THREE LOCAL CHORUSES PRESENT FREE ONLINE SHOW

Summer is coming! And what better way to celebrate than with a virtual concert full of songs about sunshine and summer and the hope they bring.

Here Comes the Sun: Three Great Choruses, One Online Show will premiere Sunday, May 23, at 5:00 p.m. on YouTube. It's a first-of-a kind collaboration between three of the area's best-loved choruses. The Maplewood Glee Club is a community chorus that's been delighting local audiences with its harmonies and humor since 1946. The Morris Music Men is Morris County's premiere barbershop harmony chorus. The award-winning Hickory Tree Chorus shares the joy of barbershop through songs from the Beatles to Broadway.

This family-friendly show features a range of uplifting songs including Happy Together, Kokomo, Heat Wave, and Circle of Life, plus music by Beyoncé, Whitney Houston, Chance the Rapper, and more! The show will also feature guest appearances by two dynamic teen ensembles from West Morris Mendham High School.

Here's the best news about Here Comes the Sun: it's free! Just register ahead of time at threechoruses.com and you'll receive a free show link 24 hours before the premiere.

The choruses are also spreading sunshine by raising money for Newark Working Kitchens, a non-profit organization that enables many local Newark restaurants to keep their doors open, their stoves on, and their employees paid during the Covid-19 crisis by cooking and delivering hundreds of meals a day to low-income seniors and families and people without homes. Donations can be made during the show or through the show's website.

DONATE UNWANTED BICYCLES

On Saturday, May 8, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon, Faith Lutheran Church, 524 South Street in New Providence, will be collecting second-hand bikes for use by adults and children in third world countries.

The collection is being conducted on behalf of Pedals for Progress (P4P), an organization which annually recycles 6,000 bicycles for persons in developing countries.

Anyone with a bicycle in repairable condition is urged to donate to this worthy cause. Bikes may be dropped off at the parking lot next to the church. Members of Faith will repair and process the bikes for shipment.

Since 2002, Faith Lutheran has been collecting bikes. In 2020, 170 bikes were collected from persons in New Providence, Berkeley Heights, Mountainside, Westfield, Warren, Scotch Plains and Fanwood. This range of towns was aided by articles published in Renna Media town newspapers.

Every year affluent Americans buy 22 million new bicycles and discard millions of old ones, abandoning many more in basements, sheds and garages. Most of these end up in our already overburdened landfills.

P4P ships its reconditioned bikes to persons in need of countries in Latin America, Africa and Asia. The bikes provide reliable transportation to commute to work, transport produce to market, access health care and other services. Steady employment for adults is vital to the development and success of these economies.

Persons who have bikes but are unable to deliver them to Faith on May 8 may call the church office on 908-464-5177 or email family.faith@verizon.net.

You may have heard about the increase in domestic violence since the start of the pandemic as families are forced to shelter in place. Since then, Safe+Sound Somerset has seen a 40% increase in calls and texts to our 24/7 domestic violence hotline – even as it has become harder for those experiencing domestic abuse to reach out for help. Domestic abuse is a pattern of controlling, threatening, degrading and violent behaviors by a partner. Abuse takes many forms, including emotional, psychological, physical, sexual and financial.

A MESSAGE FOR FAMILIES OF ADULTS WITH DEVELOPMENTAL DISABILITIES

LearningRx brain training is a great option for New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities service recipients. LearningRx Warren provides cognitive training to improve the underlying skills we all use to think, learn, and work. For over 30 years our programs have been used to improve cognitive skills like auditory processing, attention, memory, and more to help make school, work, and life easier. Because we are a qualified New Jersey DDD goods and services provider the full breadth of our programs is available to DDD recipients.

Weak cognitive skills are at the root of learning struggles. Our method is to train and strengthen those cognitive skills. This approach makes our programs an excellent fit for many NJDDD services recipients. We work one-on-one with our students to overcome obstacles, build confidence, and strengthen skills we all utilize to think and learn. This training approach supports goals related to self-direction, educational opportunities, independence, and economic opportunities. We do this while providing a fun and social alternative to traditional learning experiences.

The process begins with a cognitive skills assessment to customize the right solution for the student's needs. We then track progress through the duration of the program, and conclude programs with a second assessment. We will work closely with support coordinators and caregivers, providing periodic updates and, if directed, coordinate with other service providers for a more integrative approach.

We encourage DDD families to learn more about us. Our website is a good initial source of information www.learningrx.com. For detailed analysis of our programs, the LearningRx affiliated Gibson Institute of Cognitive Research www.gibsonresearchinstitute.org links many peer reviewed studies. If you'd like to see if training is right for your family member, book a free one-hour, no obligation trial. Call us at 866-272-4601 to learn more.

NEW JERSEY OUTDOORS: ARCHIVE NOW AVAILABLE ONLINE

New Jersey is far more than just a “garden” state. While well known for its vast network of fields and farms, fresh produce and fruit orchards, New Jersey boasts incredible ecological diversity. Even those who only know New Jersey from the Sopranos have heard of the Pine Barrens. The 1.1 million acre swath of forest and wetland that confounded Chris and Paulie in the episode “Pine Barrens,” was actually the country’s first National Reserve and designated by UNESCO as a single-site biosphere reserve. It is the largest body of open space on the Mid-Atlantic seaboard and home to dozens of rare and endangered species.

Yet even though the Pine Barrens claim some 22% of the state’s land, it is not the only highlight when it comes to New Jersey’s environmental diversity. Our state hosts portions of the Appalachian Trail and the black bears who live along it, streams full of native brook trout, fields where wild turkey roam and song birds compete for blueberries, and homes for marine wildlife all along the Jersey Shore.

New Jersey Outdoors was created with the idea of highlighting and celebrating New Jersey’s rich environmental heritage. First published in 1950 by the Department of Conservation and Economic Development – the precursor to the modern Department of Environmental Protection – New Jersey Outdoors featured articles on hunting, fishing, and conservation related topics. The combination of photography and illustration by local artists gave each issue a unique personality.

The New Jersey State Library is pleased to provide free online access to its entire collection of New Jersey Outdoors. Issues from 1961-2002 have been digitized in color and are available through the Library’s Digital Collections.

Browsing the table of contents reveals the breadth of topics in each issue – from in-depth commentary on particular species, to fishing tips, and profiled conservation projects. The issues also provide a glimpse at how environmental concerns changed over time.

For example, the January 1963 issue features commentary on what could happen to New Jersey’s wildlife and food supply in the event of nuclear disaster. Tensions between sportsman and environmentalists were highlighted in the August 1971 issue – just a year after the first Earth Day and the rise of the new environmental movements. In July/August 1983, an article on urban waterfront restoration projects showed the culmination of years’ worth of work. Peppered throughout the issues are articles on historical and archaeological topics, as researchers explored human interaction with their environment.

New Jersey Outdoors was published monthly from 1961-1973, bimonthly 1973-1991, and then seasonally from 1991-2003. Publication ended in 2003 after the publication of the Department of Environmental Protection’s new magazine, Fish and Wildlife Digest. Fish and Wildlife Digest eventually split into three separate, annual magazines: Hunting and Trapping Digest, Freshwater Fishing Digest, and Marine Digest. These magazines are also available through the Library’s Digital Collections.

Unfortunately, we are missing the earliest published issues (1950-1960) of New Jersey Outdoors from our collection. Anyone who would like to donate copies of these issues to the New Jersey State Library can contact Deborah Mercer or Caitlyn Cook in Reference Services at refdesk@njstatelib.org.

CELEBRATING 10 YEARS WITH HEART TRANSPLANT

NJ Sharing Network

Emma Rothman of Cranford, NJ will be graduating this spring from Syracuse University with a degree in Food Studies. Like most college graduates, she has mixed emotions about taking the next step in her life's journey.

"I am definitely a bit terrified, but I am excited about the variety of opportunities that lie ahead," said Emma.

This is a remarkable time for Emma as she celebrated the 10th anniversary of her life-saving heart transplant (April 1). She is humble and always thankful for her donor who gave her the gift of life and made her achievements possible.

"Everything after my heart transplant was working towards moments like this," said Emma. "It motivates me to appreciate the day to day – being able to travel, go away to school, and have life experiences without my health dictating what I can and cannot do is a blessing. I owe all of this to my organ donor's act of extraordinary humanity."

In March 2011, Emma was 12-years-old when she suddenly began to feel extremely fatigued and could not make it through an entire day at school. Her parents brought her to Newark Beth Israel Medical Center (NBIMC) for what was supposed to be a quick, routine blood test. However, Emma went into cardiac arrest, was put on life-support under an induced coma and was rushed to the pediatric cardiac intensive care unit at New York-Presbyterian/Morgan Stanley Children's Hospital.

Emma, who showed no prior symptoms, was somehow battling end-stage heart failure brought on by hypertrophic cardiomyopathy. On April 1, 2011, Emma, underwent a successful emergency heart transplant, which saved her life. Just 15 days later, Emma was discharged, taking with her new knowledge about what a heart transplant is and how she could best care for her new heart at home.

"The last thing I remember was feeling uncomfortable while the nurses were attempting to draw blood at the hospital thinking I might have had mono or a virus," said Emma. "I woke up six days later and learned that I had a heart transplant. Prior to that, I had never heard of organ and tissue donation or transplantation."

In 2013, Emma and her family, guided by their firsthand experience, established Hearts for Emma, a 501 (c)3 organization that provides assistance to families of children with heart disease, and supports educational initiatives related to heart transplantation and promotes awareness of organ and tissue donation. As part of a joint outreach effort, Hearts for Emma established a Partner Fund within the NJ Sharing Network Foundation that has raised more than $50,000 since its inception. The Hearts for Emma Partner Fund has helped educate more than 100,000 students in New Jersey about organ and tissue donation and transplantation through the production and distribution of education materials and related programs, and provides scholarships to high school seniors who are advocates of or personally impacted by the mission.

To learn more, get involved and register as an organ and tissue donor, visit NJSharingNetwork.org.

In New Jersey, there are nearly 4,000 residents currently waiting for a life-saving transplant, and one person in New Jersey dies every three days waiting for a transplant. Just one organ and tissue donor can save 8 lives and enhance the lives of over 75 people. Transplantable organs include heart, kidneys, liver, lungs, pancreas and intestine. Transplantable tissue includes corneas, heart valves, skin grafts, and bone grafts, ligament and tendons.

ABOUT NJ SHARING NETWORK

NJ Sharing Network is the federally designated non-profit organization responsible for recovering organs and tissue for the nearly 4,000 New Jersey residents currently waiting for a life-saving transplant. With headquarters in New Providence, NJ, the organization is part of the national recovery system, serving the 110,000 people on the national waiting list. NJ Sharing Network was selected by NJBiz as one of the state's "Best Places to Work" for the third consecutive year. To learn more, get involved and register as an organ and tissue donor, visit www.NJSharingNetwork.org.

I AM MY BROTHER'S KEEPER! ARE YOU?

A few years ago, I was approached by a friend and co-worker of mine who expressed how extremely depressed he was and that he wanted to take his own life. Initially, I was completely shocked because this guy always seemed to be upbeat and happy all the time. Immediately, I asked him to come with me to a private office so we could talk about his awful situation. This was the first time in my life that I had a friend talk to me about suicide, and I knew I had to really do my best to help him get through this horrible ordeal. We spoke for a few hours and I listened closely to everything he said. I was able to convince him to immediately get some help and we went to the hospital. I stayed with him at the hospital and met with him when he was released. I did everything to show my friend that I had his back and because of this he is alive today. This awful situation inspired me to do whatever I possibly can to help others in need and shortly after we created our mobile outreach program.

In today's day and age, most of you have known a veteran or first responder that has taken their own life. Every day we lose nearly twenty-two veterans and approximately three hundred first responders every year to suicide. Even with all the awareness and new anti-suicide programs available, this number has not changed and, in some cases, has increased. The Veteran Hospitals' PTSD and mental health programs are packed with patients and unfortunately, they continue to grow. More of our first responders are also seeking help and utilizing some of the state programs being offered. So many people want to help and put an end to this crisis but sadly there isn't a foolproof program available that will stop this ever-growing crisis from destroying our uniformed heroes and their family's lives.

Our team has been working tirelessly with other charities to come up with a better solution to help prevent this epidemic from continuing. Personally, we believe our "Mobile Outreach Team" is really making a difference and everyday it helps our uniformed heroes live a better way of life.

The first thing we learned is to lose your "EGO" and seek out other groups and organizations that are looking to save lives. Then we find the right volunteers who are committed and dedicated with being a mentor to a person in crisis. Volunteers are extremely valuable because they want to be there, and they usually care more than the people who get paid for their services.

To date, we have been able to change and save countless lives because of the incredible commitment from the volunteers and other supporting groups.

Our approach is to aggressively seek out and contact a veteran or first responder in crisis. Our goal is to immediately work on building trust by being completely honest with the person in crisis. Using our network is wonderful, but it's more important to show the person in need that we are there for them and won't give up. Usually, we go out and meet with those in crisis and spend whatever time is needed to help them get in a better frame of mind. Bottom line "Human Contact" and "Friendship" is the key to saving a life.

Our Mobile Outreach Team is unique because it consists of mentors from all over the state that are willing to do whatever it takes to save and change a life.

If you are interested in joining our team please feel free to contact me at (973)-332-1556 or email mdbollio@optonline.net. To learn more visit njvn.org.

About New Jersey Veterans Network

We are a group of veterans and volunteers dedicated to helping our veterans and their families live better lives. Our team is raising awareness of our veterans needs by organizing public speaking engagements, meeting with business and political leaders across the state and sponsoring fundraising events. Our mission is to identify veterans and connect them with resources and programs designed to meet their unique set of needs. To ensure that EVERY single one of our veterans, who have sacrificed so much for this great country, receives the resources that they require and deserve. If you are interested in joining our team, would like us to speak at your event, or contributing to our mission, call 973-332-1556 or email mdbollio@optonline.net. *(above) Operation Rebound is one of the outreach programs of the New Jersey Veterans Network. It is a mobile outreach team of mentors who help at-risk veterans and first responders to live a better life. The team has made huge strides with suicide prevention simply by building trust and cementing friendships with people in need. It's most important to be honest with each person in crisis and follow up with ways to help them regain purpose in life. Setting goals motivates them to stay on a positive track. ## DOG WALKS AT LORD STIRLING STABLE

The Somerset County Park Commission and the Friends of Lord Stirling Stable are adding to the Saturday Dog Walks at Lord Stirling Stable. Additional dog walks will be held on Monday evenings and Wednesday mornings.

"Our weekend dog walks are a great way for the public to enjoy the beautiful equestrian trails of Lord Stirling Stable, as well as an opportunity to get some outdoor exercise in a safe environment during the COVID pandemic," said Anna McLernon, Friends of Lord Stirling Stable President. "There's the added bonus of plenty of sights and smells to entertain and tire out the pooches."

Registration begins 15 minutes before each walk kicks off. Dogs and their humans will be led on the trails at: Monday, 6 p.m.; Wednesday, 8:30 a.m.; Saturday, 10 a.m. (casual walk); Saturday, 10:30 a.m. (fast walk)

To protect the safety of all walkers during the pandemic, masks must be worn prior to the start of the walk but are optional on the trails once the walk begins unless proper social distancing cannot be maintained.

The traditional fee of $3 per dog will be waived at this time, but donations to the Friends of Lord Stirling Stable are welcome. The Friends of Lord Stirling Stable is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization created to support Lord Stirling Stable.

For more information on the dog walks, contact Barbara Roche at 908-448-8348 or kb2krx@yahoo.com.

LIBRARY SYSTEM CELEBRATES BODY POSITIVITY FOR YOUTH, TEENS THROUGH INCLUSIVE COLLECTION

According to statistics from the National Organization for Women (NOW), approximately 43 percent of teenagers are "happy with their bodies." In order to encourage children, tweens, and teens to comprehend healthy body images, the Somerset County Library System of New Jersey's (SCLSNJ) continues to expand their collection to include books that foster body positivity through an inclusive, mindfully-curated collection.

"Exploring and discovering our identities is a fundamental part of our teenage years," said Jodi Silverman, youth services supervisor. "Through this process, teenagers develop their self-awareness, acceptance, and empathy that affects not only their personal growth, but the way in which they interact with the world around them."

She continued, "When factoring in the negative developmental aspects of social distancing, such as a reliance on social media for modeling and a lack of direct peer support, it is imperative that we provide them with positive psychosocial resources that promote core values, like self-esteem and body acceptance."

Data from the American Academy of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry (AACAP) shows that 90 percent of teens ages 13-17 have used social media. According to an article from the "Journal of Youth and Adolescence," there is a correlation between social media use and low self-esteem in adolescents

"One of SCLSNJ's core services is making personalized connections between customers and Library materials," said Katie Salerno, youth services librarian. "SCLSNJ has made it a point to be an essential part of the body positive movement through our collections that contain a variety of fiction and nonfiction books that celebrate all body types, in all skin tones, with birth marks, stretch marks, freckles, and more. Body positive books will help children and teens see that they should love themselves and their bodies, so that they can have confidence in who they are and how they look."

Embrace the skin you are in and explore a diverse list of body positivity and acceptance titles available in your Library's catalog:

CHILDREN

- "Bodies Are Cool" by Tyler Feder
- "Love Your Body" by Jessica Sanders
- "Under Our Clothes: Our First Talk About Our Bodies" by Jillian Roberts Middle Grade/Tween
- "Starfish" by Lisa Fipps

TEENS

- "Body Positive: A Guide to Loving Your Body" by Emily Lauren Dick
- "Body Talk: 37 Voices Explore Our Radical Anatomy" edited by Kelly Jensen
- "Fat Chance, Charlie Vega" by Crystal Maldonado
- "Here the Whole Time" by Vitor Martins
- "I'll Be the One" by Lyla Lee
- "Love Is a Revolution" by Renée Watson
- "The (Other) F Word: A Celebration of the Fat & Fierce" edited by Angie Manfredi
- "Pumpkin" by Julie Murphy

- "The Self-Love Revolution: Radical Body Positivity for Girls of Color" by Virgie Tovar
- "Smash It!" by Francina Simone

"A movement toward body acceptance is now taking place in children and teen literature," said Laura Frantz, collection development librarian. "Many authors are sharing their own first-hand experiences in fictionalized and true stories. It is vital our communities continue to see and discover books that celebrate inclusivity and positivity."

"These how-to guides are suitable for patrons of any age, but especially those in their teens and 20s just starting to discover and navigate the adult world. Explore the basics of financing college; managing budgets, credit and debt; choosing health insurance; renting and insuring an apartment, plus much more."
