FLORHAM PARK LIQUORS HOSTS GRAND RE-OPENING

Florham Park Liquors, is now under the new ownership of the Patel Family. A Grand Re-Opening was held on Saturday, December 9, 2023. It was opened to the public and those attending were treated to food supplied by the Mexican Spice Food truck, giveaways, and tastings of various spirits.

Previous owner Jerry Danishek was on hand to help celebrate and wish the new owners good luck. The new owners thanked the Danishek brothers for trusting them to carry on his legacy and for guiding them on enhancing their brand. Danishek will continue as manager and stated, "Our objective is to bring a continual, exciting experience by introducing a wide variety of products."

The store, located at 184 Columbia Turnpike, in Florham Park, NJ opened in 1956. For nearly 60 years it supplied locals with an excellent selection of quality liquor, wine, and beer. The liquor store has been an integral part of the community and has catered to generations of customers. The Patel family would like to continue that tradition and they look forward to getting to know their new neighbors.

Florham Park Liquors prides itself on its knowledgeable staff and great customer service. The staff attends wine classes in order to help customers select the perfect bottle of wine for any situation. Because they take the time to pay attention to details, Florham Park Liquors has been able to build a loyal return customer base.

The newly renovated, reconfigured store accommodates a larger inventory. Patel added "The scotch, bourbon, tequila, vodka, wine, and beer selections we be continually upgraded. We have over one hundred varieties of craft beer."

POLICE TRADING CARD CONTEST

The Florham Park Police trading card contest recently came to an end. The goal of this contest was to collect all 40 of our personnel's cards before the contest window closed. This program was a great opportunity for our residents to meet and get to know all of our officers and for all of our officers to meet and get to know our residents! We thank you all for making this program a success. Those who completed the contest were awarded a special prize that was delivered to them in school by our SROs, Officer Kevin Langereis and Officer Faith Carney. Although the contest is over, we still have cards to give out and residents to meet so keep it going!

STORIES FROM THE MAYFLOWER: WHAT WERE THEY THINKING?

Submitted by Peter Nicolas

What a marvelous presentation by Patricia Wells, on Monday, November 13, to a packed house at the Florham Park Library! If we had lowered the ceiling to 5 feet it would have given an impression of how just how crowded the Pilgrims felt in sailing over, as they basically sat in place for 66 days!

Ms. Wells is the vice president of the Chatham Township Historical Society, and an amateur historian, researcher and speaker. She is also a descendant of two of the Pilgrims who came over on the Mayflower. Indeed, the evening audience included two others who had ancestors on the ship.

Pat's interactive style of presentation of having the audience rate the various situations the Pilgrims face helped keep everyone involved during the presentation in addition to the facts she shared that students may not have heard while attending elementary school.

She shared, for example, that the second half of the voyage was very rough and thus it took 66 days to make the trip and landing at "Plymouth Rock" was not their original destination. That the Mayflower was actually a merchant ship meant to deliver cargo, not people. So just imagine the arrangements for the 102 passengers, including three pregnant women jammed together. She shared a variety of reasons why the Pilgrims were not prepared for the first winter when more than half died from the bitter cold, late departure and a longer than planned trip being just two reasons.

For the younger readers of this article, it may be interesting to note that actress Tamera Mowry-Housley. (Tia & Tamera, The Real, and Home & Family) is a Mayflower descendant. Coincidentally, a PBS Special – "Finding Your Roots" was broadcast on Sunday and I saw that she was completely surprised to learn that, per Peter Nicolas, vice president of the Historical Society of Florham Park.

For anyone interested in learning more about the Mayflower, here are a few recommendations from Patricia Wells: Mayflower: A Story of Courage, Community, and War, Nathaniel Philbrick; Of Plymouth Plantation, William Bradford (archive.org); Caleb Johnson's MayflowerHistory.com; American Ancestors by the New England Historic Genealogical Society, americanancestors.org

The Historical Society of Florham Park was founded in the 1930s to save and preserve the Little Red Schoolhouse. Located on the corner of Columbia Turnpike and Ridgedale Avenue the former schoolhouse was converted into a museum and is the symbol of Florham Park. Virtually all the artifacts in the museum were donated to and are the responsibility of the Historical Society. The Historical Society looks forward to once again opening the museum up again in 2024 on the first Sunday of each month to offer tours of the museum

LIBRARY MINICOURSES WINTER 2024

The Friends of the Madison Public Library are offering two new minicourses for the Winter 2024 Semester to begin on January 29 and 31. The minicourses will cover topics relating to the 'U.S. Civil War' and 'Art in the U.S. from the American Revolution to the Civil War.' All classes will be held in person for five consecutive weeks at the Florham Park Library while the Madison Library is undergoing renovations.

"The United States Civil War" taught by Dr. Gary Darden, Associate Professor of History and Chair of the Department of Social Sciences and History at Fairleigh Dickinson University will be held Monday afternoons from 1:00 to 3:00 p.m. on January 29, February 5, 12, 19 and 26. The lectures will cover the Civil War in U.S. history with a look at its origins in slavery — from its common practice in colonial times to that "peculiar institution" that endured the first 87 years of the American Republic. The insurrection of 1860-1865 was the most violent conflict in U.S. history and one that redefined both democracy and citizenship and became an era justly called the "Second American Revolution" for its destruction of slavery in a preserved and redefined Union.

The five lectures are as follows:

1. "Original Sin: American Slavery from the Age of Compromise to the Age of Crisis: 1776-1859"
2. "Ballots to Bullets: the 1860 Election to the Secessions of 1860-1861"
3. "Presidents & Generals: Strategies for Confederate Victory & Strategies for Union Victory"
4. "Blood & Redemption in 1862: Antietam & Emancipation // Alters of Sacrifice in 1863: Gettysburg, Vicksburg & New York City"
5. "The Long View of Union Victory in 1865: the Civil War as the Second American Revolution"

"Art in the United States from the American Revolution to the Civil War" by Dr. Kimberly

Rhodes, NEH Distinguished Teaching Professor in the Humanities and Professor of Art History, Drew University will be held Wednesday mornings from 10:00 to 11:50 a.m. on January 31, February 7, 14, 21 and 28. The series will cover the development of the visual arts in the United States from colonial times to the 1860s. Topics will include the discussion of exchanges between European and American artists, the education of American artists in Europe and the United States, the relationship between political events and visual culture, and the creation of professional institutions. Artists under discussion will include John Singleton Copley, Benjamin West, John Trumbull, Charles Willson Peale, Thomas Cole, Frederic Edwin Church, and Winslow Homer.

The tuition for each course is $95. No refunds or credits will be issued once the course begins. These minicourses are organized by the all-volunteer Friends of the Madison Public Library, a nonprofit 501(c)(3) organization. All proceeds benefit the Madison Public Library.

These non-credit courses are open to the public with no prerequisites or examinations. For more information or to register, please visit www.minicoursesmadisonlibrary.org, or friendsmadisonnjlibrary.org. Email: minicoursesmadisonlibrary@gmail.com. Phone: Leave a message at 929-450-7940. Students will be notified by email in the event of a cancellation due to inclement weather.
