LOCAL STUDENTS RECEIVE SCHOLARSHIPS FROM LANTERN HILL

(above) Kelly Anne Donfield and Sarah Hagen, members of the Lantern Hill Dining Services Department, were awarded $4,000 scholarships.

Lantern Hill, an Erickson Senior Living community in New Providence, New Jersey, honored its first class of Student Scholars at an Awards Ceremony on June 14. Kelly Anne Donfield and Sarah Hagen, members of the Dining Services Department, were awarded $4,000 scholarships from the community to support their pursuit of higher education.

Donfield, a New Providence resident who graduated this spring, will be attending the University of Central Florida in the fall. Kelly has been a server at Lantern Hill since 2019. Kelly feels fortunate to have worked at Lantern Hill. In her essay, she stated, "luckily, I am not like most teenagers and have been blessed with an opportunity to work as a server at Lantern Hill. I say that with pride because Lantern Hill and the residents have provided me with an opportunity to immerse my life in different cultures, learn about important life experiences, and meet new people and friends."

Hagen, a Berkeley Heights resident, also graduated this spring, and will be attending Virginia Tech in the fall. Sarah is planning on becoming a teacher, majoring in history and special education. Sarah believes that working at Lantern Hill has taught her a wide variety of skills that she will carry with her throughout her life. She is most grateful for the conversations she's had with the residents. They have shared their stories and knowledge and have shown her what it is truly like to enjoy life, have a positive attitude and an outgoing spirit.

The Scholar's Program is funded by the residents of Lantern Hill to support high school students employed on campus who have shown commitment to serving the Lantern Hill's community.

For more information about the scholarship program and employment benefits with Lantern Hill, visit ericksonseniorliving.com/careers.

I have been at Spring Grove for a few weeks now, they have exceptional service and excellent staff. All the nurses have been professional and attentive to all my needs. I never thought a rehab center can have such a beautiful layout and well put together. The newly renovated room I have stayed in, is up to date and extremely clean. The therapy staff have gone above my expectations with their expertise and getting me to where I am today. Alyssa the social worker has gone above and beyond with all her assignments.

Thank you Spring Grove.

HONORING THE MEMORY OF A FATHER

Father's Day is a special time of year for Rajesh Karnani of Paramus, NJ. It is a time when he joins his family members to remember his father, Sham C. Karnani, who unexpectedly passed due to heart complications on March 17, 2010. Rajesh recalls how his father always spoke to family members and friends about his support for organ and tissue donation. His father's selfless decision to be an organ and tissue donor ultimately restored sight for two other people with his donated corneas.

More than a decade later, Rajesh has made it his personal mission to inspire others to register as organ and tissue donors. He actively supports NJ Sharing Network's community events, activities and fundraisers to help raise awareness for NJ Sharing Network's life-saving mission.

According to NJ Sharing Network, there are nearly 4,000 New Jersey residents currently waiting for a life-saving transplant, and one person in New Jersey dies every three days waiting for a transplant. Just one organ and tissue donor can save eight lives and enhance the lives of over 75 people. To learn more, get involved and register as an organ and tissue donor, visit www.NJSharingNetwork.org.

The following was written by Rajesh to pay tribute to his father and help raise awareness about organ and tissue donation and transplantation in our local communities:

My father, Sham C. Karnani, was born in India and migrated to New York in the 1970s. He came to America to help ensure that his family has a better life, and he worked as an importer of garments shipped from India and sold to prospective buyers in the U.S.

I can talk about my father for hours - about the great businessman he was, how he supported and loved his family so much, or how he would put other people's happiness over his own. His passion in life was service to his fellow man/woman. What motivated him in life was to make sure that those around him were happy. He was always determined to pay it forward in some way.

He was (and still is) not only my role model, but an inspiration, to me and to everyone who had the pleasure of knowing him. He taught me so much - how we are fortunate enough to live a good life, and so it is our responsibility to do our best to help others less fortunate do so too.

My father's major passion for the last two decades of his life was to spread the awareness of organ and tissue donation. His message to others was simple: Organ and tissue donation saves and enhances lives.

My father would often say, "When it comes down to it, we can't take our organs on our journey to heaven. We don't need them, so why not give others the opportunity to complete the rest of their journey in the present."

On March 17th, 2010, my father unexpectedly passed away while in a temple on a holy day (our Indian new year). He was dancing with the love of his life, my mother. I am proud to say that, upon his death, my father was able to donate both of his corneas to two recipients in need.

My father kept a journal of his thoughts that we found after he passed away. His writings confirmed how much faith he had and how passionate he was about donation and transplantation. In the journal, he called it "recycling of organs for the benefit of mankind."

He noted that he believed that most people would want to make the selfless decision to donate their organs and tissue upon death. However, he believed that the biggest barrier is that most people do not let their family members know about their choice to donate. He noted that if only person just lets their family knows, about their wishes, countless number of lives can be saved.

My father was also a very spiritual person. He once was able to ask one a spiritual leader his thoughts on the subject of organ and tissue donation. We all remember the spark and happiness in my Dad's eyes, when this spiritual leader, declared that organ and tissue donation is "the best gift anyone can give to their fellow man or woman."

It has been difficult for us to move on without my father here. Each day, I still expect him to walk through the door. However, I feel comfort in knowing that the gift of sight my father gave helps justify the passion he had all those years on how organ and tissue donation really is the best service we can provide to others. That passion has now been passed down to me.

ABOUT NJ SHARING NETWORK

NJ Sharing Network is the federally designated non-profit organization responsible for recovering organs and tissue for the nearly 4,000 New Jersey residents currently waiting for a life-saving transplant. With headquarters in New Providence, NJ, the organization is part of the national recovery system, serving the 110,000 people on the national waiting list. NJ Sharing Network was selected by NJBiz as one of the state's "Best Places to Work" for the third consecutive year. NEW PROVIDENCE NAMED AGE-FRIENDLY COMMUNITY

Submitted by Patricia Jacobs, New Providence-Our Community For All

During the 1st Anniversary Party of New Providence's Age-Friendly effort held on June 17, 2021 in Centennial Park, Mayor Al Morgan made an announcement to the crowd: New Providence is proudly only the 17th municipality in New Jersey to be recognized by the World Health Organization through its American affiliate, AARP, as an Age-Friendly Community. This designation not only recognizes the hard work put forth by the volunteers of New Providence- Our Community For All, as they served older adults during the pandemic and later conducted a town-wide Livability Study, it also recognizes the commitment of the town to keep an age-friendly lens on planning for the future. As Councilperson Pete DeSarno said "We want New Providence to be not only a great place to grow up, but a great place to grow older."

In her official letter to the Borough, AARP Executive Vice President, Nancy LeaMond stated: "The AARP network of age-friendly states and communities provides a structured process that guides change and serves as a catalyst to educate, encourage, promote and recognize improvements that benefit residents of all ages and life stages. Enrollment in the network provides member communities with the resources to become more age-friendly by tapping into national and global research, planning models and best practices. Thank you for being among the nation's local leaders who have committed to improving their community for people of all ages. We look forward to working with you and welcome the Borough of New Providence to the AARP Network of Age-Friendly States and Communities."

AARP State Director, Stephanie Hunsinger said in her proclamation of the designation: "To really step up and meet the challenge, we need a kind of transformation in the way communities see themselves – in the way they are planned, designed, and the supports they offer. Because turning a community into a place that is truly age-friendly requires a fresh way of thinking."

A group of about 60 residents, both volunteers for the age-friendly work in New Providence, and grateful recipients of these volunteers' efforts, had gathered in the park to listen to live music from the New Jersey Intergenerational Orchestra, and bear witness to this announcement. Many present were grateful for the first projects the group has undertaken. Residents of Barabash Manor, across the street, were enthusiastic about the in-ground deck built this spring by an Eagle Scout, Thomas Horan, with much support from the group. "Thank you so much for caring about us," one resident said.

In addition to Mayor Morgan, three speakers recognized and thanked the volunteers of the age-friendly work that began in 2019: Renie Carniol, of The Grotta Fund for Senior Care, and Council people Pete DeSarno and Michele Matsikoudis all spoke with gratitude about the hard work the volunteers did to connect older adults with all generations during the pandemic, and the pilot programs they have conducted using insights from the Livability Survey in 2020.

As Stephanie Hunsinger concluded, "To achieve this kind of transformation, we need local leadership. So today, I commend and congratulate your local leaders for having that vision and leadership to spearhead this age-friendly initiative. AARP would like to thank the New Providence community with a special thank you to Mayor Al Morgan, the Borough Council, Allison Smith, Director of Community Activities, Patricia Jacobs, Executive Director of New Providence-Our Community For All, and all Board Members of New Providence Our Community For All: Bill Hoelfing, Pete DeSarno, Tom Montrone and Michele Matsikoudis. AARP is looking forward to continuing our work together."

Allison Smith, New Providence Community Activities Director, will lead New Providence in the second year of the Age Friendly Initiative. Bringing the age-friendly work into the borough government is the natural evolutionary step for this initiative and will add sustainability to the town's age-friendly efforts.

BACKPACKS FOR LIFE FIFTH ANNUAL GOLF OUTING FUNDRAISER

On September 20, 2021, Backpacks For Life will be hosting their Fifth Annual Golf Outing in Wayne, NJ. The golf outing is one of Backpacks For Life's tentpole fundraiser events that occurs annually in an effort to spread awareness about veteran homelessness and their mission to serve the veteran community. Last year's event was cancelled after a handful of rescheduling attempts due to COVID-19. The outing is presented by the founding sponsors of the event, three local New Jersey businesses, Biltmore Tuxedos, Sal Laurretta for Men and DSM.

"While it was a disappointment to cancel the event last year, we knew it was the right call. This year, we're excited to get back out there, bring the community together and have a great day in support of the veterans we serve. Our event has a lot to offer so whether someone is a golfer or not, they can participate in some capacity," said Sgt. Brett D'Alessandro, President, Backpacks For Life.

The outing will be held at one of New Jersey's premiere golf courses, North Jersey Country Club located in Wayne, NJ. The event kicks off with the veteran owned business brunch featuring a variety of local veteran owned businesses including The Mobile Cigar Lounge, Backward Flag Brewing and Black 6 Coffee. The event continues with a round of 18 holes as well as on course activities.

"Each year we try to bring something new and exciting from within our veteran community for others to experience. With the veteran owned business brunch and our cocktail reception, we're able to highlight incredible veteran owned small businesses and help them after what was a challenging year for all. It's an honor to share the stories of successful veteran entrepreneurs," said Alexa Modero, Executive Director, Backpacks For Life.

The evening concludes with a cocktail hour reception sponsored by Bond Street Mortgage. This portion of the event is open to the public, golfers and nongolfers alike. The reception features food and beverage, a silent auction and guest speaker, US Navy SEAL veteran, Anthony Page.

For all event details, tickets and registration, visit backpacksforlife.org/golf.

Backpacks For Life is a 501(c)3 nonprofit organization that serves the homeless and at-risk veteran community. By regularly distributing backpacks filled with essentials to Veterans on the streets and providing mentorship to at-risk Veterans and their families, Backpacks For Life aims to bridge the gap between Veterans and the resources available to them.

BLOOD DONORS URGENTLY NEEDED CHRONIC SHORTAGES THREATEN HEALTHCARE SYSTEM AS POTENTIAL SECOND WAVE LOOMS

New Jersey Blood Services, a division of New York Blood Center (NYBC), wants to increase blood donations for area hospitals. The COVID-19 pandemic has created a chronic shortage across the country that shows no sign of improving. This is particularly dangerous given the looming uncertainty surrounding the pandemic's trajectory over the course of the next few months.

Blood is urgently needed. The region's healthcare system requires 1,500 donations each day to treat patients ranging from trauma victims and cancer patients to newborn babies and their mothers. Prior to the pandemic, blood drives were held at businesses, high schools, colleges and community groups. Most of those groups have had to cancel their blood drives due to COVID-19. Donations are at just 65% of pre-pandemic levels - well below what is needed by hospitals and patients in our area.

"This is an incredibly challenging time for our communities. We are now relying on people seeking out a place to donate. So far, that is not happening at the level we need," said Andrea H. Cefarelli, Senior Executive Director of Recruitment & Marketing for New York Blood Center.

We are asking our community to visit our donor centers or to find a convenient community blood drive to donate. "The Covid-19 pandemic has created blood shortages for all New Jersey and NY hospital systems, said Cefarelli. Donated blood is essential for trauma and surgery patients in need. We encourage healthy New Jersey residents, aged 16 to 75, to donate blood at NJBS blood drives and donation sites now. Visit NYBC.org or Call 1-800-933-BLOOD (2566) to make an appointment today."

HOW NEW JERSEY RESIDENTS CAN HELP:

To make an appointment to donate blood, visit donate.nybc.org/donor/schedules/zip.

NYBC also needs more partners to step up and help host drives in large venues. If you have a space available and would like to host a blood drive, please sign up at nybloodcenter.org/support-us/host-blood-drive/apply-host-drive.

For information on the extra precautions being taken to help prevent the person-to-person spread of COVID-19, visit our website.

ABOUT NEW YORK BLOOD CENTER

Founded in 1964, New York Blood Center (NYBC) is a nonprofit organization that is one of the largest independent, community-based blood centers in the world. NYBC, along with its operating divisions Community Blood Center of Kansas City, Missouri (CBC), Innovative Blood Resources (IBR), Blood Bank of Delmarva (BBD), and Rhode Island Blood Center (RIBC), collect approximately 4,000 units of blood products each day and serve local communities of more than 75 million people in the Tri-State area (NY, NJ, CT), Mid Atlantic area (PA, DE, MD, VA), Missouri and Kansas, Minnesota, Nebraska, Rhode Island, and Southern New England. NYBC and its operating divisions also provide a wide array of transfusion-related medical services to over 500 hospitals nationally, including Comprehensive Cell Solutions, the National Center for Blood Group Genomics, the National Cord Blood Program, and the Lindsley F. Kimball Research Institute, which — among other milestones — developed a practical screening method for hepatitis B as well as a safe, effective and affordable vaccine, and a patented solvent detergent plasma process innovating blood-purification technology worldwide.
