AUTOGRAPH SIGNING EVENT FOR HIGH SCHOOL CAST

The Chatham High School cast of Beauty and The Beast was rehearsing “The Mob Song” scene on stage earlier this month, but the atmosphere out in the lobby was just as energized.

The bustling activity was the result of a donation by Greg Dailey, owner of Chatham’s Legends Gallery @ Frames on Main, of Beauty and the Beast posters for the cast to sign.

“Best autograph event ever,” Dailey commented, as he guided the students through their first organized autograph signing. He’s hosted many athlete signings, think Mets, Jets, and Rangers players, to name a few.

Proceeds from the sale of the posters will go toward supporting the performing arts in the district.

While some students were rehearsing on stage, others were lined up in the lobby waiting for gold-ink markers to sign their names.

“I’m only a napkin,” said sophomore Elena Latorre, featured dancer, surprised that the entire cast was included in autographing the posters. She is playing one of the dancing napkins in the Beast’s household staff.

Some students signed quickly, some took their time. Some signed in cursive, others printed – the better to be legible and recognizable.

“Thanks so much for doing this,” said senior Tommy Nonnenmacher, who plays Lumiere, the enchanted candelabra, as he considered how to fit his lengthy 12-letter last name on the poster.

He quickly came up with a solution: Tommy Nonny.

Dailey shared signing pointers learned the hard way during autograph sessions with famous athletes. Lefties should sign near the bottom, he said. Otherwise, they’ll inadvertently smudge other signatures if their arms drag across the posters when signing higher up.

He brought his colleague, Tonia Lofaro, to the event to keep things moving along— having 48 kids sign 48 posters in between rehearsing their scenes is no easy feat.

A supporter of the Chatham Performing Arts Boosters’ events such as the holiday-themed Night of Music that was held downtown, Dailey also wanted to support Chatham High School’s production of Beauty and Beast. He noted that it is his daughter’s favorite Disney movie.

“It’s not lost on me the amount of time and effort kids put into their extracurricular activities,” said Dailey, a father of three whose kids all played sports.” So when I see an opportunity to help them feel great about what they’re doing, I go for it.”

The support is very much appreciated. “At the beginning of the past school year, our organization had begun an effort to connect the school district’s performing arts program with the greater community, bringing our events downtown and encouraging families to visit stores and restaurants,” said Janine Vecciarelli, CPAB president. “What we did not anticipate was the amazing response in return from our local businesses for our schools’ performing arts programs. Greg has been a constant champion of our organization’s efforts. We are so grateful for his positivity and his support.”

CHATHAM'S MORNING WITH THE MUSICIANS

Submitted by Chatham Performing Arts Boosters

Snowy weather could not stop the music at Chatham's Morning with the Musicians held in the Chatham Middle School (CMS) auditorium on March 11th.

The event showcased the musical talents of the district's students led by their teachers. It was sponsored by the Chatham Performing Arts Boosters (CPAB) to raise money to support K-12 performing arts programs.

The Lafayette School's 4th grade band started the show, led by their teacher, Emily Gaul.

They were "so excited to perform for the very first time at this event," Gaul said. "They were also able to watch older groups, like the 6th grade band and middle school Jazz Band, which gives them a glimpse into their future in the Chatham Band Program. As a teacher, I love to see my students enjoy making music together and develop a band community and family."

The 4th grade orchestra performed next. "The 4th grade orchestra was thrilled to be a part of such a wonderful event," said Liam Keller, Director of Orchestras at LAF and Chatham High School (CHS). "We could not think of a better place to show off all of our hard work from the last six months and are excited to continue our work for the spring!"

The 6th grade band and 7th/8th grade orchestra followed, capped off by the CMS Jazz Band, which had the audience humming to The Beatles' "Hey Jude" and Pharrell Williams' "Happy".

CHS's own Chris Tomaino served as master of ceremonies.

Excitement extended well beyond the auditorium doors. In the lobby and halls, kids enjoyed carnival-themed crafts, an instrument scavenger hunt, and an instrument petting zoo—hosted by Elefante Music and School for the Performing Arts—where everyone got an up-close look at some of the instruments being played inside.

Al Elefante, owner of the school and a musician himself, enjoyed the event. "It's always good to see kids having fun and doing something good," he said.

A balloon artist named Silly Willy delighted everyone with his hand-twisted balloon creations.

Fourth-grade orchestra member, Issei Fondi, stood patiently as a crowd grew around him watching Silly Willy encase Fondi in a flying dragon balloon sculpture. Silly Willy constructed a balloon car around another student who promptly took off, zooming around the lobby.

Outside, food trucks Twelve Truck and Eddie Dee's Global Eats served hot food to the chilly crowd.

A mobile coffee trailer slated for the event was incapacitated but drinks from Dunkin' on Main Street came to the rescue. Freshmen Key Club members Summer Tedesco and Lacey Polychronopoulos helped set up a pop-up coffee station and ably filled the need for coffee and hot chocolate.

TROOP 8 SCOUTS MAKE 100 LUNCHES FOR NEEDY NEIGHBORS

A group of Troop 8 scouts gathered on March 5th at the troop’s headquarters to pack 100 lunches to benefit the Chatham United Methodist Church (CUMC) Community Food Pantry.

Charley Baird-Hassell, who sings in CUMC’s choir, organized the effort for his Scouting for Food service project. Fellow scouts Matthew Engel and Ben Bernich helped decorate and fill the bags at the troop’s homebase at Ogden Memorial Presbyterian Church in Chatham.

Local food markets, Kings of Chatham and Stop and Shop of Madison, donated gift cards toward the purchase of provisions.

Baird-Hassell was planning to do a food drive for the pantry, but learned that there was also a need for pre-made lunches.

Every Wednesday, 30 to 50 cars— containing from one person to entire families — line up in the church’s driveway, sometimes spilling onto Main Street, to receive groceries.

It is nice to offer them a ready-made meal, too, said senior pastor, Rev. Jeff Markay. Most of the recipients are from Chatham and neighboring towns.

The physical pantry, which is located in two sheds behind the church, is accessible 24 hours a day, seven days a week. It was organized in the early days of the Covid-19 pandemic to help neighbors in need. The pantry’s motto is, “Take what you need, leave what you can.”

“Troop 8 has helped collect food for the pantry in the past”, said Bob Weber, assistant Scoutmaster, who helped with the service project.

The pantry is always in need of pasta, all canned proteins, boxes of cereal, baking mixes, dried and canned beans, baby wipes, diaper cream and personal care items.

SUMMIT COLLEGE CLUB: BOOK DONATIONS AND SALE

Summit College Club will hold its annual Book Sale in mid-April. “Summit College Club is more than a hundred years old,” said Lynne Rogerson, president, “and we have been holding the Book Sale for more than fifty. It is one of the largest book sales in the area and our major fundraising event. We believe in it! The Book Sale recycles used books, it provides new reading to people at very low cost, and the profits we derive are all used to fund scholarships for deserving local students. What could be better?”

DONATIONS
As in the past, Summit College Club’s Book Sale will fill the American Legion Post 433 building at 357 Elkwood Avenue (right next to the town library) in New Providence. People with books to donate are asked to bring them to that building on four days only: Friday, April 14, from 1 to 7 p.m., and Saturday through Monday, April 15, 16, and 17, from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m.

The sale accepts a variety of media in good condition: books, CDs, DVDs, etc. It does not accept encyclopedias, magazines, manuals, textbooks, or VHS tapes. Volunteers go to work, rapidly sorting and arranging the books into about 50 categories, from astronomy to zoology, with fiction, children’s books, cookbooks, history, and biography among the largest.

“We are always surprised,” said Rogerson, “at the number and variety of books that we receive. Our area is rich in readers.”

SALE
The actual sale starts about 40 hours after donations end: April 19 through 23. Nearly all the items will sell for 50 cents, one, or two dollars. On opening day, April 19, from 9 a.m. – 2 p.m., the sale has a $25 admission charge. Although everyone is welcome, the customers on that day are traditionally book sellers from the tristate area. Admission on the next four days, April 20 through 23, is free of charge. Hours are: Thursday and Friday, 4/20 and 4/21, from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m.; Saturday, 4/22, from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m., and Sunday, Bag Day, 4/23, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. On Sunday, the final day, readers may fill a grocery bag with printed books for $5 or with electronic media for $10. Masks are recommended in the hall during donations and the sale. Summit College Club, a branch of the American Association of University Women, is dedicated to advancing gender equity through research, education, and advocacy. The profits from the SCC Book Sale help fund annually awarded scholarships for local college-bound high school seniors. Last year alone, the club gave away $27,000. Volunteers are more than welcome and are needed to gather, categorize, and arrange the books before the sale, and to straighten the various book areas during the sale. Anyone interested in volunteering should go to the web site, summitcollegeclub.org, Events/Book Sale, and then scroll down to the Volunteer With Us box. Anyone interested in joining Summit College Club should go to the web site, summitcollegeclub.org, Membership, and then scroll down to Join Today. Anyone interested in reading should come to the sale! For information, email summitcollegeclub@gmail.com.

Feeling less sharp?
Your brain may need more sound

Good hearing helps your brain stay sharp
Along with your ears, your brain plays an important role in hearing. Your brain gets the rich input it needs to make sense of the many sounds around you, so you can focus on what’s important. But when your brain lacks access to some sounds due to a hearing problem, it has to work harder to fill in gaps, which can be tiring. It also means you could be missing out or feeling that you are not at your best. That’s why we’re excited to offer Oticon Real™, a hearing aid that supports how your brain naturally processes sounds—so you can stay sharp in every moment.

Summer Athlete Performance Camp in Berkeley Heights

Discover how to get your children strong, fast, and confident this summer...so they can become the best athletes they can be.

This program is for your child if:

- They want to get better at sports but struggle because of lack of speed, strength or stamina.
- They eat more junk food than healthy food and you need another voice to help them understand how important a healthy diet is during these developmental years.
- They need to improve their confidence and you want them to start to get better at recovering from their mistakes.
- They're doing pretty good right now but want to take their performance in their sport to a higher level.

Here's what parents can expect to happen:

- They will get stronger which means when they show up to their sport they'll be able to perform better than ever.
- They will run faster and jump higher so they can show up to their next season and people will start asking what the heck have they been doing.
- They'll become more coordinated and improve agility which means they'll pick up new skills their coaches teach them faster.
- Your children will start to eat better because we'll be educating them daily on what's good and what they should avoid...don't be surprised if they start asking you to buy more vegetables.
- Confidence will skyrocket. When kids get stronger, faster and more fit...their confidence will rise ...so will their self-esteem which means their performance in every aspect of life will get better.
- Their mindset will improve. We're going equip your child with very specific mindset skills that'll help them learn how to transform how they think about mistakes and failures.

NATIVE PLANTS FOR POLLINATORS SALE

The Chatham Borough Environmental Commission will once again be sponsoring the GSWA's 3rd Annual Native Plants for Pollinator Sale (online).

GSWA and its many community partners including Chatham Borough's Environmental Commission, will host our 3rd Annual Plants for Pollinators online sale with convenient order pickup at multiple local sites. Order online April 3-28 and pickup your plants May 6. Whether you are looking to expand your garden or you're ready to start one, we've got the native plants you need. And we've taken the guesswork out of it with a variety of pre-packaged plant plugs (young plants) that when placed together, create a beautiful, functioning pollinator garden. Plants can also be purchased in units of plugs.

Email PlantSale@GreatSwamp.org or ChathamBoroughGreen@gmail.com for more information.

CHATHAM-MADISON SPRING YARD SALE

The next Chatham-Madison Town-Wide Yard Sale will be held rain or shine on Saturday, April 29 from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. in Chatham Borough, Chatham Township and Madison. Once again, this popular community event features a fundraiser for the Great Swamp Watershed Association (GSWA).

Residents may list their sales on a digital map with a $10 tax-deductible donation to GSWA by visiting: greatswamp.org/event/yard-sale-april-2022/

The GSWA and the three towns will publicize the map extensively through their media outlets. Previous yard sales have attracted hundreds of shoppers from PA, NY and all over NJ. The spring 2021 event featured 110 household sales with hundreds of items changing hands, raising $1,100 for the GSWA.

This event is open and free for all residents of the three towns. You don't need a permit or other official registration. You don't need to join the digital map to take part (although it is a good way to attract buyers, particularly if you list the available items). You don't need to pay to advertise your sale anywhere else, the marketing is extensive, but can if you want to. Put signs in your neighborhood to help buyers find your event on the morning of the sale.

Homeowners can arrange pickups of sale leftovers by contacting the following nonprofits: Vietnam Veterans of America (vva.org), Lupus Foundation of America (lupuspickup.org), GreenDrop (gogreendrop.com), Market Street Mission – clothing only (marketstreet.org), and Habitat for Humanity's ReStore (morrisrestore.org/donate) does some pickups; it accepts antiques, furniture, flooring, brand new plumbing, painting supplies, doors and more.

For questions regarding the yard sale, please contact MEC@rosenet.org.

REV. THOMAS A. BROWN RECEIVES CLERGY RENEWAL GRANT

The Presbyterian Church of Chatham Township (PCCT) has announced that its Associate Pastor for Congregational Life, the Rev. Thomas A. Brown, will participate this year in the National Clergy Renewal Program, which is funded by the Lilly Endowment Inc., and administered by the Christian Theological Seminary in Indianapolis.

This competitive program allows Christian congregations to support their pastors with the gift of extended time away from their ministerial duties and responsibilities. According to the Seminary, the grants honor pastors for their extraordinary service, and enable them to engage in a brief period of rest and renewal with the goal of invigorating their leadership and bringing new vitality to their congregations.

PCCT recently celebrated Rev. Brown's 10th anniversary with the church, where he plays a key role guiding programs focused on mission and community service, congregational care and fellowship, and youth and family ministries. In addition, he has been chosen as Moderator of The Presbytery of the Highlands for 2023. The Presbytery provides support and resources to nearly 80 Presbyterian Church USA congregations in seven counties in Northwest New Jersey.

Rev. Brown will take his renewal time, or sabbatical, in two six-week periods. His plans include experiences to address spiritual and personal renewal, to travel with family, and to reestablish important professional connections with mentors and former colleagues who have played a significant role in his life journey.

The Presbyterian Church of Chatham Township is a vibrant, multi-generational congregation that celebrates the glory of God through faith, fellowship and service. Drawing members from three counties and more than 20 communities, it welcomes all, whether you are a young family, a single adult, or a couple with grown children. The congregation reflects diverse perspectives, provides rich music and education programs for all ages, and through social outreach addresses hunger, homelessness and recovery from disasters or other crises.

Follow PCCT on Facebook and Instagram to see the church in action. For more information, visit pcct-nj.org or call 973-635-2340.

EDUCATING THOSE WITH AN ONGOING HEALTH CONDITION

Are you an adult age 55 or older with an ongoing or long-term health condition or their caregivers? Put life back in your life and Take Control of Your Health. Sponsored by the Westfield Regional and Bloomfield Health Departments, you'll get the support you need, find practical ways to deal with pain and fatigue, discover better nutrition and exercise choices, understand new treatment choices, and learn better ways to talk with your doctor and family about your health.

If you have conditions such as diabetes, arthritis, high blood pressure, heart disease, chronic pain, or anxiety, join us for this free, 2 ½ hour program at Library of the Chathams, 214

Main Street in Chatham beginning on Tuesday, April 11 at 1:30 pm.

This educational program offers six lessons that cover a wide range of topics. Participants will have an opportunity to meet new people and learn:

How to manage your symptoms. How to get started with healthy eating and exercise. How to communicate effectively with your doctor. How to manage fear, anger, and frustration. How to make daily tasks easier. Free refreshments will be served at each lesson.

For more information or to register, please contact Amy Lewis at 908-789-4070 ext. 4080 or alewis@westfieldnj.gov.

BOROUGH GOVERNMENT

Volunteers are essential to the operation of Borough government. The Mayor and Council Members are volunteers and receive no compensation. Volunteers also serve on the Borough’s Boards. Volunteer applications are available on the Borough website or can be obtained at the Borough Clerk’s office.

FIRE DEPARTMENT

The Chatham Borough Fire Department is accepting applications for new volunteers. To volunteer with the Chatham Borough Fire Department, either as an adult member (18 years or older) or a junior member (16-18 years) contact the Fire Chief at 973-635-9090.

Training is provided through the Morris County Police & Fire Training Academy for certification by the New Jersey Division of Fire Safety in Firefighter One

CHATHAM EMERGENCY SQUAD

The Chatham Emergency Squad (CES) is accepting applications for new volunteers. CES members ride one-day or one-night shift per week. Prior training isn’t necessary to apply.
