CUB SCOUTS HAD A GREAT DAY HIKING RESERVATION

Submitted by John Regina

November 21, 2020 was a great day in Scouting.

Cub Scout Pact 32 had our second pack meeting at the Watchung Reservation. It was a great day for a hike, with perfect weather and a decent turnout. Many of us were reminded of what Scouting is all about.

Our pack broke up into 2 separate hikes, a short hike for younger scouts and a longer hike for older scouts. As we walked through the woods it was nice to see the scouts and their peers talking and having a good time as well as the parents. When we got about three quarters through our hike, we had to cross a stream to get back on the trail to the pavilion. The only way across was to walk over on a fallen tree. The group was able to make it across with everyone helping each other out. It was challenging but we managed to get across with only a few wet sneakers.

There were two gentlemen behind us taking the same path. One of the two gentlemen was an elderly man, and we noticed he was having trouble balancing himself on the tree. A few of the parents retreated towards the man to assist him but he slipped and fell into the water. At this point we all retreated back to assist him. Parents and scouts looked for alternate routes, gathered walking sticks and gathered around both sides of the shore line to find a solution to help this man across. We eventually got him across by walking alongside him on the fallen tree. When we got to the other side the man sat down and was so thankful for everyone helping him. We were all thinking the same thing, and then one of the parents said it: "This is what Scouting is all about!"

I am so proud of our pack and glad we were able to come together as a team to help someone in need. These are the types of life experiences that I want my children to experience and this is why I believe in the scouting program. I know that my children will remember this day in a positive way.

As I mentioned in our meeting, we really need more parent leadership in our pack if this program is to continue. I know it's been a crazy year, everyone is busy, and it seems with the recent spike in covid, it will certainly be a long winter. But I'm optimistic that better days are ahead and I look forward to more great days like this one. I encourage parents to please help with the scouting program and try to attend our next committee meeting to discuss leadership roles.

GRANTS FOR $277,750 FUND JOB TRAINING

Residents in Somerset county who are unemployed because of COVID-19 have access to a new training grant program through the counties' workforce development boards.

The Consortium of the Greater Raritan Workforce Development Board (serving Hunterdon and Somerset counties) and the Workforce Development Board of Middlesex County has received $277,750 in COVID-19 Dislocated Worker Grants from the New Jersey Department of Labor and Workforce Development.

This first-time collaboration between the two workforce boards aims to serve at least 50 individuals from the three counties through their One-Stop Career Training Services Centers who have lost their jobs or face significant reduction in hours because of the pandemic. Training opportunities in the new program focuses on four industries that are experiencing post-COVID-19 growth: healthcare; transportation, logistics and distribution; warehousing; and selected retail sectors (food stores and home centers).

Each workforce board through their One-Stop Career Training Services Center already offers individual training grant programs for the unemployed and underemployed. This new Consortium program expands the number of residents that can be assisted and covers the program's applicants now through August 2021.

"We know that more than 214,000 individuals in the three counties have filed for unemployment since mid-March," said Kevin Kurdziel, director of Middlesex County's Office of Career Opportunity and CEO of the county's Workforce Development Board. "While many have gone back to work, many others are still looking for their next opportunity. The goal of the Consortium is to help out-of-work or underemployed residents displaced by the pandemic obtain industry-valued credentials and employment in sustainable wage career pathways."

Eligible participants in this grant opportunity also will have the benefit of earning certificates in SkillUp Middlesex and SkillUp Greater Raritan, a free online learning portal for residents in the three counties.

"Workforce boards focus on ensuring residents have access to programs and information that help them get good-paying jobs," said Paul Grzella, director of the Greater Raritan Workforce Development Board. "Training grants are one component of what our One-Stop Career Centers do every day, and the staffs regularly guide people to success."

In addition to the training grants, the Consortium's partners have other ongoing career-related services, including registered apprenticeship programs, personal assessment tools, career counseling, case management, work-readiness training, resume assistance, interview practice and preparation, job development and job placement and more.

Residents of Somerset county can find more information about the Consortium opportunity by emailing onestop@co.somerset.nj.us, or by calling 908-541-5780. For more information on all system services, visit thegrwdb.org, and look on the Calendar and Job Seekers tabs.

Questions? Contact GRWDB Board Director Paul Grzella at grzella@co.somerset.nj.us, or 908-203-6044.

CRISIS COUNSELING FOR RESIDENTS AFFECTED BY COVID-RELATED STRESS

The Somerset County Richard Hall Community Health & Wellness Center (RHCHWC) obtained a $360,000 grant from the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) and the NJ Division of Mental Health and Addiction Services. The grant funds Hope and Healing – a free crisis counseling program (CCP) that is available to all county residents who have been emotionally impacted by the pandemic. Professional counselors at Hope and Healing currently conduct essential services through virtual meetings via Zoom, phone sessions and community partnerships.

The overall goal of the program is to help individuals learn about recovery options, acquire coping strategies to manage trauma, have access to confidential emotional support, and help them connect to agencies, resources and peer-support.

Beyond the pandemic, Hope and Healing will help residents and communities recover from the effects of any local, state, or national emergency by providing community-based outreach and psycho-educational services as well as short-term interventions.

For more information about Hope and Healing or to speak to a counselor, the Hope and Healing helpline is available from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m., seven days a week at 908-231-6414.
