SCOUT UNITS WELCOMED BY GLORIA DEI LUTHERAN CHURCH

Submitted by Joe Basralian

Gloria Dei Lutheran Church in Chatham is the new Charter Organization of Boy Scout Troop 28, BSA Troop 280, and Venture Crew 28, effective January 1, 2020.

The three scouting units are delighted to be welcomed by Gloria Dei, a thriving community with beautiful facilities at 300 Shunpike Avenue, near the entrance to Cougar Fields.

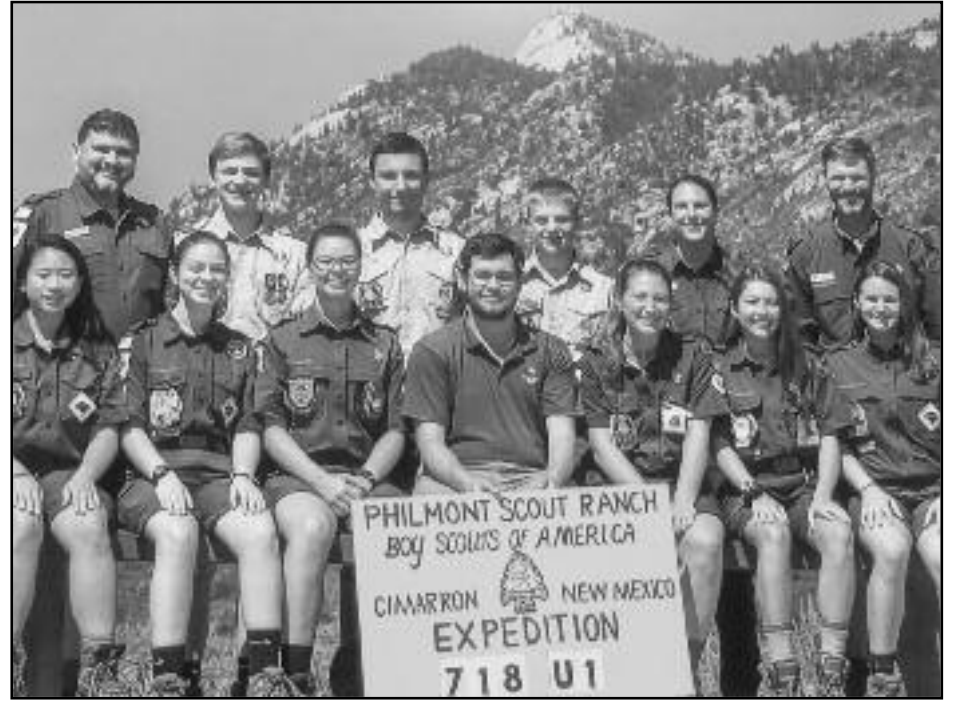

“With change comes great opportunity, and we’re very excited for the abundant new possibilities,” said Bob Willmot, Scoutmaster for Boy Scout Troop 28.

Troop 28 has been chartered with Stanley Congregational Church in Chatham for 83 years since the Troop’s founding in 1936. Well over a thousand Scouts in that time have come through the program, which builds young people’s character, capabilities, and confidence as they grow towards adulthood. Venture Crew 28 formed in 2016, and BSA Troop 280 for girls formed in early 2019. Scouts assume leadership roles in their communities and nation and learn to live by a strong moral code – including being Trustworthy, Loyal and Helpful -- throughout their lives.

Boy Scout Troop 28 consists of boys ages 11-17; BSA Troop 280 is for girls ages 11-17; and Venture Crew 28 is currently girls ages 14-20. BSA is a branding of the Boy Scouts of America.

“We are thrilled to welcome these three Scouting troops to Gloria Dei,” said Council Vice President, Brian Dempsey. “The positive feedback we received from congregation members and leadership allowed the approval process to move quickly. We wanted to make sure this was a good fit for both sides and we expect the transition to be a smooth one.”

As one of the nation’s largest youth and service non-profits, the Boy Scouts of America work extensively in their communities and assist with some of the service projects and needs of their charter organizations. Gloria Dei will also be the units’ meeting place and launching pad for their adventures, which range from wilderness camping, boating and rock climbing, to skill building across a wide variety of arenas, from backwoods engineering to entrepreneurship to veterinary medicine and much more.

“Scouting has given me invaluable lessons and important life experience,” said Luka Batljan, who recently achieved the prestigious rank of Eagle Scout with Troop 28.

In 2019, BSA allowed girls to form Troops, in the way boys have done in America since 1910. “Since Troop 280 formed early this year, the girls have done so many amazing things together as Scouts,” said Scoutmaster Daniele Basralian. “As a parent and adult Scout leader, I can’t wait to see what the future brings.”

Always on the lookout for new experiences, Venture Crew 28 completed a 100-mile high adventure hiking expedition at the Philmont Scout Ranch in New Mexico over the summer. “It was a dream come true,” said Kate Lama, President of the Venture Crew.

Richard Olmsted, who has been associated with Troop 28 as a Scout or Adult Leader since joining Boy Scouts in 1957, said, “We’re very grateful to Stanley Congregational Church. They’ve always been there for us. Without the parish and its members, Troop 28 couldn’t have thrived all these years.”

The Boy Scouts of America is one of the nation’s largest and most prominent values-based youth development organizations, providing programs for young people that build character and skills for life.

KIWANIS CLUB AWARDS OUTSTANDING KEY CLUB MEMBERS

Submitted by Justin Montanaro

The Kiwanis Club of the Chathams/Madison held their yearly awards ceremony, where they recognize outstanding members of the Key Club from Chatham and Madison High School.

The recipient for Madison High School was senior Nicolette Cilenti, president of the Madison High School Key Club. Nikki has been an active member of the club and a member of the Key Club executive board throughout high school. She engages fellow members during meetings, helping build a record breaking roster of over 100 members! Always leading by example, board members look to her as the heart and soul of the Key Club. Her projects have included the Students Change Hunger food drive, which has directly impacted 3,000 people in need in the community. She has also helped gather donations for the Covenant House, socks for the homeless, and roses for the Valerie Fund on Valentine's Day. Breakfast with Santa, Red Cross Blood Drives, and UNICEF fundraising are just a few other of her countless projects with the club. Her ability to do this on top of her full course load, varsity sports, and other extracurricular activities are what has led to her being a recipient of this great award.

The recipient for Chatham High School was Will O'Neil, president of the Chatham High School Key Club. His organization, responsiveness, and leadership has helped land him his role, as well as the outstanding Key Club Member award. He continues to provide innovative ideas, helping brainstorm with club members various fundraising and charitable ideas. Most significantly the great success of meeting, and exceeding, the Outreach Program's meal packing goals.

As always, the Kiwanis Club is honored to present these awards to our local high school Key Club Members. We look forward to a bright future of working together to help the community. Happy Holidays to all!

THE CHATHAM HISTORICAL SOCIETY IS NOW ON INSTAGRAM

Submitted by Marianne Ivers

It is a new age for the Chatham Historical Society as it recently opened its own Instagram account @chathamhistory. The social media outlet is the perfect place to share the rich history of the borough, which is an important part of the organization's mission statement. It also serves as a medium to reach a large number of people concerning the upcoming community events sponsored by the society.

President Helen Ann Rosenfeld started posting on Instagram in July and thus far has received a lot of positive feedback. "The most popular posts deal with the architecture of Chatham and how neighborhoods developed. I actually have a long list of houses to post, but the most difficult part is getting a good front photo of the home," she explained.

Just as interesting are posts that explore the people and events that shaped Chatham into the borough we know today.

The society invites anyone to Direct Message the account if there is something you would like to see posted. And don't forget to follow us on Instagram @chathamhistory.

(left) The Page Felt Mill manufactured roofing paper. George S. Page owned hundreds of acres of land stretching along the Passaic River. In the background, you can see Martin's Villa, home to Chatham's other millionaire and Page's rival William Martin. To compete, Page built his own mansion that he called "Hillside" which gave the name to the avenue leading to his home.

(above) Avenue was named after Benjamin P. Lum who started the brick industry in Chatham about 1835. Around 1870, this neighborhood was developed by the New York Homestead Association who laid out small 50 x 65 lots. Representatives then met Irishmen, fleeing Ireland's Great Potato Famine, at the ports and invited them to buy one of the lots with the promise that jobs were available for the Irish at Lum's brickyard. The sales pitch worked and for many years the neighborhood was known as "Dublin". Some of the original houses still stand, recognizable by their front gable, returns on the eaves and rounded top window. This fine example was built about 1875.

(above) Who would demolish this mansion? "Broadview" was the most imposing home on Fairmount Avenue. It was built at the end of the 19th Century as the country estate of James Gifford, a Newark attorney. In 1940, the mansion, with expansive grounds, was sold to Mr. and Mrs. William Hatt. The property had a frontage on Fairmount Avenue of 700 feet and a depth of over 1,000 feet, consisting of about 15 beautifully planted acres. The intention of the Hatt's was to dismantle the Gifford residence and cut a street through from Fairmount Avenue to Washington Avenue, opening up the property for 29 building lots. Mr. Hatt died before the project was started, but his wife Beryl saw the plan through and Broadview was lost to development.

The Chatham Senior Advisory Committee (CSAC) held its organizational meeting on November 14, 2018.

The CSAC was named by Chatham Borough Council Resolution #19-306 at a regular Council meeting on October 28, 2019. The Committee was formed to address the needs of the ever-increasing population of senior citizens in Chatham. Specifically, the Resolution has tasked the Committee with:

-Establishing a strategy that engages and supports the diverse groups of seniors working and living in the Borough of Chatham.

-Identifying the various segments of our senior community and developing methods of communication to best reach them with information regarding available programs and ways they can be constructively engaged.

-Identifying and communicating to the Borough Council the issues and opportunities related to our senior community and associated recommendations for decisions and actions.

-Designing and executing programs and projects befitting the senior community and, when appropriate, cooperating and collaborating with related organizations and governments on priority projects.

The CSAC thanks John Crouthamel of Tri-Town 55 as being the impetus in the formation of this important committee. Named to the committee, alongside John Crouthamel, are Barbara Montague, Nelson Hunt, Bill Fuller, Joyce Martinsen, Len Resto with the Hon. Vicki Fife as Council Liaison. At the organizational meeting, Len Resto was named "interim president" with John Crouthamel as Vice-President and Barb Montague as Recording Secretary. The Committee plans to meet the 3rd Thursday of each month at 2:00 p.m. at Chatham Borough Hall located at 54 Fairmount Ave. and the public is welcome to attend our meetings.

Our next meeting will take place on January 16, 2020 at 2:00 p.m. in Room 301 at Borough Hall. If you would like to volunteer your services, have ideas or wish to get additional information, please contact Len Resto via email at lenresto@optonline.net or by phone at 973-635-5373. You do not have to be a Borough resident to join. In fact, we are hoping this can become more of a regional committee because the needs are similar no matter which municipality a senior resides in. In addition, you do not have to be a senior to participate. If you are a young person with an interest in seniors or just want to help, by all means, please volunteer. If you cannot reach Len when you call, please leave a message and he will get back to you.

The Committee is excited about the endless possibilities we can offer seniors and we hope you will consider volunteering your time.

BOOK CLUB DISCUSSES MEMBER'S BOOK: AS LONG AS IT'S PERFECT

Submitted by Lisa Tognola

On November 25, 2019, a book club that started in Chatham nearly 15 years ago gathered to discuss a book by one of its own members, Lisa Tognola. In 2007, Lisa and her husband, Chris, knocked down a house and built a new one when the U.S. was on the brink of financial collapse. Their experience, fraught with anxiety and risk, inspired some of the scenes in her debut novel As Long As It's Perfect (October, 2019, She Writes Press)—a story about one woman's obsession with perfection and how far she'll go to get what she wants, no matter the cost to herself and her family. Lisa's book deals with relatable human traits and emotions: the effects of envy and desire, the intricacies of marriage, obsession with perfection, and what that does to a person and their loved ones—topics that Lisa says generated lively discussion at the recent book club meeting.

Lisa, an original member of the group, credits her book club with providing her the encouragement and support she needed to publish her novel, a journey she says took twelve years. "The members of our group have experienced a number of hardships, joys and sorrows over the years," says Lisa. "Life can be turbulent and unpredictable, but our book club has remained a stable force in all of our lives. We nosh, we sip wine, we chat, and we support one another. We're more than just members. We're friends."

THURSDAY MORNING CLUB SCHOLARSHIP AWARDED

The Thursday Morning Club (TMC) of Madison, NJ is a non-profit organization of women dedicated to community improvement by enhancing the lives of others through volunteer service. This year TMC created a scholarship to fund the completion of an Associate's or Bachelor's College Degree or to obtain a Certificate of Training. Eligible applicants had a high school diploma or GED and were clients participating in the Dress for Success Program (DFS), an organization that empowers women to achieve economic independence by providing a network of support, professional attire and development tools to help women thrive in work and life. The scholarship is for education-related expenses incurred during the pursuit of a degree or certification. The scholarship is renewable.

TMC and DFS recently awarded the first annual TMC Scholarship to Simone Roelli. Ms. Roelli was born in Brazil, only spoke Portuguese as a child, and had very little formal education before coming to the United States. Once in this country, Ms. Roelli completed ESOL coursework; received her GED; completed an Associate Degree in Business Administration; and is currently a full-time student at Rutgers, Newark, where she anticipates completing her B.S. in Accounting by May 2020.

In her acceptance speech, Ms. Roelli noted the many obstacles she faced and acknowledged that she found a "village" to help her realize her dreams. Ms. Roelli thanked the Literacy Volunteers of Morris County for the tutor that they assigned her. This tutor, who still helps her to this day, helped Ms. Roelli to understand her assignments in her English-based college courses. Ms. Roelli also thanked Dress for Success. Ms. Roelli explained that through her participation in the financial theory program, attending monthly meetings and other programs, DFS gave her the confidence to set and meet realistic goals. Lastly, Ms. Roelli thanked the Thursday Morning Club. This scholarship will allow her to complete her college education and obtain the degree that she has spent many years pursuing.

The scholarship was presented by Thursday Morning Club President Susan Packie and Scholarship Committee Chair Bernadette Grohol. Also in attendance were Scholarship Committee members Kathy Trombacco, Sharon Kapica, Carol Schessler, and Dress for Success Executive Director, Kimberly Iozzi.

Organized in 1896, TMC is a member of both the New Jersey State and General Federation of Women's Clubs. The club offers programs and services to support the community, and its Community House provides a home for a number of sports, recreation, civic groups and the Madison Community House Preschool. The Thursday Morning Club is a non-profit service organization with over 260 members whose goal is to provide services for the town of Madison and neighboring communities.

For information about the Thursday Morning Club or membership, call the Community House at 973-377-0244 or visit TMCCH.org.
