INITIATIVE ADVANCES ADOLESCENT MENTAL HEALTH

The Scotch Plains-Fanwood Public Schools is proud to announce the outstanding success of its teen Mental Health First Aid (tMHFA) certification program. This year, 329 high school students completed the program, marking a significant milestone as the initiative enters its second year. This remarkable achievement highlights the district's dedication to prioritizing the mental well-being of its students.

Recognizing the concerning increase in mental health challenges among adolescents across the nation, SPF initiated the program last year with funding from the Mental Health Association of New Jersey and the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA).

The district offers the course to its 11th-grade students as an integral component of their health curriculum. This course is designed to provide students with the necessary tools to recognize, comprehend, and respond to indicators of mental health and substance use issues among their peers. The tMHFA certification program, initially developed in Australia and adapted for the United States by the National Council for Mental Wellbeing and Born This Way Foundation, aligns with New Jersey's comprehensive health standards, incorporating mental and emotional health components into the district's curriculum.

"Our commitment to promoting mental wellness extends beyond the classroom," said Kristine Iarussi, Scotch Plains-Fanwood Public Schools' Director of Counseling, Health and Wellness. "With over half of our high school students trained in tMHFA, we've empowered our student community to act proactively to recognize and address mental health concerns."

Participation in the certification program is a school-wide effort with health teachers undergoing training sessions conducted by the National Council for Mental Wellbeing. This comprehensive approach ensures that educators are well-prepared to effectively guide students through the curriculum.

As students navigate the complexities of modern life, including academic pressures, social dynamics, and familial expectations, initiatives like tMHFA can play a pivotal part in supplying them with the skills to promote resilience and well-being. Student testimonials underscore the program's impact on fostering a supportive environment where individuals feel encouraged to address mental health challenges. Ellie Szopinski, 16, emphasized the importance of approaching mental health discussions with empathy and understanding.

"The course allowed us to approach people from a neutral standpoint where we can help even if we're not close to them," she shared.

"The most notable thing was learning to recognize the behaviors themselves and how to identify these crises and stop them before they become life-threatening," Ant Butters, 16, added.

Saman Zeb, 17, highlighted the significance of destigmatizing mental health issues and promoting open dialogue.

"Mental health is often overlooked," Zeb said. "It's nice to have a course that allows you to take a deep breath and realize that your mental health and the mental health of others is really important."

Students also said the class encourages self-preservation.

"I feel like it's just as important for people to educate themselves not only to help others but also to help themselves," Cooper Tamase, 16, said, adding that mental health has been a focus of his for years.

The Spring Luncheon Fundraiser recently hosted by the College Club of Fanwood-Scotch Plains was the culmination of many months of planning and working together by the college club members to raise funds for the club's scholarship fund. Since its founding in 1933, the college club remains committed to its mission of supporting young women through scholarships. Sincere thanks are extended to all members of the community who donated raffle items, purchased raffle tickets, silent auction tickets. Attended the event and made direct donations to the scholarship fund in lieu of attending.

The annual spring event is a major fundraiser for the College Club and the "April in Paris" themed luncheon added $18, 860 to the club's scholarship fund. The scholarship committee is looking forward to announcing the scholarship recipients for the 2024-2025 academic. The club will be able to award $31,000 in scholarships due to successful fundraising support. To date the College Club of F-SP has awarded approximately $780,000 in scholarships to local young women.

The luncheon was held at the Westwood in Garwood and the attractive venue was enjoyed by all attendees along with the attentive wait staff the fine dining luncheon menu.

The delightful musical entertainment provided by the Harmonics quartet added a high note to an enjoyable afternoon and a successful fundraiser.

SINGER-SONGWRTIERS TO PERFORM - JUNE 8

The Fanwood Performance Series presents the music of singer-songwriters Nicola Vazquez and Ryan Harris Brown on Saturday, June 8, 2024, at the Kuran Cultural Arts Center, a.k.a. the Carriage House, alongside Borough Hall.

Nicola Vazquez has performed her original blend of rock, pop and soul in venues around the New York area, opened for Eve 6 and Edwin McCain, and shared stages with Ricky Martin and other recording artists. An accomplished singer, songwriter, guitarist, keyboardist, actor and dancer, she has performed on Broadway and participated in the MTA’s “Music Under New York” program.

Regular patrons may remember Ryan Harris Brown from his 2018 Fanwood Performance Series show. Brown uses his love of intimate storytelling and his expert musicianship to create songs that are both thought provoking and unforgettable. He cites John Mayer, Ben Folds and James Taylor among his musical influences.

Showtime is 7 p.m. at the Carriage House, 135 Watson Road just west of Martine Avenue.

Admission is $15 for adults, $10 for students and seniors – cash at the door.

Reservations are strongly recommended. Seating is limited, and recent shows have packed the house. While advance tickets are not available, music fans are urged to RSVP by email to fanwoodperformance@gmail.com to reserve seats. “We want to avoid turning anyone away at the door,” said Dan Murphy, the series’ volunteer coordinator.

The Fanwood Performance Series is a presentation of Mayor Colleen Mahr and the Fanwood Borough Cultural Arts Council. It is made possible in part by a HEART (History, Education, Arts Reaching Thousands) Grant from the Union County Board of County Commissioners.

After a summer break, the music will continue with shows on Sept. 14, Oct. 19 and Nov. 9. The fall performer lineup will be announced soon.

Music fans can find more information and updates at the series website fanwoodperformanceseries.org.

ANDREW SMITH ASSUMES PLEBE LEADERSHIP POSITION

U.S. Military Academy

The U.S. Military Academy recently announced the names of the cadets from the Class of 2027 selected to lead the Corps during its annual Plebe Parent Weekend. These fundamental roles are the top positions within the Corps charged with carrying out the responsibilities of leadership of the cadets. Brigade Information Systems Officer: Andrew Smith, from Fanwood, NJ, was among the cadets who assumed their leadership duties on March 22, 2024.

This is a key step in the leadership development of the fourth class as it provides them with their first opportunity to serve in various leadership roles. Additionally, it is a unique time, without upper-class presence, that affords the Plebes a significant bonding experience. Lastly, it is the U.S. Military Academy's and the Class of 2027's opportunity to showcase to parents, family, and friends the extraordinary transformation of these cadets.

"This year's cadet leaders have distinguished themselves amongst their peers, consistently demonstrating academic, military, and physical excellence throughout their time here, more importantly, they have demonstrated the exceptional moral character that leadership demands," said Commandant of Cadets Maj. Gen. Lori Robinson.

URGENT NEED FOR VOLUNTEER ADVOCATES FOR FOSTER YOUTH

Information sessions to be held in June in Clark and Elizabeth

Five-year-old Jennifer is diagnosed with autism and almost completely nonverbal. Due to excessive violence in the family home, a concerned neighbor called for help and, after investigation, Jennifer was placed in foster care. The two phrases Jennifer can say graphically depict violence witnessed at home and confirm trauma she's endured. Since entering care and being enrolled in school, it's evident Jennifer has also experienced educational neglect. At age three, she was entitled to an Individualized Education Plan from the Department of Education to provide such intervention services as in-home speech and behavioral therapies, both helpful for future enrollment in a half-day educational program. Unfortunately, Jennifer's parents neglected to utilize these services and she is now more than two years behind her peers.

Jennifer is one of more than 500 children removed from home in Passaic and Union counties each year due to abuse and neglect. Currently, there is an urgent need for advocates to serve Union County children, as there are more than 250 children in the foster care system, with just 72 children being served. These children are separated from all they've ever known: parents, siblings, friends, teachers, and their belongings. For Jennifer, the road ahead is long, and she needs a caring, consistent adult in her corner to protect her best interests while in foster care. That's where Child Focus comes in. Specifically, its Court Appointed Special Advocate (CASA) program.

Said Executive Director Erica Fischer-Kaslander, "We are committed to recruiting, screening, and training advocates for every child in Union County who needs one, just as we've done in Passaic County. It is difficult to overstate the difference a CASA volunteer can make in the life of a child removed from home through no fault of their own, often due to abuse or neglect." She added, "Children with volunteer advocates are more likely to have needed services ordered on their behalf, spend less time in the foster system, and experience significantly better outcomes than those who go without. Becoming a CASA volunteer requires a significant time commitment and training, but volunteers often find the work as life-changing for themselves as it is for the children they help."

CASA volunteers are trained on the ins and outs of advocating for child-victims and fully supported by CASA staff. No special background in child welfare is necessary; successful CASA volunteers are dedicated community members with varied life experiences who believe abuse and neglect are non-negotiable. CASA volunteers visit the children, make unbiased observations, interview others in the child's life, and make recommendations to the judge. They often are the only consistent adult in the life of a child involved in the child welfare system, as caseworkers, professionals, and placements are ever-changing. A CASA volunteer provides continuity during a time of chaos and unknowns.

The first step to training is to attend an information session. Choose from Thursday, June 6 at 5:30 p.m., and Thursday, June 27 at 5:30 p.m., at the Clark Public Library, 303 Westfield Avenue in Clark; Monday, June 10 at noon, at the Child Focus office at 1143 East Jersey Street, 2nd Floor, Elizabeth, NJ 07201; or Wednesday, June 5 at 5:30 p.m., Wednesday, June 12 at noon, or Monday, June 17 at 5:30 p.m. at the Wayne Child Focus office, 415 Hamburg Turnpike, Suite D2. Register now at casapassaicunion.org/info-session.

ABOUT CHILD FOCUS:

Child Focus prioritizes the needs and well-being of infants, children and teens impacted by, or at risk of, abuse or neglect by amplifying their voices and working toward lasting, permanent solutions that address their unique situations and provide support needed to thrive. This critical work is accomplished through three distinct but complementary programs: CASA of Passaic and Union Counties, NJ Safe Babies Court Team, and the Open Door Store. FANWOOD FD RECEIVES $70K GRANT FUNDING

The Borough of Fanwood has been awarded a $70,000 grant award from the NJ Department of Community Affairs (DCA) American Rescue Plan (ARP) Grant Fund to purchase 15 sets of turnout coats and pants for the borough's volunteer fire department. The grant supports regional and local firefighter departments to ensure they have proper protection, cleaning, and sanitization equipment. These are funds available through the American Rescue Plan disbursed by the New Jersey DCA.

"The Fanwood Volunteer Fire Department is pleased to have been chosen to receive $70,000 in this year's NJ DCA American Rescue Plan Grant. PPE (personal protective equipment) is the most important equipment we own. The safety of our membership with high-quality protective equipment allows us to perform with courage and confidence, while moving forward into dangerous environments," Fire Chief John Piccola said. "We will be replacing all necessary gear with at least 14 full sets."
