean Communities program in 558 municipalities and 21 counties. In addition to its statewide public information program regarding litter abatement, the NJCCC tracks local programs and their successes in satisfying this litter abatement objective.

LOCAL PEOPLE WITH DISABILITIES ENJOY PROM NIGHT

In this season of high school proms, one stood out. The prom goers were dressed to the nines, the lights were low and the music loud and the dance floor beckoned. Yet these prom goers were not teenagers but rather adults with developmental disabilities.

Dozens of members of Community Access Unlimited attended this annual special prom held at the agency's headquarters. CAU is a Union County-based, statewide nonprofit that strives to integrate people with disabilities and at-risk youth into the general community through comprehensive supports.

This year's prom was CAU member Steven Agolia's fourth and he said he looks forward to the evening every year.

"I wanted to come tonight to mingle and see some old friends," he said. "Socialization is important, being with people who care about you and meeting new people."

Randy Mercado and Mary Jane French have been dating for years and were one of the many couples who took to the dance floor.

"We're a couple," Mercado said when asked why they came to the event. "I like the food and I like to dance."

CAU's prom is hosted by its member self-advocacy program, Helping Hands.

"I think it's great we do this for the members," said Juana Quinn, an officer of Helping Hands who never had a prom when she was in high school. "That's the sad thing about being disabled. Most of the members never had a chance to go to prom because people think it's not important to us. But it is."

To learn more about CAU, visit caunj.org or follow CAU on Facebook, Twitter and Instagram.

ABOUT COMMUNITY ACCESS UNLIMITED

Community Access Unlimited (CAU), celebrating its 40th year in 2019, supports people with special needs in achieving real lives in the community. CAU provides support and gives voice to adults and youth who traditionally have little power in society. CAU helps people with housing, life skills, employment, money management, socialization and civic activities. CAU also supports opportunities for advocacy through training in assertiveness, decision-making and civil rights. CAU currently serves more than 5,000 individuals and families, with the number served growing each year.

For more information about CAU and its services, contact us by phone at 908-354-3040, online at caunj.org or by mail at 80 West Grand Street, Elizabeth, NJ 07202.
