GROW IT GREEN - GROWING FOOD, GROWING COMMUNITY

Thank you for visiting and shopping at our Urban Farm this season. As we slow things down, and start tucking our beds in for the winter, we reminisce on our successes and the people who continuously support us, like you!

A note from Farmer Shaun... "We have had an amazing season and I can't thank you enough for being there with us throughout it all. It is such a pleasure to grow produce for such a wonderful community. I have been growing for 15 years now, and the skills and friendships I have made along the way is what makes this farm such an amazing place. Each year we learn new skills and make new friends who continue to be a part of this community of growers. I am so proud of all our interns and farmers who made this season such a success. We should all give our high school interns a big high five as they really came together to make this season happen. Many of our interns are in their first year and I can't wait to have them back next season. The respect we all have for this farm is something to cherish, and I look forward to seeing you all again next season."

Come visit our team at the Grow It Green Winter Market, starting December 7th. We will be selling our produce once a month, so you can still get a taste of our local harvest. For more info visit: growitgreenmorristown.org

COUNTDOWN TO JULY 4TH, 2026

America250 - In New Jersey & Nationwide

Next year, on July 4, 2026, the United States of America will commemorate and celebrate the 250th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. This historic milestone is an opportunity to pause and reflect on our country's past, to honor the contributions of all Americans, and to also look ahead towards the future that we want to create and leave behind for the next generation of Americans.

On the federal level, America250.org is a nonpartisan initiative working to engage every American in commemorating the 250th anniversary of our country. This multi-year effort, from now through July 4, 2026, is an opportunity to pause and reflect on our nation's past, honor the contributions of all Americans, and look ahead toward the future we want to create for the next generation and beyond.

In New Jersey, RevolutionNJ.org has been set up and is a partnership between the New Jersey Historical Commission (NJHC), a division of the New Jersey Department of State, and the nonprofit Crossroads of the American Revolution Association to plan the commemoration of the 250th anniversary of the American Revolution in New Jersey.

KATHLEEN BARTLETT TO LEAD MACCULLOCH HALL HISTORICAL MUSEUM

Macculloch Hall Historical Museum

The Board of Trustees of Macculloch Hall Historical Museum (MHHM) is pleased to announce the appointment of Kathleen Bartlett as its Executive Director, effective November 1, 2025.

A close neighbor of the Museum, Bartlett has long been part of Macculloch Hall—as a supporter, volunteer, and most recently, Trustee. As a Morristown resident, she brings a deep appreciation for the region's history and its role in shaping the American story, along with a steadfast commitment to inspire learning, civic engagement, and stewardship of local heritage.

Bartlett joins MHHM with extensive experience in marketing, communications, and educational outreach for local non-profit organizations. Most recently, she served as Associate Director of Marketing and Communications at Gill St. Bernard's School, where she developed campaigns that elevated the school's visibility and strengthened its relationships with the wider community. She holds a Master of Fine Arts in Writing and has taught English literature at Montclair State University and Fairleigh Dickinson University.

"Macculloch Hall has undergone an extraordinary transformation over the last decade—from achieving national accreditation by the American Alliance of Museums to expanding its reach globally through Bloomberg Connects," Bartlett said. "As we celebrate the Museum's 75th anniversary and look ahead to the nation's 250th, I am honored to work alongside the Board and MHHM's dedicated staff to broaden awareness of this remarkable institution and to share history in ways that meaningfully connect the past and present."

"Katie's deep roots in Morristown and her dedication to the Museum's mission make her an ideal leader for this next chapter," said Jock Clark, President of the Board of Trustees. "Her passion for education and community connection will ensure that Macculloch Hall continues to thrive as both a historic treasure and a vital part of Morristown's cultural life."

Founded in 1950, the Museum preserves and interprets the 1810 Federal-style home and gardens of George and Louisa Macculloch, who helped define Morristown's role in early American civic life. It holds the nation's largest single collection of works by American political cartoonist Thomas Nast as well as an extensive fine and decorative arts collection.

An avid gardener, Bartlett joins a line of directors who view MHHM's historic gardens as both sanctuary and classroom. Under her leadership, the Museum will continue to expand its impact and build upon its legacy of preservation, education, and public service.

ABOUT MACCULLOCH HALL HISTORICAL MUSEUM

Macculloch Hall Historical Museum invites visitors to experience American history in the rooms and gardens where it unfolded. The 1810 Federal-style home of George and Louisa Macculloch stands at the crossroads of Morristown's—and the nation's—continuing story. Accredited by the American Alliance of Museums, MHHM houses the nation's largest collection of political cartoons by Thomas Nast and an extensive fine and decorative arts portfolio. Through exhibitions, lectures, and hands-on programs, the Museum encourages visitors to see how history is not static but continually rewritten through new voices and changing perspectives.

The Museum is open Saturday and Sunday from 12:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. and on weekdays by appointment. Please call (973) 538-2404 or email info@maccullochhall.org to schedule a visit. The gardens are open daily, free of charge, 8:00 a.m. to dusk. # ENROLLING IN MEDICARE AND UPDATING YOUR PLAN

By George Sosa, President, The Sosa Insurance Group

Turning 65 marks eligibility for Medicare, a federal health insurance program designed for seniors and certain individuals with disabilities. While the system can be complex, resources are available to help beneficiaries navigate enrollment, updates, and plan changes to ensure their coverage continues to meet their needs.

Original Medicare consists of Part A (hospital insurance) and Part B (medical insurance). Part A covers hospital stays, skilled nursing facilities, home health, and hospice care. Part B focuses on outpatient care, doctor visits, preventive screenings, and therapies. While comprehensive, Original Medicare leaves gaps in coverage, which can be supplemented through Medigap policies. These help with deductibles, co-pays, and sometimes foreign travel coverage, offering flexibility and predictability.

Medicare Advantage (Part C), offered by private insurers, combines Parts A and B and often includes additional benefits like vision, dental, hearing, fitness programs, and lower premiums. These plans have out-of-pocket maximums, but often require use of in-network providers.

Prescription drug coverage (Part D) is also offered through private plans. Each plan has a formulary outlining covered medications, cost-sharing structures, and potential coverage gaps, though assistance programs like "Extra Help" exist for those with limited income. New Jersey also provides state assistance through PAAD and Senior Gold to help seniors manage prescription drug costs.

For higher-income beneficiaries, Medicare applies IRMAA (Income-Related Monthly Adjustment Amount), which adds extra costs to Part B and D premiums based on IRS tax information.

Enrollment timing is crucial. While some may delay enrollment due to employer coverage, late enrollment penalties apply if coverage lapses without creditable insurance.

Every year, Medicare beneficiaries have an opportunity to review and adjust their coverage. The Annual Enrollment Period (October 15 – December 7) allows switching between Original Medicare and Advantage plans, adding or changing drug plans, or returning to Original Medicare. Any changes take effect January 1. Additionally, the Medicare Advantage Open Enrollment (January 1 – March 31) allows those in Advantage plans to switch or return to Original Medicare.

When evaluating options, beneficiaries should consider cost, provider networks, additional benefits, drug coverage, and changes in their health or medications.

Understanding Medicare is the first step to making the best decisions for your health and budget. If you'd like help comparing plans or reviewing your coverage for 2026, The Sosa Insurance Group is here to guide you every step of the way. Contact us at 973-902-5445 to schedule a one-on-one review about your Medicare choices.

FREE ZOOM SERIES 'OBJECTS OF SURVIVAL: MATERIAL CULTURE AND HOLOCAUST MEMORY'

Dr. Angela West, adjunct professor in Drew University's Holocaust Studies Department, will present a free two-part Zoom series, titled "Objects of Survival: Material Culture and Holocaust Memory," on Thursdays, Dec. 4 and 11, at 1 p.m. via Zoom.

The series, sponsored by National Council of Jewish Women (NCJW), West Morris Section and coordinated by the Our Jewish World program, will offer a singular look at how Holocaust captives remained emotionally strong and survived during this most unimaginable of times through "material objects"--items they created, preserved, or stole from World War II Germany.

Our Jewish World is coordinated by Melanie Levitan and Ilene Dorf Manahan, both of Morristown.

Dr. West will focus on a variety of objects that have since served as powerful tools for uncovering and interpreting Holocaust history. Some of the donated historical items have connections to Morris County community members and their experiences.

"The tactile and deep human connection to objects and artifacts tells of individuals' lives and communal experiences during World War II and offers powerful insights into the history of the Holocaust," Dr. West explains. "In the ghettos, concentration camps, and places of hiding, both women and men crafted and saved meaningful items that preserved memories, expressed identity, and sustained their spiritual life under impossible conditions."

In the first session, on Dec. 4, Dr. West will review the kind of stories that objects represent about resilience, survival and resistance, and the role such items--that is, the "material culture" created, saved or hidden in ghettos, camps or secret places--now play in helping future generations remember the past. Through the use of such deeply personal artifacts as a prisoner's uniform, handmade art from Bergen-Belsen, and a saved trapped door, Dr. West will make it clear how physical objects can preserve memory and offer new ways of connecting to individuals' stories during times of extremity.

In the second session, on Dec. 11, the speaker will turn to the end of World War II and the liberation of the concentration camps, which marked a turning point, but not an end for Holocaust survivors. In the years that followed, many remained in displaced persons (DP) camps, navigating the challenges of uncertainty while beginning to rebuild their lives. Dr. West will share survivors' testimonies from this complex postwar period through the lens of material culture and will include objects that accompanied individuals on their journeys--items that continued to be material witnesses to resilience, identity, and renewal in their postwar lives and offer powerful insights into how people chose to carry memory and reclaim agency in the aftermath of the Holocaust.

Dr. West emphasizes, "Understanding this 'material culture' is particularly helpful to know, especially as the survivor generation continues to shrink and soon the tactile 'things' will be all that remain."

Besides teaching at Drew University, the speaker is also a consulting historian, museum curator, and currently the manager of the Holocaust Remembrance Center at Temple Sinai in Summit. Her recent exhibit documents the stories of child survivors of the Holocaust who now reside in New Jersey. Dr. West is dedicated to advancing public understanding of the Holocaust, far-right extremism, and its implications for contemporary society.

NCJW confronts today's most urgent social and economic challenges facing women, children and families. Powered by the Jewish imperative to ensure dignity for all, we impact policy, advocate for justice, and support the community. Together our voices make a meaningful difference in the world.
