A GIFT THAT CHANGED EVERYTHING FOR MARISSA GOLD

NJ Sharing Network

As the new year inspires reflection and renewed purpose, Marissa Gold - a New Providence resident and school counselor at Governor Livingston High School in Berkeley Heights - is marking 14 years since her life was transformed by organ donation.

Marissa received a lifesaving pancreas transplant on January 11, 2012, after living with Type 1 diabetes for more than 25 years. Despite extensive medical care, her condition remained dangerously uncontrolled, leading to frequent loss of consciousness and serious complications that threatened her future.

“I knew I was heading toward a major crash,” said Marissa. “The transplant felt like my one real hope — and it truly changed everything.”

After just a few months on the transplant waiting list, Marissa received the call in the early hours of a cold, rainy morning and soon underwent surgery at Robert Wood Johnson University Hospital. The impact was immediate.

“The difference was life-changing,” she said. “Everything — my energy, my health, my outlook — felt different almost right away. For the first time in my life, I felt well.”

In the years that followed, Marissa faced unexpected medical challenges that were not related to her transplant, including vision and hearing loss resulting from complications of a serious illness. Even so, she remains unwavering in her belief that the transplant gave her not just more time, but a better life.

“If someone told me they could give me my vision back but take away my transplant, I would never do it,” said Marissa. “My life is so much better because of my organ donor.”

Today, Marissa lives independently and continues to thrive both personally and professionally. With the help of adaptive technology and her service dog, Ocean, she remains fully engaged in her work and daily life.

As a school counselor, she has supported and inspired students at Governor Livingston High School for more than a decade. She also speaks with students and community groups about resilience, accessibility, and the lifesaving impact of organ and tissue donation. Outside of work, Marissa leads an active lifestyle, training with an adaptive running group and participating in CrossFit.

“I feel like I found my inner athlete,” said Marissa. “I’m doing things now that I could never safely do before — and that’s something I don’t take for granted.”

Marissa has written to her organ donor family over the years, expressing gratitude for the gift that forever changed the course of her life. She is optimistic that she will receive a response and continues to honor her donor’s legacy by advocating for NJ Sharing Network.

“Organ and tissue donation doesn’t just save and enhance lives,” she said. “It changes the entire arc of someone’s future. Your legacy continues in ways you may never see — but they are truly meaningful and lasting.”

According to the United Network for Organ Sharing (UNOS), more than 100,000 Americans — including nearly 4,000 New Jerseyans — are currently waiting for a lifesaving organ transplant. One organ and tissue donor can save eight lives and enhance the lives of over 75 others.

THE STRANGE "PILL" A BERKELEY HEIGHTS GYM IS GIVING THEIR CLIENTS OVER 40 — AND WHY THEY SWEAR IT'S MAKING THEM FEEL 6 - 26 YEARS YOUNGER

The "pill" isn't a pill at all. It's a barbell. A set of dumbbells. A kettlebell that feels impossibly heavy on day one and strangely light eight weeks later. And the gym is Gabriele Fitness in Berkeley Heights — guilty as charged — because what they've been doing with their 40+ year old clients really does feel like cheating.

Here's what nobody tells you about life after 40: the exhaustion, the stiffness in your lower back when you stand up from the car, the weight that seems to settle around your middle no matter what you eat, the flight of stairs that leaves you slightly winded — none of that is "just getting older." It's the predictable result of losing muscle. After forty, adults lose roughly 1% of their muscle mass every single year if they don't fight for it. Every month you wait, a little more slips away. By sixty, that compounds into something that feels a lot like aging but is actually something much more fixable.

Lifting weights reverses it. When clients start training, the first thing they notice isn't the number on the scale — though that changes too. The first thing they feel is vitality. They start sleeping deeply through the night. They feel strong and see muscles they didn't know they had. Posture improves. The nagging knee and back pain quiets down because the muscles are finally doing their job. Blood pressure numbers their doctors have been nagging them about for years finally start to move. Energy returns — the kind of energy that makes you volunteer to chase the grandkids around the yard instead of watching from the porch.

The science is almost unfair. Strength training rebuilds the muscle that protects your joints. It revs a slowing metabolism. It triggers the hormones that govern mood and sleep. It rebuilds bone density and sharpens the mind. One behavior, dozens of benefits — stacking on top of each other, week after week.

Most people over 40 come in with something — a bad shoulder, a tweaky knee, a back that went out once and never quite forgave them. That's normal, and it's not a reason to stay on the sidelines. A good program works around those things, not through them. The movements get adjusted, the load gets scaled, and the body gets stronger in the positions it actually lives in. What usually happens over a few months is the opposite of what people expect walking in: the aches they'd written off as permanent start to quiet down.

Here's what separates Gabriele Fitness from the other guys: our clients are busy. They don't have time to figure out what they should be doing in the gym, and they shouldn't have to. They want to show up, have someone tell them exactly what to do, and know it's safe, effective, and dialed in to meet them right where they are that day.

People training on their own or grinding through large group cardio classes don't get that. They either get a workout built for the masses, or they don't get the accountability they need to keep showing up. Neither is what adults over 40 need. They need programming built around their schedules, their training histories, their goals, and the joints they've been using for four or five decades. Every minute of every session is watched by a coach — which means every exercise has a purpose, and every workout has them leaving feeling better than when they walked in.

That's why they keep showing up. Not because they love working out — most of them didn't when they started. They keep showing up because they can feel it working. Because the "pill" is real. Because five, ten, sometimes fifteen years seem to peel off their bodies in the process — and for the next two weeks, we're letting 13 new people feel it for themselves, free.

Don't take our word for it. The faces below belong to accountants and teachers and grandparents and business owners — your neighbors, basically. Read what they say in their own words, then decide if it's your turn.

WHARTON PERFORMING ARTS SCHOOL 2026 SUMMER CAMPS RETURN TO BERKELEY HEIGHTS WITH EXPANDED PROGRAMMING

The Wharton Performing Arts School (PAS) is excited to share that its 2026 summer camps will take place in Berkeley Heights, ensuring campers can enjoy the program's most popular offerings. Full-day camp options are now available for children aged 7 and up, and half-day camp options begin at age 4.

Campers are invited to dive into the world of musical theater through the popular Theater Explorers program, where participants bring a weekly showcase to life based on a fun theme. In the afternoons, campers enjoy guest artist workshops led by Wharton Arts faculty, and Monday through Thursday, they can enjoy swimming at the Berkeley Heights YMCA pool across the street. On Fridays, all campers stay for a final dress rehearsal, culminating in a showcase for friends and family featuring songs, dance, and scenes from the week's camp.

In addition to Theater Explorers, PAS summer camps include programs such as Music Around the World, Meet the Instruments, Piano Explorers, and more, giving young artists a variety of creative experiences throughout the summer.

Said PAS Director Debra Joyal, "There's no place like home! We are thrilled to bring Performing Arts School summer camps back to 60 Locust Ave. This enables us to extend our season by two weeks and significantly enhance our curriculum by offering a full-day option. From working alongside professional artists in our black box theater to sunny afternoons at the Berkeley Heights YMCA pool, we can't wait to share this upgraded experience with your family."

Families interested in registering can find full camp details and schedules online at WhartonArts.org.

Please note: New Jersey Youth Symphony summer camps will continue to take place in New Providence as originally planned.

The Wharton Performing Arts School (PAS) is proud to be part of Wharton Arts, New Jersey's largest independent non-profit community performing arts education center, serving nearly 2,000 students each year through a wide range of programs. PAS has been nurturing artistic excellence and creativity in the community for 40 years. Offering programs in music and performing arts, the school empowers students to develop their talents, confidence, and lifelong appreciation for the arts.

Wharton Arts' mission is to offer accessible, high quality performing arts education that sparks personal growth and builds inclusive communities.

Wharton Arts' vision is for a transformative performing arts education in an inclusive community to be accessible for everyone.

Wharton Arts is New Jersey's largest independent non-profit community performing arts education center serving nearly 2,000 students through a range of classes and ensembles. The 5 ensembles of the New Jersey Youth Chorus, an auditioned choral ensemble program for students in grades 3-12, encourage a love and appreciation of choral music while nurturing personal growth and creative development. The 15 ensembles of the New Jersey Youth Symphony, which serve over 500 students in grades 3-12 by audition, inspire young people to achieve musical excellence through high-level ensemble training and performance opportunities. Based in Paterson, the Paterson Music Project is an El Sistema-inspired program of Wharton Arts that uses music education as a vehicle for social action by empowering and inspiring young people to achieve their full potential through the community experience of ensemble learning and playing. # NEW JERSEY VETERANS NETWORK

Michael D Boll, NJVN President

For the past 10 years the New Jersey Veterans Network (NJVN) has proudly marched on Memorial Day parades alongside our troops and veterans to honor those we have lost. While these events are deeply meaningful, our mission extends far beyond parades and ceremonies.

NJVN is a dedicated team of volunteers committed to actively reaching veterans in need and connecting them with life-changing—and often life-saving—resources. We have built a strong, statewide network focused on improving the quality of life for our veterans.

Our support includes essential services such as food, clothing, personal items, and transportation. However, our primary focus is on outreach programs and recreational therapy events designed to support mental health and overall well-being.

Veteran mental health remains one of the most critical challenges facing our community. Tragically, veteran suicide continues to be an ongoing crisis, with numbers that have remained steady or increased each year. This is why

STEP INSIDE WESTFIELD'S HISTORY: A TOUR OF NOTABLE HOMES CELEBRATES 250 YEARS OF AMERICA

In celebration of America's 250th anniversary, the Friends of the New Jersey Festival Orchestra, in partnership with the Westfield Historic Preservation Commission, invites the public to experience A Tour of Notable Homes, a self-guided journey through four of Westfield's most storied residences. This beloved community tradition offers a rare opportunity to explore architecturally significant homes while enjoying live music, refreshments, door prizes, and delightful surprises along the way.

This year's featured homes span decades of design and reflect the evolution of Westfield as a thriving suburban community:

The Victorian Jewel, one of the town's most striking homes, showcases the grandeur of the late 19th century. Originally built in the Italianate style and later transformed into a Queen Anne masterpiece, the home features exquisite woodwork, stained glass, and thoughtful modern updates—including a creatively repurposed dumbwaiter bar.

The Garden Retreat, built in 1910, blends Colonial Revival symmetry with emerging Craftsman influences. Its charming stucco façade and lush grounds, known for their beauty, have become a beloved outdoor setting for New Jersey Festival Orchestra performances.

(above) French Keelwr House

The Georgian Manor, a stately 1924 residence, reflects the elegance of Westfield's prewar housing boom. Designed for entertaining, the home features grand interiors, original architectural details, and a meticulously executed modern addition that honors its historic character.

The Classic Kit Home, built in 1926, offers a glimpse into the accessibility and charm of early 20th-century design. This Sears "Honor Bilt" Homewood model has been faithfully restored and thoughtfully updated, preserving its timeless appeal for modern living.

Guests are invited to wander at their own pace, taking in the beauty, history, and craftsmanship of each unique property while celebrating the rich heritage of Westfield and the nation. Live music by the Garden State Musical Arts Club will add to the festive atmosphere throughout the tour.

CONCERT FEATURES RENOWNED SLOVAK GUITARIST

The New Jersey Festival Orchestra (NJFO) concludes its season with One Thousand and One Nights, presented in collaboration with the Slovak American Cultural Center (S-ACC). Showcasing international artistry and cultural exchange, the program features acclaimed Slovak guitarist Karol Samuelčík as guest soloist.

Performances will take place on Saturday, May 30, 2026 at 7:00 pm at The Presbyterian Church in Westfield, and Sunday, May 31, 2026

at 2:30 pm at the Sieminski Theater in Basking Ridge.

At the heart of the program, Samuelčík brings his artistry to Joaquín Rodrigo's Fantasia para un gentilhombre, a work inspired by Spanish baroque dance traditions and celebrated for its elegance, lyricism, and expressive vitality.

"The Slovak-American Cultural Center is thrilled to partner—again—with the NJFO to introduce world-renowned guitarist Karol Samuelčík to American audiences," writes S-ACC Board Member and longtime NJFO supporter Tanya Pulver. "Performing Joaquín Rodrigo's celebrated Fantasia para un gentilhombre, Samuelčík promises to enchant listeners, pairing the concerto's historic elegance with his signature vibrant energy and technical brilliance."

Born in Banská Bystrica, Slovakia, Samuelčík trained at the Academy of Music and Performing Arts in Bratislava, graduating with the institution's highest honor, the Prize of the Rector. He has performed throughout Europe, Asia, and the Americas, appearing with leading orchestras and in renowned venues including London's Purcell Room and Shenzhen Concert Hall. A prizewinner of numerous international competitions, he is also an educator at the Academy in Bratislava, a recording artist, and a respected scholar, having published a landmark work on guitar technique in 2022.

The program culminates in Nikolai Rimsky-Korsakov's Scheherazade, a cornerstone of the orchestral repertoire inspired by the legendary tales of One Thousand and One Nights. With sweeping melodies and vivid orchestral color, the work evokes a world of distant voyages, mystery, and imagination, bringing these timeless stories to life.

Blending international collaboration with evocative repertoire, One Thousand and One Nights offers a richly imagined and memorable close to NJFO's season.

Tickets are available at njfestivalorchestra.org/concerts or by calling (908) 232-9400. Student discounts are available.
