TRI-M MUSIC HONOR SOCIETY INDUCTION

Submitted by Denis Kelly

Thirty-eight student singers and/or instrumentalists were inducted as either Returning Members or Newly Inducted Members at this year's Tri-M Music Honor Society induction Ceremony, held in February at Watchung Hills Regional High School.

WHRHS Music Teacher DiIorio Bird welcomed all to the induction ceremony, saying: "The students you see here before you have been selected to be a part of this very prestigious group based on their passion, dedication and devotion to our music department. As chapter advisor it is a sincere pleasure to work with such talented students. The rigorous audition and selection process was in no way easy. I am confident that this strong and highly selective group will do all they can this year to share their talents, not only for the Watchung Hills' student body but also for the community."

The New Jersey Division of Consumer Affairs is alerting consumers to be aware of a number of apparent scams related to COVID-19. To avoid this and some of the tactics being reported as possible scams, the Division recommends:

Don't let CDC imposters into your home. Representatives from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention are not going door-to-door seeking information or conducting surveillance on COVID-19. Imposters should be reported to local authorities and the Division.

Don't fall for fake cures. Beware of in-store or online advertisements for products that claim to cure or prevent COVID-19 or other similar offers. No cure or preventative medicine has been approved for sale.

Look out for phishing emails. Cybercriminals may take advantage of global concern and interest in COVID-19 to try to convince email recipients to open links or attachments that may direct them to malicious websites or deliver malware. Stay away from COVID-19 related information that does not come from a trusted source, to avoid exposing your personal information.

Keep in mind not everything online may be factual. The internet is full of information, but be mindful of its accuracy. As false reports spread regarding the origination and spread of COVID-19, rely only on trusted sources for information.

Be wary of unsolicited calls. Whether they are offering health insurance, including to supplement Medicare or Medicaid benefits, or a cure or treatment for COVID-19, refrain from sharing your personal information over the phone, unless you have initiated the call.

Avoid internet adoption scams. Scammers are falsely misrepresenting themselves as CDC employees, and asking victims to send money overseas to adopt a pet being held at a quarantine station. The CDC does not quarantine pets or would not ask for payment to bring an animal into the U.S.

JEFF DEALAMAN NAMED WHRHS 2019-2020 TEACHER OF THE YEAR

Submitted by Denis Kelly

Watchung Hills Regional High School (WHRHS) Social Studies and Special Education Teacher Jeff Dealaman has been selected the 2019-2020 Teacher of the Year.

Dealaman is not only a member of the faculty, he is a 1998 graduate of WHRHS, as are his parents, George and Sue, who are both members of the Class of 1968. In addition, the Teacher of the Year's wife, Karen Dealaman, teaches Mathematics at WHRHS. He said they met at a community social event in a neighboring town in the Fall of 2006, and started their relationship from that point.

They live in Warren Township, and have three children, Bennett, age 9, and Owen, 7, who are students at Central School in the Warren Township School District, and Wyatt, 4, who will be joining his brothers at Central as a kindergartener in the fall.

Jeff Dealaman received his bachelor's degree from the University of Hartford, West Hartford, Conn., and his master's degree in Special Education from New Jersey City University, Jersey City.

Dealaman splits his teaching duties between teaching American History with the Social Studies Department, and teaching American History and World History with the Special Services Department. In addition to his teaching duties, he is also the Assistant Coach of the WHRHS Girls Basketball Team.

Dealaman said he was informed that he had been selected as this school year's Teacher of the Year during a recent practice of the Basketball Team.

"I was very surprised," he said. "I definitely got choked up a little bit. I am honored and flattered by the selection. It means a lot to me to know that students appreciate me enough to go out of their way to nominate me and write something nice on my behalf."

The Teacher of the Year selection is completed by a combination of nominations that are made and voted on by students, and a committee of faculty members who then select from among the top vote getters.

"It is truly an honor to receive this recognition," Dealaman said. "Watchung Hills is a very special place to me on a personal level. Not only did I graduate from this high school but it's also where my parents met, where I met my wife, Karen, and it's where my three boys will eventually attend high school. To be recognized by the students and staff of Watchung Hills as someone deserving of this award is extremely meaningful to me."

He said that his high school history teachers – Louis Dudas, Anita Falvo and Jim Carden – inspired me to pursue a degree in history from the University of Hartford.

"However, after I graduated, I was unsure of what I wanted to do with that degree," he said. "I did know that I loved sports and working with kids. That summer I became aware of an open coaching position at Watchung Hills with the boys basketball program so I contacted Gene McAteer, the head coach at the time. I was hired to coach the freshman team that winter. Knowing that I would be coaching at the school, I went through the process to become a substitute teacher and started working at Watchung Hills in the fall of 2002. After covering for a variety of different teachers, across many subjects and academic levels, I found myself drawn to working with the school's learning and language disabled (LLD) population."

He said that over the winter break that year, he got a surprising phone call and was informed that one of the school's Special Education teachers was resigning and that he was being offered Emergency Certification to teach their classes for the rest of the school year.

"I excitedly accepted and went on to teach five self-contained biology classes, scrambling to stay one-step ahead of my students by preparing my lessons the night before each class. I also coached the Junior Varsity baseball team that spring."

He said he could not have gotten through that time without the support of some phenomenal teachers and even better people. He listed Sandi Mann, Bonnie Quigley, Laura Goodson and Lydia Chu, among many others.

"I also want to thank the school's Director of Special Education at the time, Dr. Fran Stromsland, the Supervisor of Special Services Marianne Sales, Athletic Director Mario Diez and Principal Tom DiGanci, for believing in me and having the confidence that I would do a good job despite not having an educational background," he said.

He said that for the following two school years, he worked as an instructional aide as he worked toward his teaching certification as a Teacher of the Handicapped and his master's degree in Special Education at New Jersey City University, Jersey City. During this time, Marianne Sales and he worked together to establish Watchung Hills' Transition Coordinator position and build relationships with businesses in the community to expand the Special Service department's school-to-work program for the LLD population.

"Since receiving my teaching certification," Dealaman said, "I have been in the classroom for the past 15 years and moved from boys basketball and baseball to girls basketball and softball. The highlights of my coaching career include winning the softball state championship alongside Mike D'Alessandro in 2016 and serving as the varsity assistant in the girls basketball program with Sandy Whelan and for the last 6 years, Reese Kirchofer."

He has taught a variety of classes over the past 15 years, he said, including: Self-contained History and English courses and co-taught classes in about every department in the school – biology, chemistry, Spanish, English, algebra and geometry. For the past five years, he has had a consistent schedule of two OCR-level US History 1 classes, two LLD History classes and one co-taught US History 1 class.

"My goal has always been to give the students and athletes that I have worked with a positive experience and something that they can look forward to everyday," he said. It is important to me that my students feel comfortable and heard. I want them to know that they have people here at Watchung Hills that they can approach with any issues they are having and that we have a phenomenal group of educators here that care about them. It is flattering and humbling to receive the appreciation from my students and the staff of such a great school community. Thank you to my students, the student-athletes that I've had the pleasure to coach, colleagues, especially my brothers in LOW and my beautiful and amazing wife, Karen. I take great pride in being valued as an educator and member of this great community."

1. ABSOLUTELY FREE...WITH A LIBRARY CARD

There's never been a better time to have a Long Hill Township Library card. If you don't have one, and you are a Long Hill Township resident, you can request a library card online at <https://tinyurl.com/LHTLibraryCard>

During the past several weeks the Long Hill Library has been working diligently to expand our online resources for students, adults, children, teens, and older adults, so that people of all ages can continue to learn, build skills, stay entertained, and remain mentally and physically active during this unprecedented time.

The library offers streaming entertainment through Hoopla and Kanopy. Hoopla provides movies, music, audiobooks, ebooks, comics and TV shows to enjoy on computers, tablets, phones or TVs and has hundreds of thousands of titles to choose from, with more being added daily. Kanopy showcases more than 30,000 of the world's best films, including award-winning documentaries, rare and hard-to-find titles, film festival favorites, indie and classic films, and world cinema with collections from Kino Lorber, Music Box Films, Samuel Goldwyn, The Orchard, The Great Courses, PBS and thousands of independent filmmakers.

As people shelter in place, demand for our online resources has risen dramatically. The only way to access our digital collections is with a library card. Library card holders can take full advantage of online eBooks, magazines, apps, music, movies and more. Pass it on!

2. LONG HILL LIBRARY DELIVERS TO YOUR HOME...DIGITALLY

The Long Hill Township Library wants all Long Hill Township residents to know that the library is here to support you while you are at home. Even though the library building is closed we are still working to provide you with books, newspapers, movies, etc. Usually we do that in person but since that's not possible, we've added more digital products to bring these resources directly into your homes.

Long Hill Township Library patrons now have access to 700,000-plus movies, TV shows, eBooks, audiobooks, comics and music through our new partnerships with Kanopy and Hoopla.

Kanopy, a video-streaming platform, and Hoopla, a web and mobile library media streaming platform, offer content 24/7 with no waiting lists, fees or advertisements, and can be accessed with a valid library card.

Long Hill Township Library patrons typically borrow over 2,000 DVDs per month. Since patrons cannot get to the library to check-out DVDs, the library has brought movies to the patrons. We've added Kanopy and Hoopla because downloadable and streaming media offer patrons immediate access to a broad range of educational and entertainment content, library director Pierre Rosen said.

Kanopy specializes in video streaming, while Hoopla offers movies, music, audiobooks, eBooks, comics and TV shows.

Both platforms can be accessed by downloading the Kanopy and Hoopla apps on desktop and mobile devices. Kanopy and Hoopla apps are supported on iOS, Android, AppleTV, Chromecast, FireTV, Roku, AndroidTV, Google Play and Amazon. These platforms give Long Hill Township patrons access to new digital content anytime, anywhere.

If you have any questions about how to access any of our offerings, need to have your PIN reset, would like to request a library card, etc...Please email the library at librarians@lhtlibrary.mainlib.org and a member of the library staff will contact you.

All you need to access the library digital resources from home are your library bar code number --and a sometimes PIN--.. Your PIN number is usually the last 4 digits of your phone number.

Here are a few of the most popular digital offerings:

- Hoopla <https://www.hoopladigital.com/> Hoopla lets you check out popular movies, music, ebooks, comics and e-audiobooks with convenience and ease.
- Kanopy <https://longhilllibrary.kanopy.com/> Kanopy showcases the world's best films, including award-winning documentaries, rare and hard-to-find titles, film festival favorites, indie and classic films, and world cinema with collections from Kino Lorber, Music Box Films, Samuel Goldwyn, The Orchard, The Great Courses, PBS and thousands of independent filmmakers.

3. THE MONDAY NIGHT BOOK CLUB IS BACK: ONLINE

Monday, May 11, 2020 at 7 PM – 8 PM
The Monday Night Book Club is Back..Online.

The Mountains Sing by Nguyễn Phan Quế Mai' is available now in eBook & eAudio on Hoopla. Free with your library card.

With the epic sweep of Min Jin Lee's Pachinko, The Mountains Sing tells an enveloping, multigenerational tale of the Trần family, set against the backdrop of the Việt Nam War.

Trần Diệu Lan, who was born in 1920, was forced to flee her family farm with her six children during the Land Reform as the Communist government rose in the North. Years later in Hà Nội, her young granddaughter, Hương, comes of age as her parents and uncles head off down the Hồ Chí Minh Trail to fight in a conflict that tore not just her beloved country, but her family apart.

Vivid, gripping, and steeped in the language and traditions of Việt Nam, The Mountains Sing brings to life the human costs of this conflict from the point of view of the Vietnamese people themselves, while showing us the true power of kindness and hope.

4. ZOOM IN ON STRESS & CLUTTER WITH PSYCHOLOGIST DIANE LANE

Saturday, May 2 at 1pm

Many people are beginning to see their living environments with a new perspective. After a long workday, for example, a rumpled couch in an untidy living room can seem like nothing more than a welcome refuge. However, now when we're "confined" to the cluttered rooms of our homes for extended periods, these spaces can get on our nerves, distract us from our work and make us feel anxious. Diane will help us understand the interaction of clutter and stress and help us feel happier and more productive at home.

6. THE LIBRARY IS OPEN ONLINE 24/7.

If you have any questions you can email the library at librarians@lhtlibrary.mainlib.org or call (848) 209-1027 on Monday thru Friday from

CARING CONTACT CONTINUES TO ANSWER CALLS DURING COVID-19 CRISIS

With residents of New Jersey being asked to stay home to fight the spread of Covid-19, many people find themselves feeling isolated and experiencing high levels of anxiety. Caring Contact, a local listening and crisis hotline, continues to help individuals during this difficult time. As a member agency of the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline, Caring Contact cares for those who are in crisis in central and northern New Jersey and acts as a backup to other Lifeline agencies throughout the country. Additionally, they operate a local “warm” line to assist individuals who may not be in crisis but are experiencing stress themselves, with a family member, friend or co-worker.

Approximately 90 volunteers answer the phone lines at Caring Contact. “It has been a challenge during this time to ensure that volunteers are kept safe”, stated Executive Director Janet Sarkos. “All business operations were moved remotely in early March. We’ve altered our hotline operations so that only one listener at any a time is in each of our phone rooms. We are working together as an organization to ensure each phone station and other “common touch areas” are cleaned thoroughly between listeners, to further protect against contamination. It is vital that we continue to answer calls during this time of heightened anxiety”.

But even with these office precautions, Caring Contact has updated their telephone and IT systems so they can now transition many of their volunteers to answer both the Lifeline and the local warm line from remote locations. Call volume is up. We took 2,986 calls in the first quarter last year as compared to 4,012 this year. We’ve been tracking COVID-related calls. In the middle of March 20% of our calls were COVID-related. From 3/29 - 4/12, it had risen to 32%.

If you are interested in learning more about Caring Contact please visit their website at caringcontact.org. If you, or someone you know, is in crisis please call 800.273.8255, 7 days a week, 24 hours a day. If you are feeling isolated and need to talk to someone please call 908.232.2880, 7 days a week from 7 a.m. – 11 p.m. (based on volunteer availability). We are here to listen.

KATYA STEC LAUNCHES ALL AGES OF GEEK

Geek culture knows no bounds. It crosses every social barrier and unites an eclectic group of people who share specific interests. The label, which usually is thrust upon a person, is now worn with pride. Geeks who historically existed at the fringes of the pop culture are now main stream. Their ranks are filled with regular folks. And the nerds of the baby boomer generation have joined the ranks.

The internet has given rise to a secret society. The image of a nerd playing video games in his parents' basement has been shattered. Geeks are among the masses, living, working, and playing next to regular folk. All Ages of Geek is a multimedia production company that speaks to them.

Katya Stec is a self-proclaimed geek from Clark, New Jersey who formed All Ages of Geek in 2019, with the core focus of producing content in tandem with the geek culture. She has been creating videos for eight years and has over 700 episodes posted on her website and on YouTube. She now has over 100,000 subscribers clocking over 20 million views!

Katya, who is a talented voice over artist and writer, is a product of home schooling where she was able to cultivated her interests. Now, at 26 years old, she has a career, doing what she loves.

Throughout 2020 All Ages of Geek will be traveling to several geek culture events, conventions, and expos. They aim at making some of the best high-quality content. At the same time, mass awareness and promotion campaigns would be in swing to set the base for their big launch in January 2021.

Katya has built a team of talented, creative fans who work together in producing podcasts and shows. All Ages of Geek has an article section on their website titled “This Just In.” Their writers, who are from all parts of the world, submit weekly articles covering geek culture events, topics and all forms of creativity.

Currently, they are also producing several video series and podcasts. The company is hopeful of churning out some of the best content and gathering a good base of loyal fans that would engage with the whole community and keep sharing their content to help them amass even more views, exposure, and popularity.

Katya says “Geek culture is what brings the world together. Despite our differences in race, religion, sexuality, and background. One thing is certain about geek culture, it unites us. All Ages of Geek’s mission isn’t just to entertain; it’s to unite the geeks of all ages as part of an interactive community.”

The company has a strong interactive community on YouTube and Twitch. The sense of community is both important and powerful and it does wonders when it comes to promoting the firm in the long run.

Their content spans different genres and caters to kids and adults alike. No doubt, if their vision manages to take the due shape, they are likely to become a massive hit among people, especially anime, video games and Dungeons and Dragons fans alike who would finally feel like they too truly belong.

All Ages of Geek has plenty of free content but viewers can access a lot more features by becoming paid members on Patreon or Twitich. They have over 300 members to date with a goal of 1,000 by 2021. They offer advertising opportunities, and their production team can produce original content for businesses and organizations.

CALLING ALL GEEKS, NERDS, AND GAWKERS

Renna Media is putting a call out to the Geeks among us to appear on their podcast Mind Your Own Local Business. The show will showcase local businesses and people who are starting or growing a business, especially those in creative fields or doing something they have a passion for. Owner, Joe Renna, started his business in 1984 as a graphic designer that grew his studio into a marketing and advertising company. Now, along with his wife Tina, publishes 21 community monthly newspapers mailing out 135,000 to every home and business.

Joe says “I started my business right out of college and thought I would get a job if it didn’t work out. It’s been thirty five years and I never looked back. I thank all those who mentored me along the way, experienced business owners who were generous with their time and taught me best practices in running a businesses and the pitfalls to look out for.”

As a way of paying it forward, Joe offers business and advertising advice to local business. This service is the focus of a new YouTube show. Joe Renna’s Hyper Local Network is the YouTube Channel of Renna Media. Mind Your Own Local Business is the prime show. Its first episode will feature Katya Stec of Clark, New Jersey who launched her production company All Ages of Geek. Katya has teamed up with Renna Media made her platform, with over 100,000 subscribers, available to Renna Media advertisers and organizations.

Renna Media is recruiting businesses to participate. If you are a Geek or just Geek curious, a variety of advertising opportunities exist, from product placement to fully customized shows. All online advertisers will also be featured in the Mind Your Own Local Business column in 135,000 newspapers!

COVID-19: FATAL DRUG OVERDOSES INCREASING

Sheriff Urges Reaching Out to Hope One for Assistance

PLEASE CALL FOR HELP IF YOU NEED IT

Fatal overdoses in Morris County are up by 38 percent this year over the same 14-week time frame in 2019, prompting the Morris County Sheriff’s Office Hope One team to re-emphasize its network of support services during the COVID-19 healthcare crisis “It’s possible that individuals struggling with addiction feel increased stress during this pandemic or, because of social distancing, lack direct contact with supportive friends and family who normally would check on their welfare,” said Morris County Sheriff James M. Gannon.

“Help from the Hope One team is here, just a phone call away. We don’t accept that anyone agonizing over a heroin addiction or substance use disorder be alone without resources and support, especially at this very difficult time,” Sheriff Gannon added.

So far in 2020, 26 individuals in Morris County have suffered suspected lethal overdoses. In the first 14 weeks of 2019, by comparison, there were 16 suspected fatal overdoses.

Statewide there have been 789 suspected fatal overdoses between Jan. 1 and March 31. In the same time frame last year, there were 657 suspected overdose deaths.

If you or someone you care about needs help, contact the following services:

CARES: Center For Addiction Recovery, Education & Success has a 24-hour support line at 973-625-1143. CARES also will deliver Narcan, upon request, in a safe, non-contact way.

HOPE ONE: 973-590-0300. For Narcan training via Zoom, please contact Morris County Sheriff’s Office Corporal Erica Valvano at erice@co.morris.nj.us or at 973-590-0300.

MENTAL HEALTH ASSOCIATION OF ESSEX AND MORRIS: Peer support line from 5 p.m. to 10 p.m.: 877-760-4987; 866-445-3902; 800-381-2059. The Mental Health Association has added a daytime number for peer support, Monday through Friday, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. during the COVID-19 pandemic. Please call: 877-760-4987.

Hope One is Sheriff Gannon’s mobile substance abuse and mental health outreach program launched to stem the crisis of opioid addiction and overdoses. It is a partnership with Prevention Is Key, CARES, Daytop-NJ, the Mental Health Association of Essex and Morris, and Morris County Department of Human Services.

on Joe Renna's Hyper Local Network on YouTube

See how businesses and organizations are getting by during the COVID-19 crisis on Joe Renna's Hyper Local Network on YouTube.

RENNA MEDIA COLLABORATES WITH ALL AGES OF GEEK

Katya Stec reached out to Joe Renna of Renna Media when she was a teen exploring opportunities to express her creativity in his newspapers. Renna Media publishes twenty-one community newspapers and has an active web presence and social media network. Through the years, Katya has developed her own online media production platform and made her service available to Renna Media's readership and advertisers.

Renna Media has been in business since 1984. The focus of its publications is to promote community service organizations to a hyper-local market. Joe and his wife Tina deliver marketing, advertising and publishing services to local businesses and organizations, in-print and on line. They have joined forces with NJlocalinfo.com to offer website, SEO and social media services. By collaborating with All Ages of Geek they are able to offer video production and hosting.

Joe admits he has Geeky tendencies and shared "I have many Geeks among the folks I deal with on a day to day basis. The Geek culture is prevalent and is revealed when you get to know colleagues on a personal level. It would be fun to showcase businesses and people in my newspaper and in video. It is a great marketing tool and an ice breaker to connect businesses to like-minded customers."

Renna Media and All Ages of Geek has developed a simple inexpensive menu of production services for businesses to make a foray into online marketing. The all inclusive packages are:

- Product placement $250
- 30 second commercial $500
- 3 minute spot $1,000
- 30 minute show $1,500
- 3 hour shoot - $2,000

All videos will also be blasted through the extensive social media network and the business will be featured in the newspapers, driving readers to the websites. The approach follows the model of Renna Media's newspapers: Delivering hometown community service news to a hyper-local audience, at affordable rates.

Businesses or organizations who would like more information or help with their marketing plans can call Joe Renna at 908-447-1295.
